AGREE TO NEW HOUSE VOTE ON PAY-AS-GO TAX

Draft Rival Plans in Committee.

BY WILLIAM STRAND.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., April 21.—The house will have another chance early next month to vote on pay-as-you-go income tax legislation, including the Ruml skip a year plan and a withholding tax against pay envelopes, it was announced tonight.

Floor leaders disclosed, following a hectic day of party huddles and side room conferences, that legislation will be submitted within a few days to the house by the ways and means committee and that the measure will be open for amendments from the floor before the balloting on final passage.

The proposal for current collection of income levies had been declared dead for the time being after the chamber rejected two proposed plans last month and tossed the whole question back to the ways and means committee. It has been responsible for one of the bitterest political feuds in recent congressional history.

Expects Report This Week.

Chairman Robert L. Doughton [D., N. C.], chairman of the ways and means group, said he expects the committee to report out a bill before the end of the week. He said he will call it up for the chamber's consideration on May 3 or soon afterward.

Because the Democratic committee members are substantially agreed upon a plan of their own and because they possess a 15 to 10 margin of superiority in committee membership, it follows that their plan will be the one reported.

It provides for abatement of approximately 40 per cent of last year's taxes thru applying the lower 1941 tax rates and higher 1941 exemptions to 1942 income to reach a pay-as-you-go collection basis. In the neighborhood of 7 million new taxpayers under the higher 1942 tax scales thus would be forgiven everything and would be completely current. Every one else would have three years to pay the unforgiven amounts while all collections made this year would apply against 1943 income.

G. O. P. Plan Substitutes.

Republican ways and means members, acknowledging they cannot hope to prevail in the committee, said they will be ready with at least two substitute measures to be offered from the floor. One will be a modified version of the bill offered by Rep. Frank Carlson [R., Kas.], which includes the Ruml plan calling for total forgiveness of 1942 taxes to achieve current collections.

The other is a somewhat complex scheme providing for abatement of approximately 75 per cent of the 1942 taxes with the difference to be amortized over two years or longer while everything collected this year would apply against current earnings as in the case of the Democratic plan.

All these facts were made public in two separate statements released simultaneously tonight by ranking Republican and Democratic committee members, who negotiated for more than a week in a vain attempt to secure a measure acceptable to all.

Again Fail to Agree.

Their efforts finally bogged down this evening after the legislation had been on-again and off-again and on-again numberless times, leading capital wags to observe that the negotiations had taken on the aspect of a musical comedy plot and the committee ought to enjoy an indefinite run, what with the status of the bill changing several times a day.

The final hours added a last bizarre twist to the proceedings. Last night, the conferees adjourned amid

Easter 'Gift' of Greetings Starts Today

TWO PAGES OF NAMES.
On pages 14 and 15 of today's Tribune will be found the first of three lists of Easter greetings from Yanks overseas. If the name of your son, husband, sweetheart, or friend is not among the thousands appearing today, see The Tribune tomorrow or Saturday morning for more pages of greetings.

An Easter "gift" to thousands of homes in Chicagoland and other midwestern regions begins spreading its cheer in this edition of THE TRIBUNE. The "gift" is a tremendous list of greetings sent to their families, wives, sweethearts, and friends by American soldiers on the far flung battlefronts of this global war.

Gathered by THE TRIBUNE's correspondents at the fronts, they demonstrate most forcibly that wherever men are fighting for freedom, the midwest is in the vanguard—and there in strength.

Require Six Pages.

So vast a project did the collection of the names become and so great was the joyous response from the Yanks that at least six pages will be required to print the names received. For three days, beginning this morning, two full pages daily will brighten Holy week in homes thruout the middle west.

THE TRIBUNE's greeting plan had its inception last Christmas, when hundreds of Yuletide greetings were transmitted to Chicago from American troops overseas. When Tribune war correspondents began assembling a similar list several weeks ago, they placed brief notices to that effect in service publications, camp newspapers, and on bulletin boards. Then the deluge began!

Names Flow to Chicago.

By cable, by wireless, and by air mail the names flowed into the Tribune office in a seemingly unending flood. So great was the response in North Africa that Seymour Korman, who had just arrived at allied headquarters to assist Correspondent John Thompson, was forced to set aside a full week for the work connected with preparing the names for transmission—and to hire a special clerical staff to assist in the job.

In Britain the response was similar. The already large Tribune staff in London was assisted by volunteer army officials and others. On a smaller scale similar scenes took place in India, where Alex Small handled the greetings from the China-Burma-India front; in Australia, where Robert Cromie assembled the words of cheer; at the headquarters of the southwest Pacific command, where Clay Gowran transmitted more hundreds of greetings, and in the Alaska-Canada region, where Warren Baker sent in the names.

The undertaking was a problem, but it provided its own reward. On every front army officials were lavish in their praise of the Tribune project. All agreed that it is a tremendous morale builder, providing a much needed link between the men at the front and their far away homes.

Green Presents State Budget; Cites 15 Million Spending Cut

BY GEORGE TAGGE.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Springfield, Ill., April 21.—Gov. Dwight H. Green today presented Illinois' war model budget at a joint session of the senate and house and pointed in his message to reductions of $15,058,603 below 1941-'43 budget levels. He asserted that all war time governments are duty bound to operate economically.

The budget, which covers the two years starting July 1, totals $482,748,537. Recommended reappropriations will boost that figure to $485,061,570.

Applause greeted the news that the budget promises a reversal in the historic climb of state spending. The budget covers nearly 500 pages, and is the most detailed such document in state history.

Republicans were quick to assert that the state administration's economy would be a forceful factor in 1944 national and state election alignments. They said the budget strengthens the midwest G. O. P. claim to leadership in cleaning up the national spending situation.

[A resumé of the budget appears on page 17.]

Holds Saving a Duty.

In his message, Green expressed the philosophy behind the budget, as follows:

"The right of free men to live as they desire and to be governed by representatives of their own choosing is on trial today. Our gallant fighting men are braving death on many battlefronts to uphold the principle of government by the people.

"Here at home legislators and executive officers have a responsibility just as important to prove that such government can and does operate economically and effectively, with a view not only to present needs, but to the future problems and welfare of the people."

The governor indicated that the new budget, plus recommended reappropriations, represents a saving of $56,198,646 below the $541,260,216 level of total appropriations available for the current biennium. However, the appropriation figure includes deficiency and special session appropriations, which were piled on top of the 1941-'43 budget.

Seek to Guard Surplus.

Estimated in the new budget is a $98,100,000 decline in state revenues. Federal aid for old age assistance and highways is expected to be increased by about $17,700,000, thereby compensating partially for the drop in state tax and fee collections.

Salary rates in the lower brackets must be raised in harmony with rising living costs, Green said.

Green again indicated wariness against raids upon the state's record breaking surplus, which he urged saving for post-war needs. The budget estimates that this surplus will be 67 million dollars on July 1. Much of this surplus is in "win the war" federal securities, and none of it is spent in the budget.

The urgent recommendation," Gov. Green said, "is that this reserve be kept intact to meet the demands of the post-war period—the rehabilitation of returning soldiers, replacement and improvement of obsolescent public works, and other capital outlays.

"The retention of this reserve will do much to avoid an increase in state taxes, or the creation of a heavy public debt in post-war years."

Chicago Rate $10.42

Chicago's 1942 tax rate, applicable to the bills to be mailed out soon, is $10.42 for each $100 of assessed valuation, it was announced by County Clerk Michael J. Flynn yesterday. This is the highest general property tax rate in the history of the city, topping by 53 cents the 1941 rate of $9.89, the previous high.

The new rate is only 3 cents below the figure of $10.45 forecast by THE TRIBUNE as early as last Jan. 14.

Mailing of the new bills will be completed in from two to four weeks, Flynn said, indicating that the first tax penalty date will fall on May 15 or June 1. The deadline is 30 days after the last bills have been mailed out. May 1 was the first penalty date last year. It was indicated that the penalty date for the second half will be Sept. 15 or Oct. 1.

City	$3.88	$3.68
Schools	3.69	3.56
Park district	1.18	1.15
Sanitary district	.86	.80
County	.71	.60
Forest Preserve	.10	.10

Chicago's total tax bill this year will be $193,977,192, an increase of $2,486,192 over that of last year.

8-DAY MORATORIUM SET ON EVICTIONS AS MAY 1 MOVING NEARS

An eight day moratorium on evictions to avert "an impending emergency" as the result of May 1 moving confusion was declared last night by Municipal Judge Harry P. Beam, sitting in Renters' court.

Judge Beam asserted that he would permit no evictions from April 28 to May 5, except in unusual cases. Court attachés said the action was unprecedented.

The jurist explained that his action was dictated by a desire to avoid an emergency caused by the extreme shortage in housing and the influx of war workers. He said the action had been suggested by civic groups.

Eviction threats have been mounting in the Chicago rent control office at the rate of 600 a week. Many eviction actions resulted from confusion as to the status of leases under the rent control regulations.

Daniel Healy, secretary of the Movers' Association of Chicago, said labor shortages would slow moving and that many families may find themselves stranded unless they make preparations far in advance of their moving date.

Japanese Beasts

(An Editorial)

The White House announces that the American flyers who bombed Japan a year ago and were taken prisoner by the Japanese have been sentenced to death and some of them have been executed.

Their blood cries for vengeance. If anything had been needed after Pearl Harbor to arouse the American people to a determination to destroy Japanese power for all time, this hideous crime has filled the gap.

Tojo has murdered American flyers who bombed strictly military targets. In so doing he has violated every rule of warfare. When the day comes—and may it come speedily—when our bombers will range freely over Japan, our flyers need feel no compunction in attacking any target. The rulers of Japan and the people who support them have declared themselves, by their acts, not men to be fought but beasts to be exterminated. They asked for it and they're going to get it. Death and the ashes of their cities will be their reward.

But when? How much longer will our government continue to neglect the war against Japan? How many more appeals for support must Gen. MacArthur address to Washington before reënforcements and supplies adequate to defeat Japan are sent him? The blood of our gallant flyers cries out for an answer.

HEARS GERMANS PLAN TO USE GAS

Britain Warns of Full Retaliation.

LONDON, April 22, [Thursday] (AP).—The British government in an extraordinary announcement said today that it had received reports that "Hitler is making preparations for using poison gas against the Russian front." It warned that such a development would find the British retaliating with the same weapon thruout the whole expanse of Germany.

There was a sharp note of urgency both in the timing and method of the warning to Germany. Newspaper men were summoned to the ministry of information after midnight where a statement issued from Prime Minister Churchill's residence at 10 Downing street was read to them.

Receive Several Reports.

"Reports have been received from several sources that Hitler is making preparations for using poison gas against the Russian front," the statement said.

"Accordingly, his majesty's government takes an early occasion to renew the warning which the prime minister gave last year, namely that any use of poison gas against our Russian allies by the Nazis or their satellites will immediately be followed by the fullest possible use of this process for war upon German munitions centers, seaports, and other military objectives thruout the whole expanse of Germany.

"British resource and scale of delivery have greatly increased since last year. Necessary precautionary measures against German reprisals have already been enjoined by competent authorities thruout the United Kingdom."

Nazis Warned Year Ago.

In a war report May 11, 1942, Churchill said:

"I wish to make it plain that we shall treat the unprovoked use of poison gas against our Russian ally exactly as if it were used against ourselves and if we are satisfied that this new outrage has been committed by Hitler we will use our great and growing air superiority in the west to carry gas warfare on the largest possible scale far and wide against military objectives in Germany."

At the time German broadcasts quoted Nazi spokesmen as denying German troops had used poison gas and recalled pledges by Hitler that the Germans would refrain from using it.

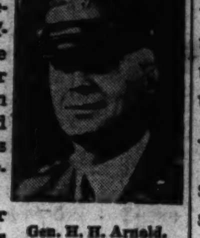
Two days before Churchill spoke, the official Russian news agency, Tass, announced that "German troops used several mines with poison gas" on the Crimean front.

The Chinese have accused the Japanese of using gas in their war in China, and on June 5, 1942, President Roosevelt said that if Japan persisted in its employment the United States would retaliate.

Arnold Calls on Air Forces to Hit Back

Indignant congressmen believe executions will rouse America. Their reactions will be found on page 10. Chicagoans likewise are shocked and demand killings be avenged. Story on page 9.

Washington, D. C., April 21 (AP).—Gen. Henry H. Arnold called upon the American air forces tonight not to rest and to redouble their efforts until the "inhuman war lords" of Japan who executed American flyers "have been utterly destroyed."



Gen. H. H. Arnold.

The commander of the air forces dispatched the following message to every air base in combat theaters and in this country:

"In violation of every rule of military procedure and every concept of human decency, the Japanese have executed several of your brave comrades who took part in the first Tokio raid.

Men Died as Heroes.

"These men died as heroes. We must not rest—we must redouble our efforts until the inhuman war lords who committed this crime have been utterly destroyed.

"Remember those comrades when you get a Zero in your sight—have their sacrifice before you when you line up your bombsight on a Japanese base.

Japs Not U. S. Equals.

"You have demonstrated the Japanese cannot match you in aerial combat or in bombardment. Let your answer to their treatment of your comrades be the destruction of the Japanese air force, their lines of communication, and the production centers which offer them opportunity to continue such atrocities."

ILLINOIS HOUSE G.O.P. OPPOSES WILLKIE IN 1944

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Springfield, Ill., April 21.—The Willkie brand of Republicanism suffered a defeat here today when G. O. P. members of the house voted, 59 to 6, in opposition to the 1940 Presidential candidate as a nominee in 1944. The secret poll was directed by Rep. Nick Keller [R., Waukegan] under supervision of several other legislators. Newspaper men helped canvass the vote.

Also defeated was the only other proposition on the ballot, which asked members to mark their preference for "internationalism" or "nationalism." The vote favored nationalism by a count of 49 to 8.

Among those who indicated they had voted for Willkie were Reps. Bernice Van der Vries of Winnetka and Edward P. Saltiel of Chicago.

F. D. R. BRANDS ENEMY ACTION AS 'BARBAROUS'

Nippon Won't Tell How Many Died.

Washington, D. C., April 21 (A. P.).—Japan has put to death some of the eight American flyers captured after the bombing of Tokio and, treating the others as criminals, is denying them the rights to which prisoners of war are entitled.

This new horror by the enemy—in violation of covenants concerning military prisoners—was disclosed today by President Roosevelt. He made known, too, that the American government, in a formal letter of protest, has solemnly warned Tokio that for this and any future "acts of criminal barbarity" just punishment will be visited on the responsible Japanese officials.

Action Called Barbarous.

"This recourse by our enemies to frightfulness is barbarous," Mr. Roosevelt said in a statement. "The effort of the Japanese war lords to intimidate us will utterly fail. It will make the American people more determined than ever to blot out the shameless militarism of Japan."

The President's statement, issued at the White House, was supplemented by the state department's protest. Together, the documents disclosed that:

The American government initiated inquiries thru the Swiss government immediately after Tokio's radio broadcast, last Oct. 19, that military trials and punishment had been given the eight Americans.

Reply Received March 12.

It was not until Feb. 17, however, that the Japanese government replied. The reply, received in Washington on March 12, acknowledged that the Americans had been tried, sentenced to death, and that, as the state department phrased it, "following commutation of the sentence for the larger number of them, the sentence of death was applied to certain of the accused."

The state department's reply, given the Swiss to convey to Tokio, recalled the obligations Japan has assumed regarding treatment of military prisoners; the promise that the protecting power (the Swiss) must be given three weeks' notice before a prisoner is tried, that a representative of the protecting power must be allowed to be present—all the other provisions of conventions concerning treatment of prisoners.

Accusations Denied.

"The Japanese government has not complied with any," it observed.

As for the accusation against the prisoners, that they had admitted bombing nonmilitary objectives, the state department said the American forces had instructions to attack only mili-

Tribune Publisher Proposes World Union Under America

Full Plan Sunday

New York, April 21 [Special].—The tabloid newspaper PM, in an interview with Col. Robert R. McCormick, quoted the publisher of THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE as pointing out that there are constitutional methods for other nations and peoples to join the United States if they desire a completely workable form of world union.

PM quoted Col. McCormick as asserting that "within the next few days" he intended to start an editorial campaign for acquisition by the United States of Australia, New Zealand, Canada, Scotland, and Wales. The newspaper reported that Col. McCormick said:

"Make them states, like North Dakota, and then we can guarantee them a republican form of government. How else can you do it?"

Method Under Constitution.

In his discussion with PM's reporter, who did not fully identify himself, Col. McCormick pointed out that the only constitutional way to secure a form of world union including the United States is by the creation of additional states, citing America's constitutional provisions for the admission of new states.

[An editorial, "States Across the Sea," which will appear next Sunday, will set forth correctly The Tribune's position in this matter.]

After Col. McCormick proposed the annexation of more states to form a world union of the United States, PM's reporter asked:

"But doesn't your program call for carving up the British empire?" to which the publisher was quoted as replying:

"Let them worry about that. I don't consider it my duty to try to conserve the British empire."

Questioned About Willkie.

Turning his questions to the subject of Wendell L. Willkie, who is in the forefront of those seeking to make the United States a mere unit in a "Union Now" organization, PM's reporter asked if Col. McCormick had read Willkie's new book, "One World," to which the publisher replied:

"Not yet, but I intend to read it."

To the reporter's question whether he agreed with Willkie's basic theme, "that isolation in this country is dead and that we are all part of one world," Col. McCormick was reported to have said:

"I'll tell you what I think. Willkie is dead politically. He never was a Republican, the Democrats won't have him, so what's he got? Nothing. He's dead politically."

Only Legal Method.

"But his theme—that there is no longer room in this world for an isolated America—"

"How can you have an organized or united nations without repealing the constitution of the United States?" the colonel was quoted as replying. "What other way is there? Do you want to repeal the constitution?"

At this point, according to PM, Col. McCormick said he would like to see Australia and New Zealand become one state, and Canada, Scotland, and Wales each to become states, which brought this query from PM's interviewer:

"Colonel, when you say states, just what do you mean—that they become part of the United States."

Have 'a Few More' States.

"Yes," he replied, "just like North Dakota. We have 48 states now. Well, we'll have a few more."

The American constitutional provision for the admission of new states is included in Article IV., Section 3, which says:

"New states may be admitted by the congress into this union; but no new state shall be formed or erected within the jurisdiction of any other state, nor any state be formed by the junction of two or more states, or parts of states, without the consent of the legislatures of the states concerned, as well as of the congress."

Reaction in London

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, April 21.—A New York newspaper report that Col. Robert R. McCormick, publisher of THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE, had recommended that members of the British commonwealth of nations join the American union as states drew widespread comment from the London press today. Both the Daily Mail and the Daily Mirror gave the suggestion front page prominence.

Under a two column headline: "The U. S. Colonel Who Wants Our Empire," the Daily Mail printed a dispatch from its New York correspondent, Don Iddon, saying:

"Col. Robert R. McCormick, British hating arch isolationist owner of THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE, who last night told New York newspapermen he was about to start an editorial campaign calling for the absorption by the United States of Canada, Australia, New Zealand, Scotland, and Wales, had lost some of his acquisitiveness today. He positively had not a word to say."

Calls Plan 'Bizarre.'

Iddon claimed that America's reaction to "this bizarre plan of McCormick is one of slightly embarrassed laughter. However, it hardly can be laughed off completely when you consider that McCormick's CHICAGO TRIBUNE has more than a million circulation and other members of his newspaper axis, the New York Daily News and the Washington Times-Herald, which may or may not join the colonel in his campaign, have a vast reading public."

The Daily Mirror headlined its story from its New York representative, John Walters, with: "Isolationist Colonel Wants Wales and Scotland for the United States," pointing out, however, in its lead paragraph, "but not England."

Don't Believe He's Joking.

People reading the New York interview, Walters said, "wondered whether he was joking, but they thought not."

Only two paragraphs were devoted to the story by the Daily Telegraph.

OPA RULES ADD EXTRA COSTS ON POTATO DEALERS

Force Carlot Receivers to Become Jobbers.

Office of price administration regulations are forcing the bulk of potatoes received in the Chicago market thru a circuitous distribution route which requires extra rail facilities and labor and is disrupting wholesalers' delivery schedules, it was disclosed yesterday. Normally, carlot receivers unloaded potatoes directly to jobbers' and wholesalers' trucks from railroad cars in the city's extensive team track yards, but the receivers have been forced to become jobbers themselves in order to stay in business.

Turn Receivers Into Jobbers.

Since OPA price regulations make no specific provision for the carlot distributor, it is now necessary to switch and reroute cars considerable distances to warehouses scattered thruout the city in order to break the carlots into joblots and qualify for the 9½ to 21 per cent per 100 pounds markup over cost allowed jobbers. Altho warehousing is necessary to obtain the markups, the carlot men said, the OPA does not specify any length of time. In view of the current light supply and heavy demand, they added, this usually involves merely transferring the potatoes from a railroad car thru a warehouse to waiting trucks.

In addition to the time consumed and the extra burden placed upon locomotives and crews by the devious switching and rerouting to warehouses, the carlot receivers asserted, the new method of distribution forced by OPA orders has necessitated renting warehouse space or paying for warehouse handling.

Say OPA Forgot Them.

The carlot distributors emphasized that they are not resorting to this roundabout method solely in order to collect the jobber's markup. They said that they were "forgotten" when the OPA drew up its regulations and, therefore, were forced out of their normal position in the market distribution system.

They asserted they would like to return to normal, direct market methods and act solely as carlot receivers, but cannot do so unless the OPA revises its orders.

36 Absentees Get Choice of $25 Fines or 50 Days

Macon, Ga., April 21 (AP).—Because they were found in downtown "juke joints" in midafternoon instead of at their war plant jobs, 36 persons were given choice of $25 fine or 50 days in jail today by Recorder George M. Nottingham. All were charged with violation of the city's anti-loitering ordinance.

PADILLA URGES FEDERATION OF AMERICAN LANDS

New York, April 21 (AP).—Ezequiel Padilla, Mexican foreign secretary, in a book published today wrote that a federation of American nations "is a pressing and imperative duty."

"If a federation of American nations was a noble idea in Bolivar's times, it is a pressing and imperative duty today," he said in "Free Men of America." "The watchword of every free conscience must be to combat anything and everything that might lead to the fratricide, destruction and enslavement of this continent."

He said that "only by establishing the economic unity of America can we erect full solidarity upon a permanent basis."

OPA LEGALIZES HIKE IN PRICE OF VEGETABLES

Retail prices of fresh cabbage, carrots, lettuce, peas, snap beans, spinach, and tomatoes will come under uniform nation-wide control today thru the establishment of fixed markups over the retailers' net costs, the office of price administration said yesterday. The new markups replace a temporary schedule issued March 15.

Retailers will be permitted a 39 per cent markup on the vegetables, except on cabbage, for which a 65 per cent markup over net cost will be allowed independent retailers with annual sales of $250,000 or less, 54 per cent for chain stores with equal sales, and 50 per cent for those with larger sales.

Merchants said the new schedule would permit somewhat higher prices because the previous retail markup was only 35 per cent. Price changes will be made every Thursday, based on the net cost of the largest single purchase by retailers in the preceding week.

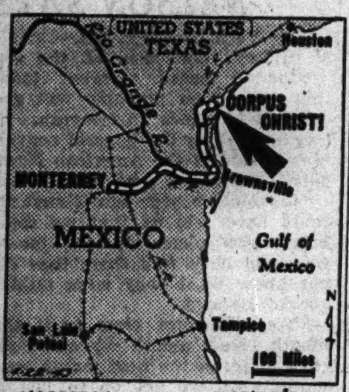
CAMACHO VISITS U. S. AIR CENTER; BIDS F.D.R. ADIEU

Two Presidents Tour Big Corpus Christi Base.

Corpus Christi, Tex., April 21 (AP).—The presidents of the United States and Mexico said farewells today after President Manuel Avila Camacho had been welcomed at the vast naval air training center here and President Roosevelt had called the occasion "one of the great American historical meetings."

The two men inspected the busy training station and saw aerial displays by a formation of Catalina patrol boats and a squadron of dive bombers. Finally they rode back to the railroad siding and said their farewells in Mr. Roosevelt's private car.



Roosevelt's route yesterday.

President Avila Camacho was repaying promptly a visit to Monterey, Mexico, yesterday by Mr. Roosevelt.

Eat with 250 Cadets.

They ate with 250 cadet officers, and after the meal Mr. Roosevelt spoke briefly thru a public address system that carried to all parts of the station.

"I am glad that the cadets are hearing what I have to say," he said, "because I want to tell you I regard this as one of the greatest American historical meetings."

He said he was happy to greet Avila Camacho at the training center because numbers of Mexican cadets are receiving instruction there.

"From the point of view of continental defense and unity of purpose," the President said, "this kind of military training means a wide and long step forward in the relations of this hemisphere. Let the good work continue."

The presidents dined on regular cadet rations, with frankfurters, mashed potatoes, and string beans as the main course.

Tour Center in Auto.

The two presidents toured the center in an open car, and saw dozens of patrol bombers and other planes, cheering lines of civilian workers, and cadets drilling and running around a Commando toughening course.

EATS CHILI SUPPER

Camp Gruber, Okla., April 18 [Delayed] (AP).—President Roosevelt ate four helpings of chili con carne at supper tonight with 208 enlisted men and a handful of officers at this Indian country army camp.

Mr. Roosevelt came to Oklahoma on one phase of an inspection tour of war plants and military establishments before heading southward to Monterrey, Mexico, for a conference with President Avila Camacho.

He arrived at the camp late in the day, and the entire 88th infantry division, commanded by Maj. Gen. John E. Sloan, passed before him.

FOOD RETAILERS PROTEST ORDER ON RATION BASE

South side members of the Associated Food Dealers, a group of 1,100 meat and food retailers in the Chicago area, unanimously indorsed a protest against the OPA ration order No. 16 designating the week beginning next Sunday as a base to establish future allotments of meats, fats and oils, cheese, canned meats, and canned fish under rationing. The dealers met at 6304 Woodlawn avenue.

After north side members consider the protest tonight in a meeting at 1940 Irving Park road it will be formally served upon Raymond S. McKeough, OPA regional administrator. The dealers asserted that the week will be a subnormal period both on the basis of supply and consumer point purchasing power.

The last week of any month always is marked by abnormally low sales, the dealers asserted. In addition, they said, sales next week will be affected even to a greater extent because of purchasing of food supplies this week for the Easter holiday.

SUBCHASER RIB SPEEDUP WINS TRIBUNE AWARD

Pullman Worker Slashes Building Time.

BY PHILIP HAMPSON.

An idea that helps speed construction of submarine chasers for the navy has won for Donald Cameron, a worker at a south side plant of the Pullman-Standard Car Manufacturing company, THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE's War Workers' Award for March. Presentation of the award—symbolized by a diamond studded gold pin—will be made by Capt. W. R. Dowd, United States navy, at 7:45 o'clock tonight in a broadcast over radio station W-G-N. Capt. Dowd is supervisor of ship building for the Chicago area.

A former streamline train builder turned ship builder, Cameron won a victory for America on the production front when he suggested a way for reducing the time required in fabricating steel ribs for subchasers. His method reduced from 30 to 8 man hours [a man hour is one man working one hour] the time required for certain welding operations in the fabrication. The saving per rib is 22 hours. As there are about 60 ribs to a subchaser, the saving on each subchaser is 1,320 man hours, or about 146 man days.

Fabrication Exacting Job.

Fabrication of one of the ribs, in which several curved parts are welded, is exacting. Unless the members being welded are held in the utmost rigidity during the process, spotty heating and cooling of steel might result in permanent distortion or warping.

Cameron devised a clamp to hold the ribs in place.

The clamp method has been elaborated, but basically Cameron's idea was responsible for the improvement. William Gray, Gus Falk, Clyde Ryan, and George Michaelson, all fellow employés, had a part in the improvement, showing the teamwork among Pullman-Standard workers in the job of winning the war.

Cameron is a native of Glasgow, Scotland, who came to Chicago in 1913 with his first wife, since deceased, and his two daughters, Betty and Lettie. He got a job with Pullman-Standard the same year.

"No City Like Chicago."

Now he lives with his second wife, Lida, in a bungalow at 10550 Normal avenue. He still has a trace of heather in his accent after all his years in Chicago. But he is 100 per cent for Chicago and America.

"I love Chicago," he said. "I liked the place when I first came here. I don't think there is any city like it in the world."

When the Tribune reporter telephoned the Cameron residence to announce the award, Mrs. Cameron said her husband hadn't returned from his job yet. Then she exclaimed, "It's simply grand!"

HOOVER ASSAILS SECRECY EDICT ON FOOD PARLEY

New York, April 21 (AP).—Former President Herbert Hoover said in a statement today that "there can be no real justification for secrecy" at the allied nation's food conference, scheduled to open May 18 at Hot Springs, Va.

"There are no secrets about the food situation in any country in the world," Hoover said. "We are able to keep perfectly well informed as to the food situation in the axis and occupied countries from their newspapers and other information.

"They have only to read the American newspapers or government reports to know exactly what our food situation is, and there are many positive reasons for free information.

"No agreed policies of joint action can be carried out without coöperation of the people and thus disclosure to them."

A HUNTER, AGED 2½, BRINGS TWO COPS UP TO DATE

Recall Days of Youth.

Policemen James Sullivan and Clifford Bessey, before taking him to the Fillmore street station to be returned home, recalled the days of their youth and dropped back thru the years to the time when they, as tots, went duck hunting in play.

So the two policemen came out of the wilderness that was the traffic and joined Freddie on the tiny island which was the sidewalk. The three scanned the sky, looking up thru the jungle trees, which were the buildings.

"How's hunting?" they asked.

"Thwell," Freddie said.

Freddie's Eyes Are Sharp.

"Ohhhh, there comes one," said Freddie, whose eyes had not been dimmed by realistic years.

He raised his gun. "Bang, bang," he shouted as both barrels fired make believe charges.

"Mithed," he said.

"Duck?" the policemen asked.

"No," Freddie said. "Jap Thero plane."

ALLIED BOMBERS IN RELAYS RIP AXIS AIR FIELDS

27 More Enemy Planes Downed Over Tunisia.

BY JOHN THOMPSON.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

ALLIED HDQ. IN NORTH AFRICA, April 21.—Marshal Erwin Rommel's airdromes in northeastern Tunisia are undergoing the heaviest and most concentrated attack of the entire campaign. Hundreds of bombers and fighters of the Northwest Africa air forces swept over the enemy landing fields in a shuttle service which began Monday night, timed to coincide with the British 8th army's crack into the Enfidaville positions.

From the Sidi Ahmed landing ground on the outskirts of Bizerte to the La Marsa field 10 miles northeast of Tunis, the allied air crews poured tons of explosives on the enemy. Fighter planes destroyed 26 enemy planes in combat, and a Flying Fortress shot down one.

"It was the heaviest and most successful blow yet struck against enemy air power in Tunisia," said an official statement describing the attacks.

Foe Reluctant Fighters.

To meet the heavy assault by the allies, the enemy sent fighters aloft in great numbers, trying to keep an umbrella over vital airfields, but many pilots reported the enemy fighters reluctant to tangle with them. Flying Fortresses covered the airfield at Sidi Ahmed, one of the enemy's largest bases, from one edge to the other, every big bomb hitting within the target area. Several explosions were followed by large fires.

The raid on Sidi Ahmed yesterday had been preceded the night before by British Bisley bombers, which scattered bombs over the runways and dispersal areas in the bright moonlight. While this attack was in progress, Wellington bombers struck at Creteville and Soliman, southeast of Tunis, and Hurricanes swept the enemy's Tunisian beaches.

Enemy Flees Fighters.

On one of the raids near Tunis, the Mitchell crews sighted 16 Focke-Wulfs which did not attack, while a formation of Lightnings [P38s] said they tried to meet three ME109s but the enemy fled.

But other fighters had better luck. On sweeps off Cape Bon, Kittihawks and Spitfires ran into fierce encounters, but shot down 19 enemy planes, including German JU88s and ME109s and Italian Macchi 202s.

Spitfires flown by Americans also found a strange reluctance on the part of some of the enemy fighters to battle. Six enemy craft were shot down by one group of Yank flyers. Another group saw 50 109s maneuvering to attack them, but when the Americans turned to face the enemy our boys reported that the German airmen turned away.

Among the American pilots of Spitfires who shot down enemy planes were Lt. Leonard Holton of Shelbyville, Ill., and Lt. Moss K. Fletcher of Paris, Ill.

SPELLMAN ARRIVES IN JERUSALEM AFTER TRIP TO WAR FRONT

JERUSALEM, Palestine, April 21 (AP).—Archbishop Francis J. Spellman, Catholic military vicar for United States armed forces, arrived in Jerusalem tonight for a Holy week visit.

The archbishop was met at the Palestine airport by Msgr. Oddi, secretary of the apostolic delegation, Father Pascal, principal of Terra Sante college in Jerusalem, and L. E. Pinkerton, United States consul general, and the party motored here.

The archbishop, it was disclosed today, conducted Palm Sunday services in a convent chapel in bomb scarred Sousse, in Tunisia, and later insisted on personally distributing the Holy day palm to patients in a small hospital to American, British, and French soldiers. On the previous three days, he had conducted services in Sfax, Tripoli, Bengazi, and Malta.

He also witnessed the presentation of air medals to two officers and two enlisted men April 16. They were Lt. Leroy H. Woods, pilot, of Cleveland, O.; Lt. Albert P. Muska, navigator, of Perth Amboy, N. J.; Sergt. Wallace Armstrong, radio gunner, of Pittsburgh, and Sergt. Steve Rambert of Chicago.

OPEN AIR EVACUATION SERVICE.

ALLIED HDQ. IN NORTH AFRICA, April 21 [AP].—Capt. Frederick W. Dallas Jr. of Houston, Tex., wounded fortress pilot who bounced his bomber on two mountain tops to slow it before landing, was decorated today with the distinguished service cross in a ceremony inaugurating the new air evacuation service to the United States from North Africa.

YANKS IN HAVOC BOMBERS WREAK HAVOC ON NAZIS

Team of Flight Leaders Rips Tunisian Fields.

BY SEYMOUR KORMAN.

AT A U. S. BOMBER BASE ON TUNISIAN FRONT, April 20 [Delayed].—The team of Maj. Walter Hanna Jr. and Capt. George McElhone is taking turns leading a squadron of A20 Douglas [Havoc] light bombers on raids on enemy airdromes.

Yesterday Hanna, who is a squadron leader from Gilroy, Cal., took his boys over an airfield in north Tunis, destroyed 12 grounded Nazi planes, blew up gasoline tanks, and silenced several anti-aircraft guns. Today McElhone, a senior flight commander from Snoqualmie Falls, Wash., led a mission to an airdrome in the same vicinity and wrecked more enemy planes.

Both reported there was only a little anti-aircraft fire and that the enemy fighters showed little inclination to rise to battle, particularly as the bombers were escorted by Spitfires.

Planes Cheer Up Troops.

"Airdromes and motor transport are our chief objectives," Hanna said, "but these A20s can do anything. We are proud of our part in the Kasserine show and the American troops were plenty glad to see us here. We showered lots of bombs on the German troops in giving air support to our men. We saw plenty of enemy trucks blowing up. Our happiest moment was when the troops cheered us and the other squadrons."

The men at this base still talk excitedly of Capt. Ted Broman of Duluth, Minn., and his adventure on March 30, when he piloted an A20 over the La Fauconnerie air field near Faid. Over the target anti-aircraft fire knocked out the right motor and disabled the rudder control cable. Then a swarm of Messerschmitt 109s attacked.

Broman's gunners, Sergeants Wilbur Welch of Pontiac, Ill., and Jack Botts of Porterville, Cal., and the bombardier, 2d Lt. George Land of Washington, D. C., were wounded. Broman was forced to land the bomber.

Behind Enemy Lines!

While he and the gunners struggled to get Land out of the nose of the plane a Messerschmitt strafed them six times and set the bomber on fire.

Starting away with his wounded crew, Broman realized they were behind the German lines. He hid the wounded in Arab huts and then, moving cautiously to a road, found a British patrol. Aided by the British, Broman took the injured to a friendly camp. The three now are recovering.

LEAR'S 2D ARMY COMMAND GOING TO FREDENDALL

Lt. Gen. Ben Lear.

Washington, D. C., April 21 [Special].—Maj. Gen. Lloyd H. Fredendall, until recently commander of United States forces on the Tunisian front, will succeed Lt. Gen. Ben Lear as commanding general of the 2d army, with headquarters in Memphis, Tenn., the war department announced today.

Under Gen. Lear, hundreds of thousands of men have been trained for combat service thruout the world.

The 2d army now comprises more than 520,000 men, the war department said. It is the largest single army assembled by the United States since the 1st army of the American expeditionary force in the last war.

The announcement disclosed an assignment expected since Gen. Fredendall became deputy commanding general of the 2d army.

The move was made public in connection with presentation of a distinguished service medal to Gen. Lear, who will retire May 31 under the statutory age limit of 64. However, Lear will be recalled to active duty on an "important assignment," after a short leave, the war department said.

The medal was presented by Gen. George C. Marshall, chief of staff.

Gen. Fredendall commanded the American task force which landed at Oran, Algeria, in November, 1942, and was commander of American forces in Tunisia until recently.

'BIGGEST' BOMBER UNIT STRIKES AT MANDALAY JAPS

A U. S. MEDIUM BOMBER BASE SOMEWHERE IN INDIA, April 15 [Delayed]—(AP).—The largest number of United States medium bombers ever concentrated on a single target in Burma struck fierce blows at heavy Japanese rail traffic in and near Mandalay today.

One formation scored 36 direct hits on yards at Ywataung Junction 10 miles southwest of Mandalay. Numerous freight cars and much trackage were destroyed, large oil fires were started and supply dumps in the area blown up.

Simultaneously another formation bombed the yards in Mandalay, starting many large fires which covered the whole area. Smoke still was visible when the planes were 50 miles away on the homeward flight.

All the bombers returned safely, and no enemy fighters were sighted.

MONTH'S PLANE OUTPUT 7,000, NELSON SAYS

New York, April 21 (AP).—Donald M. Nelson, chairman of the war production board asserted today that the nation probably will produce 7,000 planes this month. He was addressing the general convention session of the American Newspaper Publishers association.

"Certainly a year ago if anybody could have told us that we could build 7,000 planes in one month we could have told them they did not know what they were talking about," he said.

"We will come close to it this month. Next month we will build even more, in the next month even more; until we get up to just as large a production as we feel we need—no matter how many we need."

8TH ARMY WINS COASTAL ANCHOR OF ROMMEL LINE

TakesEnfidaville; Storms Mountain Citadel.

ALLIED HDQ. IN NORTH AFRICA, April 21 (AP).—The British 8th army has captured the axis coastal pivot of Enfidaville, has swung five miles northwest to storm the mountain citadel of Takrouna, and also has gained two miles in the Djebel Garci area farther inland amid "very severe fighting," it was reported tonight.

Striking along a 10 mile front after a tremendous artillery barrage, 8th army infantrymen, armed with knives for close quarter fighting, scaled Marshal Rommel's mountain positions at some points only 4? miles south of Tunis, while the British 10th army gained slightly in the Mejez-el-Bab sector 35 miles west of the Tunisian capital.

[The Morocco radio—sometimes premature in its announcements—said in a broadcast that the 1,200 foot Djebel Garci, 10 miles inland from the coast, had been captured after a final 90 minute assault.]

Counter Blows Repulsed.

Allied headquarters announced the capture of Enfidaville, 50 miles below Tunis, and said "all initial objectives" were captured yesterday after fierce fighting which began with Gen. Bernard L. Montgomery's tremendous artillery barrage Monday night.

"Four enemy counter-attacks have been repulsed," said the communique. "Fighting continues."

[Official axis communiques had not conceded the loss of Enfidaville, but Capt. Ludwig Sertorius, Berlin radio commentator, appeared to be preparing the public for such an announcement. In a broadcast recorded by the Associated Press he said Gen. Montgomery had concentrated huge numbers of reserves for an assault on the axis anchor point, and that the battle for the city yesterday afternoon still was going on altho "with changing fortune." Sertorius stressed the "gigantic masses" of allied war material and said that allied air superiority also made it "a rather unequal struggle."]

Falls Without Opposition.

Field dispatches said Enfidaville fell without opposition after a British column raced around the city on its coastal side.

The capture of Enfidaville opened up the coastal road leading to Bou Ficha, 12 miles north, but before it can be used Gen. Montgomery's men must clean out Axis troops in mountains flanking the road on the west. Even if the 8th army dislodges the enemy from the hills immediately west of the coastal road and reaches Bou Ficha, the axis still has a natural defensive line running from that coastal point to Pont du Fahs, nearly 40 miles inland.

Takrouna—Native Stronghold.

A front line dispatch said the violent fight for Takrouna began yesterday with the Axis counter-attacking from above the city in an effort to smash British troops who already had encircled the mountain town.

Takrouna has been a native stronghold since the days of Carthage—protected by rugged country and now ringed by Nazi machine gun nests built in caves and naturally camouflaged by huge areas of cactus.

An authoritative announcement tonight told of the two mile British gain in the Djebel Garci area farther inland despite strong opposition. Dispatches said 100 Axis prisoners were taken in that sector.

Field dispatches said the slight advance by the British 1st army west of Tunis had resulted in the capture of Smadia village, about three miles north of Mejez-el-Bab.

Sleet and Snow Over Area.

Sleet and snowstorms closed over a large part of the axis mountain strongholds in northeastern Tunisia to restrict the allied aerial offensive which yesterday was directed at smashing the last fighter fields available to the enemy.

"It was the heaviest and most successful blow yet struck against enemy air power in Tunisia," an official statement said in describing the attacks on Sidi Ahmed, near Bizerte, La Marsa, northeast of Tunis; La Sebala, north of Tunis; Creteville and Soliman, southeast of Tunis; and other landing strips.

The communique said 27 Axis planes were destroyed yesterday at a cost of eight allied aircraft. Along with other planes shot down on previous days, but not reported before, this score boosted to 151 the total of enemy planes destroyed in the last three days.

Tank Busting Plane Fires 2½ Lb. Shells from 2 Guns

LONDON, April 21 (AP).—The air ministry disclosed today that the tank busting Hurricane fighter plane used by the R. A. F. in North Africa recently, a new series known as the 2-D "can opener," is armed with two 40 millimeter guns firing shells that weigh 2½ pounds each. The guns are twice the size of that usually fitted to fighters.

GRAIN BOATS TO OPEN SEASON ON LAKES SOON

FORT WILLIAM, Ont., April 21 (AP).—Outgoing navigation from the head of the lakes is expected to open in a few days, with indications the Paterson Steamships freighter Bricoldoc will be the first to clear, with 290,000 bushels of barley, bound for Duluth.

Canada Steamship Lines has five boats preparing for navigation opening, and ships of several other companies are also almost ready for the first trip of the season.

Ingram Predicts Surprise for Enemy Off Brazil

BAHIA, Brazil, April 21 (AP).—Vice Adm. Jonas H. Ingram, commander of the United States Atlantic fleet, today forecast "disagreeable surprises" for the enemy off the Brazilian coast soon, but did not amplify the statement. He told a press conference that Brazil was not yet participating in the war in Africa "except in helping to protect convoys," thus answering Vichy radio reports that Brazilian troops had landed in Africa.

FIRST AMERICAN WAR PRISONER WINS EXCHANGE

BY SAM BREWER.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

IZMIR, Turkey, April 19 [Delayed].—The first American lucky enough to be free from an axis war prisoner camp is Alan Stuyvesant of New York, who stepped from a barge in the placid waters of Izmir harbor today onto the gangway of a British hospital ship and so became a free man after 10 months as a prisoner.

Pvt. Ray Bialek [top] and Pvt. Edward Mullen.

With him came 350 British prisoners, wounded, ill, and medical personnel. From him came news of 60 Americans in camp No. 20, near Rome, from which he had been freed. Twelve are midwesterners, including four from the Chicago area. The latter are: Ray Bialek of 4843 Justine street, G. Pawlich of 3419 West Evergreen avenue, Ed Mullen of 7234 South Marshfield avenue, and Stephen Packwa of Argo.

Morale Wins Praise.

The midwesterners' camp is one of the best the Italians have. American prisoners are now reaching camp 20 from Tunisia and the British exchanges praised their morale and bearing.

All the American prisoners in the camp are from one armored regiment which was badly shot up at Gafsa, Tunisia. They were sent off in a body to Germany, several of today's arrivals told me, presumably so that the Germans could show their people that they really had caught some Yankees. The transfer was made about March 15.

Another important point to the exchangees was the news that, after a long delay, American Red Cross parcels now have begun to arrive regularly in Italy. One colonel told me:

"Until you have tried it, you never will know how constant underfeeding breaks your spirit and those parcels make the difference."

Several midwesterners sent word thru Stuyvesant that they were safe and well. They were Glenn Wilson of Ann Arbor, Mich.; Lt. Conrad Kreps of the army air forces, and Capt. Harry Frazee of a tank unit, both from Akron, O.; Bob Weigand of Cincinnati; Richard Yeats of Monroe, Mich.; Frank Hawkins of Toledo; Henry Wynsen of Youngstown, O., and Al Barnes of Detroit.

Act to Free Others.

Stuyvesant, who was exchanged because as an ambulance man he is "protected personnel," said that steps now are being taken to free other American field service men. He reported the Italians have refused, however, to release 10 war correspondents, tho they were noncombatants, on the grounds that the British refuse to exchange correspondents. An Italian correspondent named Francetti, captured in East Africa, was exchanged here today.

A walk thru the wards of the big British hospital ships, Talamba and Tairea, which took part in the exchange, disclosed the unfailing cheerfulness of British wounded. Even unwounded Italians appeared despondent, on the other hand, and one of them jumped overboard in a vain attempt to avoid return to Italy.

The British will sail for home at 7 a. m. tomorrow [April 20], as will the 1,212 Italians exchanged for them. With the Italians were 12 "protected personnel," medical attendants, doctors, and chaplains.

HIGH SCHOOL GRADUATES.

Pvt. Edward Mullen is the son of Mrs. Della Mullen, 7234 South Marshfield avenue. He is 24 years old, a graduate of Harper High school. He was a food store clerk before entering the army in December, 1941.

Pvt. Ray Bialek, 24 years old, of 4843 Justine street, graduated from Tilden High school. Before his induction on July 3, 1940, he had been employed in the medical laboratory of Armour & Co. His parents were notified last Jan. 2 that he was a prisoner of war.

Friend of the Yanks

[The Friend of the Yanks department will answer questions about the draft and military service, both in the daily columns and by mail, if stamped, self-addressed envelopes are sent with the queries.]

J. S. writes: "Will you please give information about the army specialized training program as to what is to happen to those of us who took the qualifying examinations on April 2? I am to be drafted soon and as far as I know I have all of the requisites."

ANSWER: It appears the army has decided to disregard the examinations given on April 2 and allow each man entering service as well as those already in service to compete on an equal footing. Those who took the examinations and passed will be given certificates, however, and even tho they will be required to take the examinations over again after entering service, they will be more or less "doubly ear-marked" for training. Men who took the naval V-12 qualifying examinations on the same date will have been notified by mail by the end of next week if they are to be considered by the navy. If they receive no indication of interest by the navy within this time, they may as well look elsewhere for consideration. We have prepared a revised data sheet covering the new army qualifying examinations and we will mail it to men in service or those about to enter service if they send a large self-addressed envelope.

J. F. M. writes: "I understand the state has a plan to aid men with slight physical defects so they may be fit for duty in the services. Where can I go to get complete information?"

ANSWER: Evidently you refer to the governor's program to help men with remediable defects who are not able to pay for the necessary rehabilitation. You can apply for such assistance thru your local draft board or visit the offices of the State of Illinois, division of rehabilitation, room 708, 600 South Michigan avenue, or telephone Wabash 6470.

DE GAULLE AIDE TAKES ANSWER TO GEN. GIRAUD

Believe Unity of French Speeded by Plan.

BY JOHN THOMPSON.

ALLIED HDQ. IN NORTH AFRICA, April 20 [Delayed].—After a quick trip to London carrying Gen. Henri Giraud's newest proposals to his chief, Gen. Georges Catroux, Gen. Charles de Gaulle's liaison officer with Giraud, is back in Algiers. He returned Sunday and saw Giraud today for the first time.

It is felt in several quarters here that Giraud's proposals carry French unity a step forward, in that they cite as a basis the laws of the French republic of 1872. For this reason, it is thought, De Gaulle may be willing to go further in his position and that his projected trip to meet Giraud may not be long in the offing.

Wants Representative Council.

Giraud proposes to establish a representative council which would exercise French sovereignty, control the colonies, and conduct the war to a successful conclusion. After the war the council would return to France and reëstablish consuls general for local government. Then, when France is completely freed, the council would hand its powers over to a provisional government created by consuls delegate.

Many Concessions Made.

Giraud's supporters contend that he has made many concessions, deposed from power men whose politics made them distasteful to De Gaulle, and otherwise acted in a conciliatory manner.

Meanwhile the constantly aired French schism is proving an embarrassment to the other allied governments. There is no doubt, too, that De Gaulle, in holding back from a closer contact with Giraud, points out that favoring the Giraud camp is arrival of great quantities of new American military equipment for the new army of France.

De Gaullists Renew Demand.

LONDON, April 21 (AP).—The Fighting French renewed their demand for ejection of alleged Vichy collaborationists from the proposed French interim government in a memorandum to Gen. Henri Giraud made public here today.

While agreement exists on several points, the memorandum made six observations—most of which conflict with Giraud's views. However, some quarters in London predicted eventual elimination of the conflicts.

The six observations follow:

1. Vichy legislation should be abolished completely, which, it was said, implies that "principal posts of direction should not be confided to men who have personal responsibility in capitulation to or collaboration with the enemy.

2. When France is liberated the local administration should not be designated by the military authority.

3. The central French authority should act for the nation as well as the empire and include "internal forces of resistance."

4. The commander in chief should be subordinated to a central authority.

5. A legal council should be formed to prevent abuse of power.

6. The central authority should be constituted to correspond as closely as possible to the traditional French system.

Reds Report 6,000 Nazi Sailors Arrive in Italy

New York, April 21 (AP).—The Moscow radio, in a broadcast reported today by the office of war information, said that about 6,000 German naval personnel, mostly officers, had arrived in the Italian ports of Naples and Brindisi for assignments aboard Italian warships.

TOM HARMON'S OWN STORY OF JUNGLE CRASH

Cut Way Out of Swamp with Bolo Knife.

[Here is Lt. Tom Harmon's own story of escape by parachute from a crashing United States army plane he was piloting over the Guiana jungles and of his subsequent wanderings until rescued. Two of his crew were killed and the other three are missing and sought by rescue parties.]

BY LT. TOM HARMON.
[All-America Half Back at the University of Michigan, 1939-'40.]

A U. S. ARMY BASE IN DUTCH GUIANA, April 21 (AP).—I had been flying at 8,000 feet for nearly two hours thru a heavy rain. I spotted an opening in the clouds and started to spiral down to fly contact beneath the overcast.

At the end of the second turn there was a sudden sharp crack from the right wing and right engine. I opened up the good engine, and then cut both throttles, but the ship wouldn't come out of that spiral. The dive became steeper and the bank increased.

I yelled at the crew to ball out and away went Wolf [2d Lt. Edwin J. Wolf of Philadelphia], then Wieting [2d Lt. Frederick O. Wieting, Lansing, Mich.] and I think Coss [Staff Sergt. Bernard R. Coss, Mendota, Ill.] got out, too.

'Instruments Went Crazy.'

I couldn't see the others, but just then the ship snapped into a left hand spin. All the instruments went crazy, the altimeter read 1,500 feet so I went out of there.

I grabbed for the ripcord, but missed, grabbed again and yanked. The next thing I knew I was hanging in a tree and 20 yards away my ship had crashed and was burning. I managed to climb down the tree, but I couldn't get near the ship until it had cooled off.

Almost everything was destroyed, but I salvaged a pair of pants, some shoes, a parachute, a jungle kit which was smashed but still good, and a few beat up cans of water. I had a bolo knife from the kit and I found a Very pistol. I also found my cigaret lighter and it still seemed to be working.

The jungle was terrible. Thick undergrowth and no trails. The country was hilly and every little valley was swampy. I had to cut my way thru with the bolo knife and stop for breath at the top of each hill. It rained and rained.

Finds an Empty Hut.

The next day I started out again after eating a couple of small chocolate bars from my jungle kit. All my drinking water had leaked out of battered cans during the night and from then on I had to drink water from the swamps.

That night I heard an animal that sounded like a dog barking and I hoped he would lead me to some natives, but he disappeared. This went on for four days, until I came out of the jungle and found a large swamp ahead. I got to a small, empty hut on an island and spent the night there. The next day I waded and swam several miles to another dry ridge.

En route my flying suit had shrunk to my knees and the trousers wore out but I kept wading and swimming along until finally I saw smoke and found two native huts down along the edge of the swamp.

The natives didn't speak English, but finally they understood that I was an aviator. They had a dugout canoe, and rowed me to a village where there was some sort of official who spoke a little English.

He gave me one of his uniforms and we finally got away in a little out-rigger canoe about two in the morning. Eventually we landed and went down a small path which finally wound up at the base of the antilles air task force.

DIRECTS AERIAL SEARCH.

As soon as Harmon arrived at the base he was taken aboard an army plane to direct the aerial search which has located the wreckage of his plane. Harmon's 'chute was still hanging on a tree near the ship and the other parachutes were located on trees about a mile away.

Col. Paul L. Singer, army spokesman, said Harmon's plane crashed 16 miles southwest of the village of Caux, French Guiana.

A searching party was organized as soon as the plane returned to the base, and started for the scene of the crash before dawn the next morning.

After giving the order to bail out, Harmon said that in the excitement which followed he was unable to tell what had happened to Sergt. Leonard D. Gunnells of Deatsville, Ala., and Staff Sergt. J. F. Goodwin of Texarkana, Tex. In Washington, D. C., yesterday the army announced that Gunnels and Goodwin were killed in the crash, and that the other three crew members are missing.

5 MORE GERMAN ALIENS SEIZED; 2 IN WAR PLANTS

The arrest of five more German aliens was announced yesterday by Spencer J. Drayton, special agent in charge of the Chicago office of the federal bureau of investigation. Those seized will be held for hearings before the alien enemy hearing board, he said.

One alien, a war plant worker, said he would never serve in the United States army, had no intention of becoming an American citizen, and bragged that the Germans "will teach the Poles how to eat with knives and forks," Drayton asserted. Another, also a war plant worker, admitted receiving a salary of $104 a week and refusing to buy war bonds or stamps. He is a member of several German societies.

The third man, an air lines employe 34 years old, was quoted as saying that "this country is run by politics and graft" and is said to have praised Hitler and Nazi Germany.

The others, Drayton said, were former German soldiers and admitted they had no intentions of becoming citizens or serving in the army if they were called under the selective service act. One was decorated with the iron cross in Germany during the first World war.

RUSSIAN FLYERS POUND NAZIS ON CAUCASUS FRONT

Beat Off Enemy Attacks Near Novorossisk.

LONDON, April 22 [Thursday]—(AP).—Soviet troops and airmen beat off mass German counter-attacks yesterday in the northwestern Caucasus near the enemy's bridgehead of Novorossisk, Moscow announced early today.

The midnight communique, recorded by the soviet monitor, said the Germans were "striving to achieve success at any cost" in the Kuban river valley. It also indicated the Nazis were trying to ferry reënforcements across the Black sea to besieged Novorossisk.

Planes Blast Troops.

Soviet airmen were credited with sinking a patrol ship, a transport, and two boats loaded with landing forces, presumably trying to cross from the Crimea.

In the land fighting, Russian flyers "inflicted devastating losses" on the attacking waves of German infantrymen at "the most critical moment of the engagement." As a result, all the German assaults were repulsed.

Only sporadic fighting was reported elsewhere along the Russian front. West of Rostov on the Sea of Azov soviet artillerymen smashed an enemy artillery battery and six blockhouses; three German mortars and two artillery batteries were destroyed or silenced on the Smolensk front, and Russian shells set several enemy ammunition dumps afire in the Chuguev sector southeast of Kharkov.

Halt 11 German Attacks.

For days the Germans have been hurling thousands of men and scores of tanks against Russian lines in the Caucasus. The noon bulletin yesterday said 11 successive German charges failed to pierce one Russian held sector and the enemy lost 1,400 men in a single assault.

REDS EXPECT BUMPER CROPS OF SYNTHETIC RUBBER IN SIBERIA

MOSCOW, April 21 (AP).—Altho violent battles are being fought in the Caucasus, much interest in the soviet union is centered on the battle of the harvest, in which the tremendous lands of Siberia are being developed to a greater extent than ever before.

In this second year of war, in addition to vast amounts of the regular crops, Siberia will produce much synthetic rubber, and great attention is being paid to the plant from which it is made. A bumper crop is expected this year.

Other crops which will flow in increasing measure from Siberian lands are beans, peas, sunflower seeds, flax, sugar beets, and mustard.

STEAMER RUNS DOWN SCHOONER IN DARK; 21 LOST

AN EAST COAST CANADIAN PORT, April 21 (AP).—The schooner Flora Alberta has been sunk in collision and 21 of her crew of 28 are missing, it was disclosed tonight. Cut in two by a merchant ship in darkness, the severed halves of the wooden craft apparently sank so quickly they carried down most of the crew, who were asleep.

The new schooner—only about two years old—was struck down not far off the Nova Scotia coast. Survivors included Capt. K. Guy Tanner of Lunenburg, N. S., master of the ship, who suffered a broken arm. He and other rescued crewmen were taken to this port.

DOUBT ALLIES CAN SAVE MANY IN NAZI REGIONS

HAMILTON, Bermuda, April 21 (AP).—Spokesmen for the British-American conference on the European refugee problem tonight said any large scale rescue of oppressed peoples from German occupied lands appeared out of the question.

Both Harold W. Dodds, chairman of the American delegation, and Richard K. Law, heading the Britons, emphasized, however, that every effort would be made to find asylum for as many individuals as possible.

A pattern for rescue of at least some of the oppressed is beginning to emerge from the conferences, both said.

DIES IN TAXICAB.

Laddie Hansel, 37 years old, 5515 West 23d place, Cicero, was found dead yesterday, apparently of natural causes, in his taxicab parked at 52d avenue and the elevated lines, Cicero.

JAPS EXECUTE SOME CAPTURED TOKIO BOMBERS

tary objectives and it is known they did not deviate from these orders.

The state department branded as false the charge that American aviators intentionally attacked noncombatants and called attention to "brutal and bestial methods" used by the Japs to gain confessions from persons in their power. The state department said that if the American flyers made the admissions claimed the confessions were obtained by torture.

After calling on Tokio to abide by its agreements, the communication closed with its promise of punishment which left no doubt this country expects, soon or late, to be able to mete it out.

"As military operations now in progress draw to their inexorable and inevitable conclusion," it said, "the American government will visit upon the officers of the Japanese government responsible for such uncivilized and inhumane acts the punishment they deserve."

The Japanese accusation was that the flyers had bombed nonmilitary targets and shot civilians, and they told the Swiss minister in Tokio that these acts were admitted.

Names of Victims Unknown.

They declined, however, to say which men had been executed or what disposition had been made of their bodies. Thus, the American government was left with no details and not knowing which of the following eight men, missing after the Tokio raid and presumed prisoners, were the victims of this Japanese terrorism:

First Lt. William Glover Farrow of Washington, D. C.

First Lt. Robert L. Hite of Earth, Tex.

First Lt. Dean E. Hallmark of Dallas, Tex.

Second Lt. George Barr of Madison, Wis.

Corp. Jacob D. Deshazer of Madras, Ore.

F. D. R.'S STATEMENT

"It is with a feeling of deepest horrors, which I know will be shared with all civilized peoples, that I have to announce the barbarous execution by the Japanese government of some of the members of this country's armed forces who fell into Japanese hands as an incident of warfare.

"The press had just carried the details of the American bombing of Japan a year ago. The crews of two of the American bombers were captured by the Japanese.

Executions Verified.

"On Oct. 19, 1942, this government learned from Japanese radio broadcasts of the capture, trial, and severe punishment of those Americans. Continued endeavor was made to obtain confirmation of those reports from Tokio.

"It was not until March 12, 1943, that the American government received the communication given by the Japanese government stating that these Americans had in fact been tried and the death penalty had been pronounced against them. It was further stated that the death penalty was commuted for some, but that the sentence of death had been applied to others.

Intimidation Will Fail.

"This government has vigorously condemned this act of barbarity in a formal communication sent to the Japanese government. In that communication this government has informed the Japanese government that the American government will hold personally and officially responsible for these diabolical crimes all of those officers of the Japanese government who have participated therein and will in due course bring those officers to justice.

"This recourse by our enemies to frightfulness is barbarous. The effort of the Japanese war lords to intimidate us will utterly fail. It will make the American people more determined than ever to blot out the shameless militarism of Japan.

"I have instructed the department of state to make public the text of our communication to the Japanese government."

TEXT OF PROTEST

Washington, D. C., April 21 (AP).—The text of the state department's statement under date of April 12, 1943, on the execution of some of the American flyers who raided Japan follows:

"Text of the United States reply to the Japanese government, April 12, 1943:

"The government of the United States has received the reply of the Japanese government conveyed under date of Feb. 17, 1943, to the Swiss minister at Tokio to the inquiry made by the minister on behalf of the government of the United States concerning the correctness of reports broadcast by Japanese radio stations that the Japanese authorities intended to try before military tribunals American prisoners of war, for military operations, and to impose upon them severe penalties, including even the death penalty.

"The Japanese government states that it has tried the members of the crews of American planes who fell into Japanese hands after the raid on Japan on April 18 last, that they were sentenced to death, and that, following commutation of the sentence for the larger number of them, the sentence of death was applied to certain of the accused.

Charges Called False.

"The government of the United States has subsequently been informed of the refusal of the Japanese government to treat the remaining American aviators as prisoners of war, to divulge their names, to state the sentences imposed upon them, or to permit visits to them by the Swiss minister as representative of the protecting power for American interests.

"The Japanese, government alleges that it has subjected the American aviators to this treatment because they intentionally bombed nonmilitary installations and deliberately fired on civilians, and that the aviators admitted these acts.

"The government of the United States informs the Japanese government that instructions to American armed forces have always ordered those forces to direct their attacks upon military objectives. The American forces participating in the attack upon Japan had such instructions and it is known that they did not deviate therefrom. The government of the United States brands as false the charge that American aviators intentionally have attacked noncombatants anywhere.

Beastial Methods Employed.

"With regard to the allegation of the Japanese government that the American aviators admitted the acts of which the Japanese government accuses them, there are numerous known instances in which Japanese official agencies have employed brutal and beastial methods in extorting alleged confessions from persons in their power. It is customary for those agencies to use statements obtained under torture, or alleged statements, in proceedings against the victims.

"If the admissions alleged by the Japanese government to have been made by the American aviators were in fact made, they could only have been extorted fabrications.

"Moreover, the Japanese government entered into a solemn obligation by agreement with the government of the United States to observe the terms of the Geneva prisoners of war convention. Article I of that convention provides for treatment as prisoners of war of members of armies and of persons captured in the course of military operations at sea or in the air.

"Article 60 provides that upon the opening of a judicial proceeding directed against a prisoner of war, the representative of the protecting power shall be given notice thereof at least three weeks prior to the trial and of the names and charges against the prisoners who are to be tried. Article 61 provides that no prisoner may be obliged to admit himself guilty of the act of which he is accused.

"Article 62 provides that the accused shall have the assistance of qualified counsel of his choice and that a representative of the protecting power shall be permitted to attend the trial. Article 65 provides that sentence pronounced against the prisoners shall be communicated to the protecting power immediately. Article 66 provides, in the event that the death penalty is pronounced, that the details as to the nature and circumstances of the offense shall be communicated to the protecting power, for transmission to the power in whose forces the prisoner served, and that the sentence shall not be executed before the expiration of a period of at least three months after such communication. The Japanese government has not complied with any of these provisions in its treatment of the captured American aviators.

Asks Adherence to Law.

"The government of the United States calls again upon the Japanese government to carry out its agreement to observe the provisions of the convention by communicating to the Swiss minister at Tokio the charges and sentences imposed upon the American aviators, by permitting the Swiss representatives to visit those now held in prison, by restoring to those aviators the full rights to which they are entitled under the prisoners of war convention, and by informing the minister of the names and disposition or place of burial of the bodies of any of the aviators against whom sentence of death has been carried out.

"If, as would appear . . . the Japanese government has descended to such acts of barbarity and manifestations of depravity as to murder in cold blood uniformed members of the American armed forces made prisoners as an incident of warfare, the American government will hold personally and officially responsible for those deliberate crimes all of those officers of the Japanese government who have participated in their commitment and will in due course bring those officers to justice.

"The American government also solemnly warns the Japanese government that for any other violations of its undertakings as regards American prisoners of war or for any other acts of criminal barbarity inflicted upon American prisoners in violation of the rules of warfare accepted and practiced by civilized nations as military operations now in progress draw to their inexorable and inevitable conclusion, the American government will visit upon the officers of the Japanese government responsible for such uncivilized and inhumane acts the punishment they deserve."

ALL ON HORNET VIE FOR CHANCE TO JOIN IN ATTACK ON TOKIO

Every army enlisted man on the aircraft carrier Hornet was eager to go on the Tokio bombing raid, according to Bernard L. Samson, a seaman aboard the carrier, who was at his home, 4229 Broadway, yesterday on sick leave.

To make sure that every one of the 16 B-25 bombers would be fully manned for the Tokio trip a double crew for each plane was aboard the Hornet, Samson said.

"The bomber crewmen were so eager to go that those who were left behind offered to pay $100 cash and as high as six months' pay to trade places with those chosen for the flight," he said.

After the Hornet was sunk last October Samson swam for two hours until picked up by a destroyer. He was then taken to New Caledonia and Guadalcanal for shore duty. While on Guadalcanal he suffered six attacks of malaria, and was returned to the United States a month ago.

REVEALS HORNET'S CREW AUTOGRAPHED BOMBS IN TOKIO RAID

San Diego, Cal., April 21 (AP).—In addition to Japanese medals, the bombs dropped in Tokio also carried the autographs of the Hornet's crew and were painted with various slogans, Lt. Robert Noone of Auburndale, Mass., said today.

Noone, a signal officer aboard the Hornet, said various objects were tied to the bombs and almost every one aboard the carrier autographed them.

Noone, who is convalescing from injuries suffered in the sinking of the Hornet, said the aircraft carrier had several extra crews of army flyers brought aboard to replace any one who might get sick.

REPORTS ON AID TO PRISONERS HELD BY JAPAN

F. A. Hathaway, local general secretary of the Young Men's Christian association, disclosed yesterday increased work on the part of the war prisoners' aid of the Y. M. C. A. in Japan.

He said that Japan has given permission to a neutral Y. M. C. A. committee to visit camps in Japan, Korea, and Formosa. According to Hathaway, the committee distributes sports articles, musical instruments, games, and books.

Prisoners in the seven camps in Japan, Korea, and Formosa are believed to number about 20,000, according to word received by Hathaway, but no information is available as to the number held in 25 other camps in Japanese occupied territory.

HOLD WAR RULES BAR REPRISALS FOR EXECUTIONS

Action Must Wait War's End, Experts Say.

Under strict interpretation of international war rules it is improbable that the United States can exact reprisals against Japan for the illegal execution of the Doolittle flyers taken prisoner after the Tokio raid until after the war ends.

This view was held last night by several military experts, including those now on active army duty and those on the retired list. All held that, deep as is the emotional reaction to want to shoot one Jap for every Yank slain, the war conventions forbid.

Must Wait for Peace.

"In the final analysis a nation like ours, which believes in law from the old Anglo-Saxon concept, must wait until peace to seek out and punish those enemies deemed guilty of war crimes," said P. F. Gault, now commercial counsel for the North Western railway and formerly a lieutenant colonel assigned to the judge advocate's office. He served as an artillery major in France in the first World war.

In the military lexicon, it was pointed out by others, reprisals are not adopted for revenge. Their primary purpose, when invoked, is to dissuade the enemy from repeating initial violations of the war conventions, such as the Doolittle executions.

Right to Hold Hostages.

Reprisals should not be hastily ordered; and the highest available military authority should be consulted unless military necessity demands immediate action, it was explained.

Gault said the Japanese prisoners now in our hands cannot be punished for the Doolittle incident. However, America has the right, he added, to hold as hostages any Japanese prisoners we take in the future. The international code, as Gault recalls it, permits the execution of hostages if unlawful acts by the enemy are continued.

TELLS OF TAKING TOKIO BOMBERS TO JAP WATERS

Chicagoan on Escort of Aircraft Carrier.

How a navy task force got a carrier within 800 miles of Tokio for the bombing of the Japanese capital and other cities on April 18, 1942, was told yesterday by Lawrence Haga Jr., 27 years old, 2153 Humboldt boulevard.

Haga was a coxswain on a destroyer which escorted the carrier Hornet that took the raiding planes into Japanese waters.

"Our destroyer was assigned to the task force as plane guard for the carrier," Haga related. "It was our job to pick up planes that crashed into the water in landing or taking off, besides serving as a torpedo and bomb screen for the carrier.

Start from Pearl Harbor.

"We left the rendezvous port with the carrier early in April and steamed straight west.

"We could see 16 B-25 two engined army bombers on the Hornet's flight deck. Almost at once we got it from the scuttlebutt—that's the name for the drinking fountain and consequently also the name for rumors that spread around the fountain—that we were going to bomb Tokio.

"I was new in the navy then but I had learned the scuttlebutt is right about 90 per cent of the time. Sure enough, a couple days later our captain told us we were taking the Hornet to Japan to bomb Tokio.

Guarded by Patrol Planes.

"Every day we would put planes into the air for patrolling. Three or four times the men on the Hornet warmed up the bombers' engines. Once one of the planes broke down so the Hornet's mechanics threw a tarpaulin over her, tore out the engine, made new parts in the ship's machine shop, and got her running again.

"The scuttlebutt said that most of the guns had been taken from the planes to lighten the weight and permit bigger bomb loads. We could see some things that resembled guns sticking out the rear turrets of the planes but the scuttlebutt said those were only broom sticks to fool any Japs that might attack them. The scuttlebutt said the Hornet had loaded the planes and that they would take off with skeleton crews and then fly on to China.

Weather Proves Favorable.

"We sailed on thru clear weather. Daily we kept a tighter look on the sky, waiting momentarily for an attack. But nothing happened. Our ships raced on, coming closer to Japan than any other surface warships have come in war time.

"Late on the afternoon of April 17 we knew we were coming close.

"Then we had a piece of good luck. The sky, which had been clear, clouded over. A brisk wind blew up. The sea became choppy. Visibility was reduced, not enough to separate the ships but sufficient to make it hard for any chance Jap patrol plane to spot us.

"All night the fog held. The clouds were still there at dawn when we put planes out again.

"We could see lots of activity on the Hornet. The bombers' engines began roaring. Wheel blocks held the big planes steady.

Some Said It Can't Be Done.

"Over on our destroyer we wondered if the planes could take off from the carrier. Some argued it couldn't be done. The skeleton crews climbed into the 16 planes. The roar of the motors came across the choppy waters. The carrier headed into the brisk wind.

"Somebody took the wheel blocks away and one plane shot down the deck. We held our breath, hopefully. But any worry was wasted. The big plane zoomed upward better than many fighters. Quickly the other 15 took off, one after another. All climbed rapidly. The 16 formed overhead, then vanished in the clouds to the west.

Leave Scene in a Hurry.

"Then we got the hell out of there. We hoped the clouds would hold and they did.

"We on the destroyers had the most to worry about because we had only 36 hours of fuel and you can't do much running in 36 hours if you get into a fight. With their tanks empty, the little ships bounced like a cork.

"We didn't have to wait long to hear from the bombers. There was an agonized squawk from the Tokio radio. All day the radio kept up a jabber, jabber, jabber. We didn't know what the Japs were saying, but they surely were excited. Late in the afternoon an English broadcast from Tokio said our planes had hit some schools and homes, but we knew our bombardiers were better marksmen than that.

Attackers Fail to Come.

"'Well, the big Jap bombers ought to be arriving any minute now,'" we told one another. But if the Japs did guess that the raiders came from a carrier and sent out bombers to find us, they didn't have any luck. The soupy weather may have helped. Of course, nobody left his gun.

"The next day we put up near a tanker and began to take on some oil. Every one was in a hurry and a line broke, scattering oil over the ship. We all got soaked with oil but didn't stop to clean up. We just threw our clothes overboard.

"That day the weather cleared. A few days later the Hornet left us. A few days more and we were in Pearl Harbor, without seeing a Jap ship or plane.

"On the way home we were told we had been within 800 miles of Tokio. That was too close for comfort."

PARENTS KEEP SECRET OF RAID AGAINST TOKIO

Five brothers and sisters of Henry Orlowski, 25 years old, navy storekeeper aboard the carrier Hornet, learned yesterday the details of the Tokio bombing along with 130 million other Americans, but the sailor's parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Orlowski, 1505 Lincoln street, North Chicago, smiled and said they had known the inside story of the raid since their son was home on furlough last December.

Henry Orlowski.

"Henry swore us to secrecy and then told us the raiding planes came from his carrier," the father said. "We haven't told a soul."

SEDITION TRIAL CONTINUED.

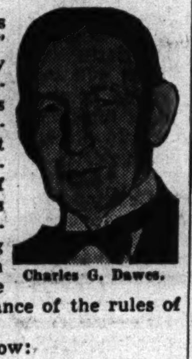
AVENGE FLYERS, ANGRY CHICAGO LEADERS CRY

Executions by Japanese Called Fiendish.

"It's an outrage!"

"Execute one Jap for every American flyer."

"Kill five Japs for each Yank!"



Charles G. Dawes.

That's the way Chicagoans reacted to yesterday's White House announcement that some of the captive members of Maj. Gen. James H. Doolittle's Tokio bombing party had been executed by the Japanese in defiance of the rules of warfare.

Comments follow:

Charles G. Dawes, former Vice President of the United States, chairman of the City National Bank and Trust company—It is an outrage. The men were in uniform. They were prisoners of war. The executions are beyond the range of civilized warfare.

Gov. Dwight H. Green—Such barbarism is beyond the understanding of American citizens, but it will only serve to make them more determined to bring about a speedy victory and put an end to the reign of those inhumane Japanese war lords who are now seeking to rule the world. The news of this violation of the rules of war will be a shock to all Americans which will galvanize them to new efforts in the prosecution of the war.

Mayor Kelly, reached at Phoenix, Ariz.—Every American with red blood in his veins will agree with the President that the Japanese action was "barbarous." It shows the Japs lack brains, because they certainly ought to know that their turn is coming. Our people already are wrought up over Jap duplicity and cruelty; this will aggravate our determination to punish them.

Michael L. Igoe, federal judge—We should execute a Jap for each flyer. That is the only way to make those things come out even.

Frank J. Loesch, former chairman of the Chicago crime commission—If I were the government, I would execute five Japs for every American flyer the Japs executed. There is only one way to meet that kind of people. There can be no appeasement.

Fullerton Fulton, Illinois state director of organizations for the CIO—This is a terrible situation, but it is just what we can expect from a Jap. While we were negotiating a peace, their bombers were on the way to bomb our people at Pearl Harbor. People of that type should be exterminated.

William L. McFetridge, president of the AFL Building Service Employés International union and president of the Chicago Flat Janitors union—This war, because of acts like this, has become a holy crusade against a heathen enemy.

C. L. Chen, Chinese consul general—Any person with common sense knows now what Chinese have long known—that Japanese are inhuman and uncivilized.

Silas H. Strawn, attorney and delegate to the extraterritorial jurisdiction conference in China in 1925—The Japanese don't recognize any law but that of the barbarian. They broke the nine power treaty with their invasion of China, and with this outrage are breaking all the laws of respectability that raise man above the level of animals.

Chief Justice John A. Sbarbaro of Criminal court—We should give Gen. MacArthur and our other commanders in the Pacific all the help and tools of war they need at once so that this act and others of a similar nature charged against the Japs may be quickly avenged.

The Rt. Rev. Msgr. Joseph P. Morrison, rector of Holy Name cathedral—Japan is not a Christian nation; the Japanese nave no idea of respect for human life. Their execution of our flyers shows us again the necessity of defeating them.

Rabbi Felix Levy, Temple Emanuel, 701 Buckingham place, former president of the Central Conference of American Rabbis—I agree with the President that the act was barbarous, an outrage against all the principles of human decency.

Dr. Paul S. Johnson, executive secretary of the Presbytery of Chicago—Our grief and anguish at this act of the Japanese must stir us to humility over the fact that we celebrated the news of the bombing of Tokio.

Carter H. Harrison, collector of internal revenue—Their action can be classed as an uncivilized act and it shows that the Japs, with all the veneer of civilization that they assume, are the ruffians and the barbarians they were at the beginning of the race.

John P. Barnes, senior judge of the federal District court—If that report is true the action was an atrocious violation of international law. Those men were in uniform, engaged in legitimate warfare. They were entitled to be treated as prisoners of war.

J. Albert Woll, United States attorney—It is more evidence of Japanese treachery and shows how differently they act from civilized people. The men should have been treated as prisoners of war. One of the main factors in the saboteur case [referring to Herbert Hans Haupt and his companions] was the fact that they discarded their uniforms. If they had retained them they would have been held as prisoners of war."

Evan A. Evans, senior judge of the United States Circuit Court of Appeals—That action is awful and unbelievable, even for barbarians.

Thomas J. Courtney, state's attorney of Cook county—It is hard to comprehend such savage, brutal, inhuman treatment in this so-called civilized age.

Kenneth C. Smith, president of the Chicago Stock exchange—Of all the atrocities I've heard of, none shocked me more. It should spur our entire war program, including the war bond drive.

Edward J. Scheffler, chief justice of Municipal court—This barbarous act by the Japanese is contrary to every law of warfare.

Thomas J. Lynch, chief justice of Circuit court—After the Japanese are beaten the perpetrators of this crime should be made to suffer equal punishment.

Mrs. Walter B. Wolf, chairman, women's division, Chicago and Cook county war savings staff—The Japanese are pursuing the cruelest sort of warfare, and have performed a criminal, underhanded act.

Mrs. Charles S. Clark, president of the Conference of Club Presidents and Program Chairmen—That act will cause the American people to work harder than ever to give our men the equipment they need. We reap as we sow. Think what the Japs will reap.

Mrs. Henry W. Hartough, president of the Chicago and Cook County Federation of Women's organizations — We couldn't expect much more of the Japs. It seems that some drastic steps should be taken.

Mrs. William Kletzer, president of the National Congress of Parents and Teachers — It emphasizes the importance of speeding the fight that will decide whether or not the world will be ruled by nations like the one that committed this horrible act.

Philip R. O'Brien, president of the Chicago Board of Trade—Probably the most atrocious way of treating war prisoners ever heard of. Full measures should be taken by our government to settle the score as soon as possible.

Clifford S. Young, president, Federal Reserve Bank of Chicago—It's a terrible crime.

Sterling Morton, president, Illinois Manufacturers' association—If the report is true, it shows a higher degree of barbarism than we suspected. The effect of it should be to stir our people to even greater depths and steel us to greater sacrifices.

Mario Lasso, Mexican consul general—The action of the Japanese is contrary to all human principals and military practices. It is murder.

3 YANK FLYERS TELL HOW THEY BOMBED TOKIO

Flew Back Over Sea to Foil Jap Pursuit.

BY EDWARD KENNEDY.

A NORTH AFRICAN AIR BASE, April 21 (AP).—Giving for publication the first eyewitness account of the Tokio raid by any participating airmen, three army air forces officers disclosed tonight that, after the attack, the United States bombers flew 50 miles out to sea to make the Japanese think they were going back the way they had come and thereby to hide their China destination.

Maj. Charles R. Greening.

After that feint, the planes turned south and then finally westward to the Yellow sea, plunging on in the darkness to China and went inland until they believed they were out of the reach of the Japanese.

The three who told their story for the first time were Maj. Charles R. Greening, Tacoma, Wash.; Capt. Henry A. Potter, Pierre, S. D., and Capt. James M. Parker, Livingston, Tex.

Ancient History, Says Doolittle.

Greening told how he ordered his men to bail out over China, carrying his rations and a map, and told this classic on himself:

"We stuffed these things into the other's pockets, but, as I was the last man out, I took mine in my arms. I left the plane with two armfuls of groceries, a gun, searchlight, and other things. It wasn't until I was 500 feet down that I realized the problem of pulling the ripcord with my arms full. It was the choice of one or the other, so I let everything go except the flashlight and gun. I flashed the light going down, and I could see the others flashing back at me."

Maj. Gen. James H. Doolittle himself, informed that the ban of secrecy had been lifted, said simply that "as far as I am concerned, the Tokio raid is ancient history. We are engaged here in making history." Fifteen of the men who made the raid are here with him.

It was a relief for these three at last to be able to talk freely, after keeping their pledge for a year not to divulge any particulars of the raid.

Each Has Story to Tell.

"You see," said Potter, "when we met up in China each had a story of a horrible ordeal and wanted to tell it. But none of us wanted to listen because we all had one of our own."

"Yes, it was from the aircraft carrier Hornet, and we took off about 8 a. m. on April 18 in a heavy sea with the waves splashing over the runway decks," said Greening.

"It was the first time that B-25s had ever taken off from a carrier. Why, some of the boys had never seen a carrier before. . . ."

"I had never seen a ship before," said Potter, who was navigator on Doolittle's own plane.

"We had practiced for months, speculating on special conditions, and every one knew exactly how much gas his plane took—we did not trust the design load. No planes ever were tested and cared for as much as ours during that period."

The plane piloted by Greening shot down two Japanese fighters believed to have been Heinkels or Japanese copies of them.

When they turned back to the Yellow sea, the course of each plane was the same but each flew on its own. Now and then they caught a glimpse of one another, but kept a distance for fear the other might be an enemy plane, the three men said.

Bail Out At 10,000 Feet.

"I asked my crew whether they wanted us to try to land or bail out," Greening said. "They said they'd like to land in a rice paddy. We came down and turned on landing lights to test the thickness of the fog when we saw tree tops just below us. It was a narrow escape and made them all want to bail out. We went up to 10,000 feet, opened the door, gave each man rations and a map and we went out in reverse order of rank."

Greening's parachute caught on a tree and he hung there until the next morning. When he got down and started to walk he found his injured co-pilot for whom he made a bamboo crutch. They reached the village of Chuchow Lishui where for the next weeks most of the others came in by ones and twos.

The plane which Parker co-piloted went 120 miles farther into China than the others. He came across other members of the crew including Pilot Lt. Harold F. Watson, of West Hartford, Conn., who had his arm broken. Arriving at the village, they found two American missionary priests who treated the injured pilot.

"We were sitting around a fire in a house with a Chinese family when soldiers who we first thought were Japanese came. They were Chinese, treated us very well and when Watson's arm was well enough, took us to the capital of Hunan province."

That was 60 miles and there was no transport. The journey on foot was made in two days.

Son a Tokio Raider

TOKIO BOMBERS' MOTHERS CALL FOR RETRIBUTION

Retribution for the execution of Tokio raiders taken prisoner by the Japanese was demanded yesterday by the parents of two Chicago men who took part in the raid.

"We should pay the Japanese back in kind," said Mrs. Charles C. Ozuk, 4257 North Albany avenue, mother of Capt. Charles J. Ozuk, navigator on one of the bombers. "What they have done is an outrage. It's wonderful, tho, to know that my boy was not among those executed. He is safe with Gen. Doolittle in North Africa. I am grateful."

Mrs. John E. Griffin, 5417 Maryland avenue, whose son, Capt. Thomas C. Griffin, also was a navigator on one of the raiding bombers, and is now with Gen. Doolittle, echoed Mrs. Ozuk's statement.

Both Capt. Ozuk and Capt. Griffin were injured in completing the raid. Caught in a sudden storm, Capt. Ozuk and the other crew members of his plane bailed out, while Griffin's plane made a forced landing, both in China.

Hurt in 'Chute Landing.

"Charles said his parachute caught on a mountain as he landed," Capt. Ozuk's sister, Irene, said yesterday. "He dangled there for a long time and when he finally got loose he fell on a jagged rock and hurt his leg. He dragged himself to a Chinese village where the peasants took him to a hospital. He said the Chinese were so grateful for what the Americans did in bombing Tokio that they insisted on feeding him like a baby altho he wasn't seriously ill."

Chinese mistook her son for a Nazi and stabbed him in the leg before examining his identification papers, Mrs. Griffin said. The crew of his plane had scattered. Since then Capt. Griffin has been shot down in another plane in the Tunisian campaign, but he and the rest of the crew escaped in a rubber raft.

Fly Over Emperor's Palace.

Both parents said their sons, who were home on furlough last July, had described flying so low over the emperor's palace in Tokio that they could have heard Hirohito howl if he had been outside. Both regretted that they were under orders not to bomb the palace.

"It's too bad they didn't do it anyway," Mrs. Griffin said. "Blowing that fellow to the hot place would have helped."

While in hospitals Capt. Griffin and Capt. Ozuk were entertained by Mme. Chiang Kai-shek and later received letters from her. Mrs. Ozuk received a letter from Gen. Doolittle after the raid, commending her son's courage.

Capt. Griffin was treated in India for an attack of malaria, his mother said. Mrs. Ozuk is not sure, but believes that her son also was in India before coming home.

FLYER'S FATHER WARNS AGAINST REVENGE ACTION

William F. Knobloch, chief civilian operating engineer at Fort Sheridan and father of Capt. Richard A. Knobloch, one of Doolittle's Tokio raiders who now is in India, last night said that we must avoid retaliating in kind for the barbarous executions of American airmen lest "we become as uncivilized as they are."

The executions, he said, should show all Americans "we must fight harder to win, but to fight the right way."

Capt. Knobloch, in his latest letter, said he still was dropping bombs in the name of every one in his family and all his friends and indicated he is awaiting another chance to smash Tokio by remarking he "wanted to win another D. F. C." He was awarded the decoration after the raid on Tokio.

CAPITAL THINKS KILLINGS WILL ROUSE AMERICA

Washington, D. C., April 21 (AP).—News that Japan has executed some of the American flyers captured after the bombing of Tokio brought indignant comment in congress today and predictions it will arouse the American people to a greater fighting pitch.

Speaker Sam Rayburn [D., Tex.] called it "so gruesome that it defies comment," and House Minority Leader Joseph Martin [R., Mass.] said, "It is shocking to realize that any nation could be so barbarous."

"It will strengthen the determination of the American people to fight this war to complete victory," Martin added. "That action will be avenged."

"Saddest News of War."

Chairman Tom Connally [D., Tex.] of the senate foreign relations committee described the action as "brutal and savage and a violation of all international law—it will bring down upon the perpetrators the merited condemnation of history."

Sen. Homer Ferguson [R., Mich.] observed: "I haven't had any sadder news in this war," while Sen. Burton K. Wheeler [D., Mont.] said "it was a dastardly thing for the Japs to do."

Rep. Vito Marcantonio [A. L., N. Y.] said that "when we attack Japan by land from China, as we must, we must take no prisoners," and Rep. Carter Manasco [D., Ala.] commented that "we won't take many prisoners after that."

Mme. Chiang Not Surprised.

There were others, however, who cautioned that this country must not let its indignation lead it way from civilized practices.

Rep. Clare Booth Luce [D., Conn.] saying she was "boiling," declared "my mind just trembles at what may happen now. Certainly Americans will be so outraged that it may even change the course of the war in the Pacific. We must bomb Japan out of the war. However, we must not retaliate in kind because that would unloose a reign of terror, and we must not make unwise strategic decisions based on our anger."

Describing the executions as "one of the most atrocious activities of warfare," Rep. Harry R. Sheppard [D., Cal.] said the incident should make citizens of the west coast thoroly alive to the type of Japanese mentality and govern accordingly their activities relative to releasing the Japanese to civil activities.

In New York, Mme. Chiang Kai-shek, wife of the Chinese generalissimo, said that the execution "comes as no surprise to us Chinese who have witnessed the calculated cruelty perpetrated by the enemy on our own people thru the years."

"Every day of passive theorizing, as to the date when Japan will be dealt with seriously and effectively," she added, "strengthens Japan's strangle hold on the territories and resources which she will pervert to make herself a world Frankenstein."

TEXAN SQUARES AN ACCOUNT FOR HIS KID BROTHER

Tells Why He Took Slain Youngster's Seat.

BY LARRY RUE.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, April 21.—An Australian newspaper man and I barged into an airdrome and into the junior officers' mess where the crews of the Flying Fortresses which had bombed Bremen the day before were singing and whooping it up as if they hadn't a care in the world.

One of the pilots, 2d Lt. R. M. Mathis, 24, a big, blond, rawboned Texan with a Texas drawl and six feet four inches of muscle, had been credited with hitting the target. Only the day before the raid he had been transferred to the seat and the bombsight that his kid brother Jack had used a month before in the big raid on Vegesack.

In that raid 20 year old Jack Mathis had become a deathless hero. He had set the target run, held his bombs until they were in line on the sight, and released them. Then he said over the intercommunication phone, "bombs away," and fell dead, his arm and shoulder shot away.

Tells Why He Did It.

I asked Lt. Mathis why he had requested to be transferred from medium bombers to the same ship on which his brother met death.

"I thought this was the best way to settle the account," Mathis said. "Jack and I had been buddies ever since he was a baby. We lived on a ranch and had been almost inseparable.

"When war was declared, I said, 'Jack, let's you and I get in the aviation corps.' He agreed. When we joined up in Texas, we were promised we could fly, but we had no sooner gotten in than we were told our patriotic duty was for us to become bombardiers, because they are scarcer than pilots. We accepted, but on the promise that we still would be allowed to fly.

Stays with Him Before Raid.

"After graduating from school, Jack and I separated for the first time and it got so we both moved about so much that we were only able to communicate with each other thru mother. It's funny, but I had a premonition Jack was here when I got over, and I tried to find him. By accident, I ran into a mutual friend who told me where Jack was, and I managed to get a two day leave to see him. I called him the day before the Vegesack raid, and then stayed with him that night.

"I had a hell of a feeling and tried to get on the bomber myself. I am perfectly qualified, and it looked as if I had succeeded when I was dragged off the ship just before the raid started. They said I couldn't go unless I had the approval of my commanding officer. I stuck around and waited—God, how I wished that I was with him. That's all. I knew something had happened to him before the ship was back on the ground and the news was broken."

Used to Being High Up.

Capt. J. W. Farrar of Mattoon, Ill., captain of another ship, said the anti-aircraft fire over Bremen was the heaviest he had encountered in 22 operations.

This was Mathis' first operational mission over enemy territory and Mathis' fellow aviators said he had done excellent work as bombardier. Mathis felt no fear, he said.

"I felt I was handling that gun and bombsight and was very close to Jack," he added. "I used to be an electrician and I had to climb poles 100 feet high. You can get just as scared doing that as anything else."

CLARK GABLE SLATED FOR BOMBING TRIPS OVER GERMANY SOON

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, April 21—Capt. Clark Gable, movie star now serving with the United States army air force "somewhere in England," is to take part in air raids on Germany, it was announced today. He now is at a heavy bomber station awaiting orders to go on an operational flight.

Gable is one of the first bombardiers to hold the rank of captain, most bombardiers have a top rank of flying officer, usually lieutenant. Gable joined the army early last year as a private.

Meanwhile, Gable is continuing to have fan trouble. While he was walking along a village street near a bomber station recently his identity was discovered and soon he was followed by an admiring crowd of women. He was "rescued" by an American service policeman.

Bishop Leonard Visits Yanks Wounded in Africa

LONDON, April 21 (AP).—Bishop Adna Wright Leonard, of Washington, D. C., talked today in a hospital with United States soldiers wounded in North Africa and took messages from some for relatives at home. Continuing his three day tour, the Bishop, who represents 31 United States Protestant denominations, also went to a large military installation and Salisbury cathedral.

EAST PRUSSIAN RAIL CENTER HIT BY RED AIRMEN

British Rake Nazis for Eighth Day in Row.

LONDON, April 21 (AP).—Russian planes raided Tilsit, rail center in East Prussia, last night and started fires which could be seen from almost 100 miles away, Moscow announced tonight in a broadcast recorded by the soviet monitor. The announcement said all planes returned.

Enemy bombers struck at Britain tonight, loosing high explosive and incendiary bombs on a northeast Scotland town.

British bombing attacks extending from France to Berlin and beyond were marked today over the German Baltic ports of Stettin and Rostock by great smoke columns visible 100 miles away, and all day today the allied air offensive went on. Late in the afternoon the roar of allied planes crossing the channel still was being heard.

Home of Nazi Bombers.

Rostock and Stettin, respectively the manufacturing center for Nazi Heinkel bombers and the port for Berlin, were hit in synchronization with the attack on the East Prussian railway center.

[A Finnish special communique, as broadcast by the Berlin radio, said Finnish fighters engaged a major enemy air formation of 35 aircraft near the Island of Seiskari and shot down 19. At the same time Finnish bombers shot down one out of three enemy bombers near Kotka. Two Finnish aircraft did not return.]

Eighth Day of Allied Raids.

Returning pilots reported that the Wilmersdorf district of Berlin also was left alight with fires, altho the attack there was plainly not on the great scale of those thrown against Rostock and Stettin.

Aside from all these targets—Rostock, Stettin, Berlin, Tilsit—fighter-bombers in great force attacked German communications thru France, Holland, Belgium, and northwestern Germany in the eighth day of the around the clock raids and in what the air ministry termed one of the biggest such sweeps since the war began.

From all night operations, 31 British bombers were lost.

ALLIED PLANES BATTER TEN JAP BASES IN PACIFIC

Villages, Airdrome in Guinea Hit.

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS IN AUSTRALIA, April 22 [Thursday] —(AP).—Ten Japanese bases were attacked in light raids by allied bombers and fighters yesterday, the high command announced today.

For the second straight day, a single Japanese raider attacked Morobe to the southeast of Salamaua, but damage was negligible, the communique said.

In the sector northwest of Australia, two-engined allied bombers attacked the Dutch New Guinea airdromes of Timika and Kaimana. At Dobo, on the Aroe Islands, fuel dumps, the float plane anchorage, and buildings were raided by bombers and long range fighters.

Villages Bombed, Strafed.

On the Kai Islands a single medium bomber strafed the enemy occupied village of Watdek and coastal vessels near Wadanela. The village of Wailoetoe near Saumlaki was bombed on the Tanimbar Islands.

In a raid on Timor, large fires were started in the town of Laga by medium bombers.

On New Britain Island, a four engined allied bomber on reconnaissance shot down one of four enemy fighters which attempted interception over Rabaul; fires were started in the village of Ubili, and an enemy bomber was destroyed on the ground at Gasmata.

Another MacArthur Warning.

Japan's air and ground power in the Southwest Pacific is growing "with great rapidity," a spokesman for Gen. MacArthur warned yesterday.

His statement said:

"The question has been raised as to why, in view of the splendid successes our forces have achieved here during the last year, the situation now is becoming more menacing on the Australian front.

"The answer is very simple. The enemy has been bringing forward heavy reënforcements of both ground an air components with great rapidity. It is our hope that our force will grow to match his.

"Our successes in the past are unfortunately not the compelling factor in the coming battle. This campaign, as is always the case in war, will be won in the future, not in the past."

TEMPER INDIVIDUAL LIBERTY TO PERMIT MASS UNITY: WALLACE

BOGOTA, Colombia, April 21 (AP). —Vice President Henry A. Wallace, making his last major address on his Latin-American tour, told cabinet and diplomatic leaders tonight that individual liberty tempered to permit mass unity must be a fundamental policy of the democracies in building toward a lasting world peace.

Coincident with Wallace's arrival here, the legislatures of the two states of Colombia adopted a resolution asking the federal government to declare war on the axis. There was no indication, however, that any immediate action would follow.

HOW ATTU BASE WAS MOVED TO KISKA REVEALED

JapsTransport Buildings, Guns, and All.

BY EUGENE BURNS.

AN ADVANCED BASE IN THE ANDREANOF ISLANDS, Alaska, April 12 [Delayed]—(AP).—Why the Japanese once abandoned their base on Attu Island, as announced by the United States navy department last fall, has finally been explained. When Kiska was threatened by American forces from an Andreanof base last September, the Japs on Attu dug out all the guns and equipment they had on Attu and moved it, lock, stock and barrel, to Kiska.

At that time the island could have been taken by a handful of grenade tossing men.

The Nipponese, upon landing in force there after the Midway battle last June, found a village of 96 Aleuts. As on Kiska, the enemy built machined roads at once, off Chicagof harbor—the best harbor in the Near Islands. Troops were quartered in conical tents, 25 feet in diameter. Frame buildings were hastily erected.

Built Long Buildings.

The Japanese on Attu had more fight than those on Kiska. They fired when United States planes still were beyond range of their 25,000 foot anti-aircraft guns.

Prefabricated buildings 250 feet long and 50 feet wide, in 25 foot sections, were assembled in deep excavations and then covered with sod. Excavated soil was used for earthworks.

Within two months, the Japanese had a score of heavy anti-aircraft guns and as many light AA guns. Soon heavy gun installations appeared, some in the cliff walls.

By mid-August, the navy department said there were 10,000 Japanese in Attu and Kiska. Then, in September, when American fighters and bombers hit Kiska in the first mass raid, the enemy picked up eight large underground storage buildings and AA batteries, leaving nothing on Attu but rubbish.

Japs Worked Fast.

The navy department announced that Attu had been evacuated.

To the first pilots raiding Kiska thereafter, it was apparent what had happened. The gunfire was almost twice as heavy and certainly more aggressive. The Attu Japanese had arrived. This is the timetable:

Sept. 14—Thirty-nine planes raided Kiska.

Sept. 15-20—The Japanese had dug up stores and guns, and were in Kiska, firing.

Salvage Wrecked Cargo.

Lt. Major McWilliams, flying over Attu in November, found eight float type Zero planes storm wrecked on the beach. Some United States pilots volunteered to go in with seaplanes and return with the wrecked Zeros. They were told their chance of getting the Zeros into the air was not worth the gamble.

On Thanksgiving day planes found and wrecked a Jap cargo ship in Holtz bay. Two days later a group of bombers got heavy anti-aircraft fire from the shore installations, indicating that the Japanese had salvaged the cargo from the bombed ship and that Attu again had troops.

When the fighter strip was begun on Kiska at the beginning of this year Attu was reënforced. When work began on the Attu bomber strip, about March 1, with hand-cars and trucks and bulldozers, the garrison was stronger than ever.

He was placed on a milk diet and fed out of a bottle. Lt. Harry Fox was assigned to looking after his wants. The battery even issued a special press announcement over the private's arrival.

The announcement was careful to point out there was no relationship between Pvt. Fox and Lt. Fox, because the private is the battery's mascot, a 3 week old silver fox "recruited" during maneuvers near Kankakee by Staff Sergt. Clarence Nelson, Oxford, Wis.

WILDCAT PILOT BAGS 7 BOMBERS IN ONE BATTLE

A SOUTH PACIFIC BASE, April 21 (AP).—First Lt. J. E. Swett, marine corps pilot of Seattle, Wash., shot down seven Japanese divebombers—a record for one pilot in a single air action—during the heavy enemy attack April 7 on the Guadalcanal-Tulagi-Savo Island area.

A detailed account of Swett's exploit was contained in official reports released today by the headquarters of Adm. William F. Halsey Jr., commander in chief of United States forces in the South Pacific.

With his ammunition gone, his plane's windshield smashed, and the oil cooling system riddled, Swett finally glided his Grumman Wildcat fighter thru machine gun fire from American shore batteries to make a landing on the water. The heroic flyer was rescued and treated for minor facial injuries.

Three Others Cited.

Also cited in dispatches dealing with the raid by more than a hundred Japanese dive bombers and fighters were Capt. Thomas G. Lanphier of Detroit, leader of a flight of army Lightnings; Capt. J. R. Burnett, leader of an eight plane marine flight, and staff Sergt. Jack Pittman, junior wingman in Swett's four plane flight.

Lanphier's 4 Lightnings met 11 Japanese Zeros and downed 7 of them without suffering a single bullet hole.

At least 39 enemy planes were destroyed in the furious action. The outnumbered Americans lost seven planes. Pilots of six were rescued.

Lt. Swett moved in to the action under orders to intercept dive bombers headed for Tulagi. He led his flight against 15 Japanese planes at 14,000 feet. Swett and Pittman attacked a pair of bombers simultaneously. Swett's quarry burst into flames, while Pittman's, trailing a cloud of smoke, plummeted for the water.

Attacks Single-Handed.

Immediately Swett's three companions were engaged by Zeros, and the flight leader continued his attack on the dive bombers single-handed. The Japanese jettisoned their bombs as he dived upon them. Two burst into flames.

Swett pulled away to avoid the heavy anti-aircraft fire thrown up from the shore and from ships in the harbor, and streaked after a group of enemy bombers close to the water north of Florida Island.

In successive runs with his lone Wildcat, Swett accounted for four more enemy planes. Each went down flaming. His ammunition running low, the pilot engaged his final bomber of the day, and saw its rear gunner slump over his seat.

Eight Zeros Attacked.

A little later the Lightnings attacked eight Zeros that were engaging a three plane Wildcat patrol. Outmaneuvering and outperforming the enemy group, the Lightnings downed four Zeros in quick succession. Two enemy planes started for home, but both were brought down. The two remaining were probably destroyed.

Capt. Burnett's eight plane marine flight took on more than 48 dive bombers protected by Zeros. They attacked as the Japanese emerged from clouds. On the first pass Burnett sent one bomber down in flames.

While tackling six other planes Burnett's own Wildcat was put out of action. He parachuted to safety in waters off Cape Esperance, where he was rescued.

Downed in African Fight, Aurora Flyer Is Interned

Lt. Lyle J. Feltes, 21 years old, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph M. Feltes, 940 Grand avenue, Aurora, and pilot of a B-26 medium bomber forced down in action in North Africa, was reported by the war department yesterday to have been interned in a neutral country.

RAIDS ON KISKA STEPPED UP TO FIFTEEN IN DAY

Yanks Seek to Smash New Enemy Air Base.

Washington, D. C., April 21 (AP).—American airmen pounding Kiska have stepped up the fury of their attacks to 15 raids in a day, the navy announced today.

The need for results in the aerial offensive against the enemy outpost in the Aleutians was believed to result from evidence that the Japanese are about ready to finish converting the rocky island into an air base.

Not since the Japanese first moved into the western Aleutians last June have they been able to put into the air anything other than clumsy float type planes for combat purposes. Employment of Kiska as a base for efficient land types, both to attack American bases and to oppose American raids on Kiska, would greatly complicate the problems facing the American air command in the north Pacific.

15 Raids Is Record.

Dispatches in recent days have told of mounting enemy anti-aircraft resistance over the island and of steady progress on air base construction in the face of heavy bombings. The answer of the American command to this dogged persistence of the enemy to finish the base apparently is to destroy the works and workers more rapidly than they can be replaced.

The 15 raid day, a record breaker in Aleutians operations, was Monday. The tonnage of bombs dropped was not reported but must have been enormous, since on the previous day in only nine raids fighter planes alone dropped 34,000 pounds of explosives.

Raid Bases in Solomons.

In the South Pacific, the communique said, army, navy, and marine corps planes blasted a variety of enemy bases Monday and Tuesday, including the big base at Kieta on Bougainville Island. Bougainville had been attacked twice before, once by carrier based planes Oct. 5 and once by land based aircraft March 7, the latter action being directed against enemy ships in the harbor. Results of the latest foray were not reported.

OUSTER OF TWO IN FCC IS URGED BY HOUSE GROUP

Dodd and Watson Linked to Subversive Units.

BY WILLIAM MOORE.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., April 21.—Dismissal of William E. Dodd Jr. and Goodwin B. Watson from the government pay roll was recommended to the house today by a house appropriations subcommittee investigating charges that government employés have taken part in subversive activities.

W. E. Dodd Jr.

The subcommittee reported it had found insufficient evidence for recommending the dismissal of Dr. Frederick L. Schuman at this time.

Dodd Listed as Editor.

Dodd is the son of the late ambassador to Germany who was formerly chairman of the University of Chicago history department. He is assistant news editor of the FCC's foreign broadcast intelligence service at $3,200 a year.

Schuman, a former University of Chicago professor, is principal analyst in the German section of the analysis division of the same service at $5,600 a year.

The three were in a list of 40 employés of the government accused of subversive activities in a speech delivered in the house Feb. 1 by Rep. Martin Dies [D., Tex.], chairman of the house committee on un-American activities.

Ouster of All Asked.

There was a demand at that time that the house strike all 40 from the government pay roll by refusing to let government money be used to pay them, but the matter was referred for investigation to the subcommittee, headed by Rep. John H. Kerr [D., N. C.].

Members of Chairman Kerr's subcommittee are Representatives Albert Gore [D., Tenn.], Clinton P. Anderson [D., N. M.], D. Lane Powers [R., N. J.], and Frank B. Keefe [R., Wis.].

Dies accused many of those in his list of membership in Communist front organizations. The subcommittee acted after investigating the charges against the three FCC employés and hearing the employés' own testimony.

Explaining that "subversive" has not been defined by the courts or congress, the subcommittee reported that it had adopted this definition for its examination:

"Subversive activity in this country derives from conduct intentionally destructive of or inimical to the government of the United States—that which seeks to undermine its institutions, or to distort its functions, or to impede its projects, or to lessen its efforts, the ultimate end being to overrun it all. Such activity may be open and direct as by efforts to overthrow, or subtle and indirect as by sabotage."

Member of "Front" Groups.

The committee reported of Dodd that, by his own testimony:

"He was a member of the American League for Peace and Democracy and he resigned from that organization not because of its character, but 'to return to Virginia, to my farm, and to run for congress.' This organization was listed by the department of justice as a 'front organization,' and has been so found by the committee on un-American activities.

"Further, Dr. Dodd openly, and in the opinion of the committee definitely, admitted his long standing and continued membership in the Washington Bookshop, which he retains to this day. This organization has likewise been listed as a 'front organization' by the department of justice. Dr. Dodd testified that he knew the organization had been found to be subversive, but that he did not feel any obligation to resign his membership.

"He is, therefore, unfit for the present to continue in government employment."

The subcommittee found that Watson had admitted association or affiliation with 12 organizations which it said "the court of public opinion" had found subversive and un-American. Some of the organizations, the report said, have been found subversive by the department of justice, which has termed others "questionable."

They are the American League for Peace and Democracy, the American Committee for Democracy and Intellectual Freedom, the American Student union, the American Youth congress, the Conference on Pan-American Democracy, the Consumers' union, the Coördinating Committee to Lift the Embargo, the Descendants of American Revolution, the International Workers' order, the League of American Writers, the National Emergency Conference for Democratic Rights, and the Medical Bureau and North American Committee to Aid Spanish Democracy.

GRILL DAVIS ON NEWS DELAYS, PROPAGANDA

Calls Muddling of Tokio Story 'Unfortunate.'

BY JOHN FISHER.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., April 21.—Elmer Davis, director of the office of war information, today was subjected to a severe grilling by newspaper men at a unique press conference and later underwent the same treatment in an executive session with the senate judiciary committee, which is investigating the administration's control of war information.

The senators were silent but keenly interested spectators at the press conference, conducted for their observation, but later pursued the quizzing of the Indianan whose propaganda agency has been under heavy attack recently.

Sen. Frederick Van Nuys [D., Ind.], chairman of the committee, said "we hardly got started today" on questioning Davis and that he will be recalled soon by the committee.

No Facts or Truth Found.

Sen. Pat McCarran [D., Nev.] emerged from the session declaring that in his opinion the OWI "gives out neither facts, figures, nor truths." He asserted that "Davis has 2,600 employés who have put out 140,000 pamphlets at enormous expense that far exceeds the value of that agency, in my estimation." He said Davis admitted to the committee there were certain errors in the OWI pamphlet "Battle Stations" and he wished these errors had not gone out.

Davis' press conference was held simultaneously with the White House announcement on the Japanese executions of the Doolittle flyers, and he disclosed the information to the nearly 100 correspondents, but reporters were not allowed out of the conference, in the senate caucus room, until it ended more than an hour later.

Quizzed on News Delays.

The reporters sharply interrogated Davis about the OWI's delay in releasing important war stories, such as the raid on Japan, kept on ice more than a year, and the story of Pearl Harbor, withheld exactly one year.

Davis declared this will not be the usual policy but that in these instances the detailed reports had to be held up for reasons of security.

It was decided to release the Tokio raid story suddenly last night, with little advance notice, because the Japanese were coming out with a false version of the story, he said.

"With a phoney story coming along from the enemy it was considered advisable to get out our story as soon as possible," he added.

Tokio Story Muddled.

Reminded by reporters that the navy department was caught off guard on release of the Tokio raid story by the war department and was still censoring eyewitness accounts it had on file until early this morning, Davis replied that that was an "unfortunate occurrence but they were doing the best they could in a hurried situation."

Sen. Raymond E. Willis [R., Ind.] recalled today that Davis had ridiculed the senator's statement last October on the Doolittle raid, which was confirmed by the war department's official account.

"The complete story of the Tokio raid as well as the Pearl Harbor story given out last December give emphasis to the criticism I made last October at Bedford, Ind., that because of the tardy and incomplete statements finally released the people were becoming fearful that much greater losses were being withheld," said Willis.

Only the Enemy Deceived.

Davis said at the press conference that the early report of Secretary of the Navy Frank Knox and the report of the Roberts commission on the Pearl Harbor attack "were complete to the extent that they didn't give information to the enemy. Deception? Yes, but deception to the enemy."

He said the OWI endeavors to "get out as much news as we can and as soon as we can. Our reports and publications in the future, as in the past, will be based upon information and not ballyhoo."

He denounced as "completely misleading" the statement of resigned writers of the OWI that the agency was not putting out facts. He also renewed the controversy with Rubber Director William Jeffers over the OWI's rubber report, by declaring sharply that "Mr. Jeffers is part of the government but not all of it; he is in charge of rubber but it's our job to put out the facts to the public."

Denies It's Propaganda.

Davis also slurred the resolution by Sen. Robert A. Taft [R., O.] to require the OWI to file copy of all its propaganda material with the senate. He denied that the OWI is sending "propaganda" to American troops abroad, declaring "we send them news and special entertainment." The army will soon take over dissemination of news among troops, he said.

In his general delivery of denials and denunciations, Davis said that discussion of a "fourth term" "is a lot of hot air at this time on both sides. It hasn't reached the news stage yet."

Yanks Overseas Greet Home Folks Thru The Tribune on Easter Day

MEN IN EUROPE FROM CHICAGO HAIL HOME KIN

Service by The Tribune Praised by Officers.

BY LARRY RUE.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, April 21.—Have you a husband, a sweetheart, a son, brothers, or friends in the fighting services abroad? If so, you may rest assured that had they the facilities to communicate with you, you would receive almost daily messages and certainly would not be neglected at Easter, any more than at Christmas, New Year's, Thanksgiving, or any of the other anniversaries you have in common with them.

Complete messages would convey not only love, affection, and best wishes, but would be full of personal news and gossip of their every day life and experiences which, however, they are preciously saving to tell you when you meet again and thus even to increase the thrill of a reunion which they all hope will be soon.

All Remember Some One.

All the members of the fighting services whom The Tribune correspondent has met—and they range from generals down to buck privates—have disclosed there is some one back home who is always in their heart and mind.

So, THE TRIBUNE, just as it did at Christmas, is sending a representative cross section of greetings again for Easter which the fighting services here, as elsewhere, as a whole are extending to the folks at home.

Again the response was overwhelming to THE TRIBUNE'S invitation to convey greetings. There are still outlying places from which names have failed to arrive in time to be included in this message, but even without them the office staff has been swamped up to the last minute. One regular army colonel commended THE TRIBUNE for this "unique service" and suggested that other newspapers follow suit. He wrote to THE TRIBUNE:

"I feel that anything we can do for the men under our command in keeping up their morale is time well spent."

Wide Variety of Greetings.

The greetings vary from "happy, glorious Easter" to "Mom," or to brother, sister, and sweetheart, many of them identified by pet names or amplified by "to all" or "to the whole gang" or just "the best to everybody."

Many contrasted Easter here with what it used to be back home. Lt. John G. Williams of Evanston, Ill., told his mother: "I'll miss the egg rolling—powdered eggs don't roll." Corp. Joseph Pryce, of Sheboygan, Wis., sent this greeting: "Happy Easter with no dried eggs." That sentiment was echoed by Staff Sergt. Robert H. Shultz of Freeport, Ill., who wrote: "Happy Easter to all and lots of Easter eggs, not powdered."

"Hi, Mom; Hi, Pop; it's a great fight!" Kenneth G. Bengston of Goldfield, Ia., commented, and Col. Morrow Krum of Chicago, public relations officer for the United States army in the European theater of operations, greeted: "Hi, Mike; Hi, Mom; hi-de-hi!"

Counts on "Trib."

Maj. Brooks Watson of Peoria, Ill., told his wife and parents: "The good old 'Trib' used my names in the Christmas gag. But I'm an optimist, so Happy Easter."

Pvt. Paul R. Boots of Cedar Rapids, Ia., suggested: "Please wire fare home. Love."

Staff Sergt. Philip F. Gaffney of Madison, Wis., wanted "Mom, Dad, Mary, and Jean" to "keep up your morale," and Pvt. Frank Pelc of Chicago, sent "best wishes to a swell lady."

Altho weather news is taboo, Pvt. Ferdinand Grindle of Marion, Ind., expressed a common feeling when he wrote: "Spring fever—feel great."

Maj. Robert Bruskin of Falls Church, Va., sends greetings to his former newspaper colleagues in the county building and at the City News bureau in Chicago.

Altho THE TRIBUNE attempted to confine its list to Chicagoland, this was extremely difficult. One meets persons who are fighting side by side with Chicagoans on Flying Fortresses, Liberators, or other bombers, and others in the navy from every state in the union, and their common experiences make it embarrassing to draw a sharp line of distinction. Among those to whom the Tribune correspondent here would particularly like to convey a message of greeting are Mr. and Mrs. Wilsey, 3502 Legation street, Washington, D. C., and her husband.

> The struggle for freedom of speech has marched hand in hand in the advance of civilization with the struggle for other great human liberties. History teaches that human liberty cannot be secured unless there is freedom to express grievances.—Illinois Supreme court.

THE BEGINNING OF A BAD PEACE.

The senate has a proposal before it to examine now the intentions and agreements, if any, of the allied nations regarding the peace. The senate must ratify treaties unless the administration can jump that barrier by using a joint resolution in the two houses to avoid the two-thirds requirement in one. The senate is also constitutionally privileged to advise as well as required to consent or not consent. Advice has been virtually a dead letter. It is proposed to give it life.

One objection made to any investigation of facts or any preliminary study of terms is that such procedure will let evil genii out of the bottle, break down the unity of the allied effort and impede the prosecution of the war. From that it is to be inferred that it would be harder to win a victory now if it were generally known what some of the nations intend to do with victory when they have it. It is urged as a practical consideration that whatever damage is done should be done not to the war but to the peace, that is, to the efforts to prevent another war.

Unfortunately there seems to be little doubt that practices and pretenses are far apart and are not narrowing their distance. The question is do you want to discover the facts now or allow them to explode in the peace conference? Most of the governments do not want to explode them now.

The Poles know their predicament. Russia is their enemy and not their ally. They fear they have been abandoned to Stalin by the United States and Great Britain. Great Britain has a 20 year treaty with Russia for the reconstruction of Europe after the war. The understanding, according to the scant explanation of it given out, contemplates that the United States may not want a part of these peace arrangements. Apparently Mr. Eden in his recent visit was assured that Mr. Roosevelt will raise no objections to the program. The suggestion is that Mr. Roosevelt and Mr. Churchill will give Stalin at least as much of Poland as Hitler gave him in 1939, when both Nazis and Communists attacked the country and divided it.

Has it been forgotten that the primary cause of the present war was an attack on the territorial integrity of Poland?

The agreement of Aug. 25, 1939, between the United Kingdom and Poland, the security pact binding England to enter the war, is still in effect. It applies against any aggressor. Russia was an aggressor. The treaty accepted the Polish boundaries as they were then. If they are wrong now they were wrong then. The treaty guaranteed them.

Poland has often been a nation without a country. The Russo-German division of it in 1939 was its fourth partition. The treaty of Versailles restored it from the condition in which the congress of Vienna left it. Once a great country geographically, it has disappeared and reappeared. Naturally its problem of minorities is almost insoluble. This time Russia has predetermined what is to be done. It has declared its inflexible purpose to annex the portions it desires. That arrangement, already embodied in the soviet constitution, has been accepted by Great Britain and there is no evidence of a protest by the United States.

The Poles might as well be at war with Russia. Their people in large numbers are prisoners of the soviets. The Polish government in London cannot learn what is being done to them. Two Polish patriots have been executed. The Poles are aware that they are regarded as expendable in the coming peace. Already it is understood, probably definitely agreed, that Russia is entitled to the full profits of the expansion begun by Peter the Great and to all the territory held under Nicholas II. We know what is in store for the Baltic states and for Finland.

Regardless of these prospects the war must be fought to the end. We must aid Russia with everything we can give. The conditions may be hard, but there is no alternative even if we must betray our own intentions. At the same time we might better inform than deceive ourselves and our European friends might as well know now that their peace will receive a poor public reception in the United States. Mr. Churchill should know now if he doesn't already have it in mind that the peace treaty may not get thru the United States senate. That's fair warning. The average citizen here has believed nearly all he has been told of the good to follow the war. Sympathies will turn to the newly oppressed countries who were to have shared in the freedoms. Hypocrisies will be hard to swallow.

Let's not have the United States held responsible for what happens to another peace which falsifies its purposes.

AT MONTERREY.

Mr. Roosevelt's trip to Monterrey gave him and President Camacho of Mexico the opportunity to utter what, in speechmaking circles, are described as a few felicitous remarks. Relations between the two countries are now good and the task was, therefore, an easy one for both participants. There is no room to doubt that on both sides of the border every one hopes that the good feeling persists.

Everything is rosy now because the United States is pouring money and materials into Mexico and nobody is bothering about repayment in cash or in kind. We have recently undertaken, for example, to rehabilitate the Mexican railroads at our expense. The troublesome question of immigration does not exist at a time when we are eager to receive as many Mexican agricultural workers as can be persuaded to come and get the prevailingly high wages available here.

But what happens after the golden stream dries up as some day it presumably must? Unfortunately, neither Mr. Roosevelt nor Mr. Camacho had anything to offer on this point. When relations are returned to a normal basis of give and take in approximately equal amounts will the warm friendship persist? The speakers gave no indication that they are aware of this problem and were attempting to find a solution for it.

JEFFERS VS. DAVIS.

William M. Jeffers, the rubber director, has expressed his contempt for the office of war information. Elmer Davis has replied by expressing his contempt for Mr. Jeffers and his outfit. Each man charges the other with wilful misrepresentation. Mr. Davis stands by a report he put out a few days ago, saying that the great mass of motorists cannot expect to have new tires made of synthetic rubber before the latter part of next year and that further reductions in mileage are needed. Mr. Jeffers says that Mr. Davis has been guilty of spreading "stale, inaccurate, and confusing" information, calculated to cause undue alarm among the people.

Each man claims the exclusive right to inform the public on the progress of the rubber program, and if that were all there were to the quarrel it could be written down as a tempest in a teapot. In fact, the conflict goes far beyond that, and the Gillette committee has wisely decided to examine the matter. Mr. Jeffers says that the director of the office of war information is misinforming the American people and scaring them needlessly. Mr. Davis says that the director of the rubber program is deliberately seeking to build up expectations that cannot be realized.

Each is in a position to know what he's talking about, and what each of them says is not only insulting to the other but a grave reflection upon the administration itself. The most favorable interpretation that can be placed upon Mr. Davis' words is that in his considered judgment Mr. Roosevelt has in Mr. Jeffers a rubber administrator who doesn't know what's going on in his own agency. The most favorable interpretation that can be placed upon Mr. Jeffers' position is that Mr. Roosevelt has an office of war information composed of cranks and nitwits who are undeserving of a moment's attention.

Perhaps Mr. Roosevelt will be content to let matters rest there and allow the reflections of both men upon their chief's competence to stand.

GRADE LABELING.

Radicals inside the New Deal and out have been trying for 10 years to get congress to pass a law destroying the advantage which old established concerns had won by fair dealing and publicizing of their trade names. The radicals sought to accomplish this by the very clever method of requiring products to be labeled, showing grading in an arbitrary government rating scale. Congress has repeatedly refused to pass such an act. The reasons seem evident.

Who can apply a useful objective to tomato soup, corned beef hash, baked beans, or even cantaloupes which can enable the consumer to get just what he wants? Products, it is true, vary in color, size, shape, and weight, to mention a few bases for grading, but these do not give a burocrat or any one else a basis for judging quality. Products that would be graded alike differ much in flavor, aroma, tenderness, nutritional qualities, and adaptability for specialized uses.

The housewife by experimenting finds the brand that meets her individual requirements and sticks with it. She knows from experience what the can will contain. Manufacturers place such a high value upon continued patronage that they exercise the greatest care in keeping quality uniform. Consumers under the existing system are able to rely upon trade marks to an extent that they couldn't possibly rely upon a certificate of quality from some government department.

Despite the fact that congress has repeatedly rejected the official grading scheme, radicals in the OPA, holdovers from the discredited Henderson régime, are stubbornly trying to bring that about. The method that is being used is similar to that followed in the $25,000 salary limitation fiasco. The President in that incident asked congress for the authority and the authority was denied him. Mr. Roosevelt thereupon issued an order placing a ceiling on salaries. The order stuck until congress found a way to void his order. That method was the attaching of a rider to a bill he didn't dare veto.

The same method is available to congress if OPA defies it and carries the grading scheme into effect. The appropriation bill for OPA is still in congress. A rider can be attached to it.

Editorial of the Day

[Daily Oklahoman, Oklahoma City.]

Of all the orators of these parlous times there are only two whose eloquence has a hemispheric appeal. With the exception of Mr. Churchill and Mme. Chiang the orators of 1943 are merely competitors with the purveyors of perfumery, and cereals, and vitamins.

How loud and commanding would Daniel Webster's thunder have been if when he was replying to Hayne he had been compelled to sift his oratory thru a sieve of advertising interpolations? If Webster were attempting to overwhelm Hayne under modern conditions his Demosthenean offering would ring out thusly:

Interpolation: "This broadcast is sponsored by Doozenberry, the manufacturer of Doozenberry's Rookus juice. And now Mr. Webster."

Webster. "When my eyes shall be turned for the last time to behold the sun in heaven, may I not see him shining on the broken and dishonored fragments of a once glorious union. But I'll be back in exactly 30 seconds. Meanwhile a word from your announcer."

Interpolation. "Do you have dizziness and griping pains when you awake in the morning? Seven bottles of Doozenberry's Rookus juice will make you dream of Clark Gable and Cleopatra. Buy a bottle today at your nearest drug store."

Webster. "Let their last feeble and lingering glance rather behold the gorgeous ensign of the republic, now known and honored thruout the earth, still full high advanced, not a stripe erased or polluted, not a single star obscured."

Webster. ". . . blazing on all its ample folds as they float over the sea and over the land, and in every wind under the whole heavens, that other sentiment dear to every true American heart — liberty and union, now and forever, one and inseparable."

Interpolation. "Darling, I am so worried. Don't you think . . . ?"

No wonder that Webster reached such dizzy heights. Rather it is little wonder that none of his successors is able to climb so high. What chance has flag or Constitution when they must perforce compete with beauty hints, advice to the lovelorn, and guaranteed cures for congenital bunions?

CHICAGO'S OLD MASTER.

In 1855 Mayor Ogden, an accomplished city boomer, said to an artist named Healy who had been painting crowned heads in Europe, "Come out to Chicago, which is thirsty for culture and growing like the green bay tree; come and do portraits of the prominent citizens and get rich quick." Healy thought that this might be a pleasant change from the court of Louis Philippe. He came, saw, and conquered, and so you may find at the Historical society's museum, beginning next week, an exhibition of 55 rare old Healys, depicting the extinct race of Chicagoans whom Ernest Poole called "giants gone."

* * *

Paintings by Healy are abundant, and he seems to have been the most prolific portraitist of his generation. When he came to Chicago, aged 42, he had already spent 20 years in European practice, principally in Paris and London. He "did" Marshal Soult, a Napoleonic hangover; King Louis Philippe of France, and a slather of American Presidents. On royal commission he painted a George Washington for the galleries of Versailles. All this was high flying for a plain Boston boy who had started without impressive social backing.

* * *

Healy's series of American Presidents was painted for the Corcoran gallery in Washington. They cover the succession from John Quincy Adams to Grant; final score, 13. Half-tone cuts of five—Tyler, Polk, Taylor, Fillmore, and Pierce—may be found in the Britannica, vol. 22, page 788, plate VII., and they are fine examples of Presidential portraiture.

* * *

From 1855 to 1870 Healy was a complete Chicagoan. He had a home and studio on the near north side, and so may be called our first Greenwich Villager. He was active as an organizer of art movements and exhibitions, and helped to found the first ambitious art school, called the Academy of Design. In 1861 the 37th Illinois infantry marched to war with a banner painted by Healy. This regiment was called the Fremont Rifles, and its blue silk flag had a portrait of Gen. Fremont on one side and three scenes from his career on the other.

* * *

Healy left Chicago before the great fire of 1871, but returned in old age and died here in 1894. He is probably buried in Graceland cemetery, for when it was founded in 1861 he was on its board of managers.

THE ACOLYTE.

Recessional, and then the church stands dim,
Lighted by altar candles, tall and white.
While kneeling worshipers, still, silent, gaze
Upon that altar, I see only him,
My well-beloved son,
And thru a maze
Of tears I watch, as reverent, one by one,
He snuffs the candles' brightness into night.

In after years, when he is far away
And other boys fulfill the holy task,
In memory I still can see him there.
Then, reverently, I kneel
And softly pray,
While love and longing deep within me steal,
God, only keep him safe within Thy care.
This is my prayer, O, God, all that I ask.
Sa Mère.

The First Lady of Wilmette.

If your house is in a tract of land roughly bounded by Central street, Evanston; the North Western railroad, the south line of Kenilworth, and Lake Michigan, then you live in the Ouilmette reservation. Antoine Ouilmette, a thrifty French trader, married a Potawatomi Indian by the name of Archange. Antoine was not only thrifty but shrewd. Having married an Indian woman, he was qualified to represent the whites as well as the Indians in any trading, seeing to it that Antoine was taken care of in the bargain.

He was on hand at Prairie du Chien when, by agreement or treaty with the Potawatomis, a large tract of land was ceded to the whites. As a part of the agreement, Archange Ouilmette received two sections of land bounded as above and comprising 1,280 acres, or two sections, and known to early settlers as the Ouilmette reservation.

The village of Wilmette derives its name from the French name Ouilmette. If you have access to an abstract covering a parcel of ground in Wilmette or the north part of Evanston, you will find a conveyance signed by the heirs of Antoine and Archange Ouilmette. Some of the heirs signed by making "their mark."

One of the provisions of the grant to Archange was that neither Archange nor her heirs could sell said lands without the consent of the President of the United States. By petition, dated Feb. 22, 1844, we find seven of the children of Archange asking the President of the United States to purchase the land at a price of $1.25 per acre. The names of John Kinzie, Congressman John Wentworth, President John Tyler, M. L. Marcy, secretary of war; President James K. Polk, and U. S. Grant appear in the records.

The south half of the reservation was sold to speculators for $1.50 per acre and the north half was sold in parcels for a larger sum.

DOMESTIC SCIENCE.

Every night is Thursday night in our house;
Our hired girl has left us, sure enough;
She's gone to making guns,
And if she makes 'em like her buns,
The enemy will find the going tough.

So Mama does the cooking now in our house,
And even Daddy's trying to learn how,
And we children scour the pans
And help to salvage all the cans,
For every dinner's Thursday dinner now.
Tumbleweed.

REST AND GOOD NURSING IN CORONARY ACCIDENTS.

CASES of heart disease have more than doubled in the last 40 years. One reason lies in the fact that, on the average, people live longer. The principal cause, however, is probably the stress and strain of modern life. We are so intense. We conduct our affairs at such a strenuous pace.

One of the main factors is hardening of the arteries involving particularly the vessels which supply the cardiac organ itself — the coronaries. Narrowed to the point where they are unable to transport nutriment to the pumping fibers, there may come a time when a channel will be blocked so that the tissues ordinarily fed will be deprived of nourishment.

We are all familiar with the typical signs. Pain in the region of the chest or the pit of the stomach is complained of and, unless one is alert, the source may be assumed to be indigestion. But this is really a critical stage and any type of distress in this area which persists for more than a half hour demands bed rest.

It is well to recall that the figurative dam may not shut off circulation abruptly. Several hours, days, or weeks may elapse before the process is complete. Thus anything that can be done in the meantime to prevent blood from clotting will be of benefit. Certain chemicals will delay coagulation. One such substance, obtained from spoiled sweet clover [dicoumiran], may be given over periods of from three to four weeks. By such means we may ward off a serious, even fatal illness.

But despite everything the barrier may form. If the obstruction is sizable, we may be faced with a fight for life. The "pump" must be spared every effort. This demands absolute quiet, and the administration of oxygen by nasal catheter. For the first few days the patient should not even feed himself. What about relief for the terrible pain that comes, with the patient struggling to find a comfortable position? These individuals can stand repeated doses of morphine.

The victim must adopt a "don't care" attitude. Apprehension can be banished. Sedatives will accomplish these objectives by inducing a state of drowsiness. Strange to relate, alcohol will be of value. Capillaries in the skin will dilate under its influence and relaxation may follow its use. As we would expect, coffee, tea, and tobacco cannot be allowed.

A starvation diet, designed to decrease digestive activity, is the rule. It may be confined to liquids for the first few days—milk or thin soups. The tissues must not be waterlogged or the blood vessels overfilled. The total intake should not exceed 50 ounces in 24 hours. Within a day or two the menu may be reinforced with custards, cooked cereals, stewed fruits, and pureéd vegetables. Bowel function must be regulated so that straining at stool will be unnecessary.

Good nursing is essential. There is so much shock to the system that a resourceful nurse may be able to save the day. With the skin cold and clammy, the respirations rapid and shallow, the countenance gray, intelligent care will bring reassurance and aid recovery.

SKIN REACTION.

W. G. writes: If the face of a nervous person breaks out in purplish red blotches, does this indicate high blood pressure?

REPLY.

KEEPING UP WITH WIFIE.

T. W. R. writes: Is there anything I can do to acquire gray hair? My wife has it, and it makes me feel out of place.

REPLY.

Keep on worrying and it will soon match. Why not powder your locks, as did our colonial ancestors?

INVITING INFLATION.

Austin, Tex., April 15.—President Roosevelt once said that he had studied economics in college, but found that everything he had learned was no longer true. Apparently he and his bright young men, who have developed such a beautifully insolvent economy, are still of the same opinion. For while almost daily reiterating their boundless faith in democracy, freedom and the American way of life, they continue to create those conditions in this country which, in all other times and countries, have destroyed whatever governments permitted them to develop.

The present government desire to subsidize everything is a case in point. Of course, subsidy destroys the independence of whatever industry receives it, and once the subsidy is begun no part of an industry can remain independent by refusing the subsidy. It could not compete with the remainder benefitted by subsidy. Therefore it can be suspected that the motive behind subsidy is as much political as economic, especially in the case of newspapers.

However, the economic principle involved in such subsidies is as unsound as the political motive is pernicious. Since the budget is not balanced—hasn't been in over 10 years—the subsidies must be paid by deficit financing. Part of the cost of goods is paid by subsidy, resulting in lower cost to the public and a corresponding increase in the national debt, all being a delightful arrangement of the Keynes-Lasky-New Deal idea that the debt doesn't matter, we just owe it to ourselves.

In all the talk about inflation, its most dangerous aspect is seldom mentioned — its deliberate use to default debt. The method of such default is relatively simple. The government, having the power to regulate money, simply pays its obligations in dollars as promised, the value of the printing-press dollars becoming almost nothing.

If we are so foolish as to accumulate a debt three or four times our annual income, is there any one who doubts it would sooner or later be defaulted? The staggering interest burden alone would be sufficient cause for the future to reject responsibility for such past folly. MRS. D. L. EVANS.

"JUST PLAIN SNOOPY."

Prophetstown, Ill., April 10.—I have just finished helping my husband fill out his questionnaire for the draft reclassification. He is a farmer and has been all his life. The part about crops raised, etc., is probably necessary to show whether a farmer is valuable enough to be deferred, but the rest is sheer nonsense. Here is one question—"List below all members of your employer's family [including in-laws] who live away from the farm." Also for each of the above you are supposed to list the following: "Age, occupation, farm experience, physical condition."

I think a lot of the questions are just plain snoopy. The government wants to find out everybody's affairs so that they can order our lives according to their own plan.
MRS. EMIL M. HINTZ.

WHO HAS THE BONDS?

Chicago, April 15.—As a government employé, I purchased five bonds, one a month, the first one completely paid for Aug. 1 of last year, and to date I have not received one of these bonds, eight and a half months later.
THOROLY DISGUSTED.

DEFENSE OF DEFAUW.

Chicago, April 19.—As music critic of THE TRIBUNE, it is of course Miss Cassidy's duty to criticize a concert unfavorably if that happens to be her honest opinion.

But was it necessary or at all just to be abusive in her criticism of the concert of the Chicago Symphony, conducted by Mr. Defauw, last Saturday?
MARGARET B. CONOVER.

Chicago, April 19.—Claudia Cassidy's article on Sunday entitled "Second Rate Concert by First Rate Orchestra" seems to me to have been in the worst possible taste and her remarks were utterly uncalled for from any point of view. The short concert at which contributors to the orchestra were guests was not supposed to be an important concert. It was simply a very generous and gracious gesture on the part of Mr. Defauw and the men in the orchestra, and they gave an hour of exquisite enjoyment to a great many people in the audience. Claudia Cassidy's remarks were a direct insult to the trustees of the Orchestral association who chose Mr. Defaux as next year's conductor for the orchestra. But does any one imagine that they took this step without first ascertaining whether or not he was acceptable to the majority of the men in the orchestra? And, if he is the choice of the men in the orchestra, why should they refuse to give him the best that they have to give?
ASHAMED CHICAGOAN.

GAS REFUNDS.

Chicago, April 15.—I believe the gas company would be a hero in the eyes of the public if it would retract a statement made in THE TRIBUNE on Friday, April 9, 1943, pertaining to a gas refund. The statement was that $70,364 was given to charity, which is all well and good, and that "a small fund is still maintained for subscribers who have not yet claimed refunds." We happen to be one of those subscribers who were not notified of the refund and upon writing the gas company on two occasions, when we finally did learn of the rebate, we were told that no refund was due us inasmuch as we didn't file a claim by a prescribed date. Now, to whom is the gas company referring when it states that "a small fund is still maintained for subscribers who have not yet claimed refunds"?

THEY WANT IT FREE.

Chicago, April 19.—"Freedom of Religion" is a beautiful sentiment, but I for one am inclined to agree that there isn't much sense in keeping up fine churches for the many who never support them. Many people, some well to do, go to church once or twice a year, put a dime in the collection, and expect to find everything up to snuff—grand sermon, wonderful choir, good music, etc. The actual work of keeping up the fine front is left to a few faithful ones who nearly work themselves to death to keep things going.

PLANES FOR MacARTHUR.

Chicago, April 19.—Bloodshot eyes scanned the skies of Bataan and Corregidor searching for an answer to the query "When are the planes coming?" We at home never heard the call until long after quiet prevailed in the Philippines. We mused, "If we had only known, we would have sent those planes."

Another call came from MacArthur in the South Pacific. This time it was so strong that we all heard it. Our conscience stirred and we asked ourselves, "What can we do?" Days went into weeks and we, the people who want to stand behind the men at the front, were still toying with the question, "What can we do?"

The answer came in yesterday's Voice of the People. Helen E. Holzbach suggests a bond drive with the slogan "Planes for MacArthur."

A thousand faces on Bataan and the South Pacific are challenging us. For God's sake let's do it.

TUSKEGEE FLYERS.

Hammond, Ind., April 19.—THE TRIBUNE of April 16 carried a very significant editorial entitled "Tuskegee Flyers." This paper is to be commended for its broad stand in demanding that these well trained airmen be given an opportunity of showing their worth to our fighting forces. The general public is getting out of patience with those who let their petty race and religious peeves stand in the way of using all of our man power to bring this war to a successful conclusion.
DENNIS A. BETHEA.

SADDER AND WISER.

Chicago, April 19.—Now that labor has been frozen, we can expect to hear a great many more voices sound off just as Victor Olander and Harry F. O'Reilly are now doing. To both of them I say: During the last few elections, while you were still under the spell of the radio voice, you went on record as supporting the great humanitarian and labor's good friend. Now you are beginning to understand just what a double-cross is. GEORGE R. CHESTER.

GREEN'S BUDGET ACHIEVES A NEW HIGH FOR DETAIL

Offers Full Explanations on Spending Plans.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Springfield, Ill., April 21.—A departure in Illinois fiscal planning is inherent in the massive budget document presented by Gov. Dwight H. Green to the legislature today.

The departure lies in the presentation of what was called the most detailed and complete examination of prospective revenue and planned spending ever to come before the legislature. Nearly every conceivable breakdown of figures is offered in the analysis.

One legislator hefted the 2 pound 11½ ounce volume this afternoon after an initial study of it and remarked:

Nearly 2 Years of Work.

Virtually two full years of work have gone into preparation of the budget. The administration was faced with the prospect of having increased administrative costs, higher salaries and a wartime economy eat up savings which could be expected from decreases in relief and normal construction. The problem was one of holding unavoidable increases in expenditures within narrow bounds, to salvage as much as possible of the total savings.

Revenue estimates contained in a 66-page section show that declines may be expected. At the same time, budget planners sought to insure a post-war balance. To meet a decline in revenue and maintain a surplus called for a balanced budget within prospective income, and that meant a lower budget which, paradoxically, would raise salaries and increase state services.

Planners found it necessary to take advantage of every feasible expenditure cut. In the general revenue recommended appropriations, which are 11½ million dollars under the total available in that bracket for the current biennium, welfare purpose funds were slashed deeply by a prospective saving in direct relief grants.

30 Million Relief Grants.

The new budget calls for state relief grants to local governments of $30,600,000, as compared with $52,279,941 appropriated for the first two fiscal years of the Green administration. This saving was offset in great measure, however, in the same welfare category by increases of approximately $10,000,000 in old age assistance and aid to dependent children.

Total proposed welfare expenditures are $158,061,688, compared to $166,437,716 available appropriations this biennium. This means a saving of approximately $8,000,000 in the new budget.

The general government section in the general funds tabulation shows an increase in nearly every executive and departmental office, but total planned appropriations for general government run more than 2 million dollars less than the amount available this biennium. Cuts of more than 3 million dollars in miscellaneous appropriations are responsible.

Roads Funds Reduced.

In the special reserved state funds, where the total decrease in proposed moneys for the coming biennium runs to nearly 45 million dollars, the largest cuts are to be found in the roads funds and the motor fuel tax funds.

Budget recommendations for the roads funds are $64,503,354, compared to available appropriations for this biennium of $90,620,338. Highway maintenance costs in this section are estimated 1½ million more. The amount for highway construction is cut more than 25 million dollars.

Budget recommendations for motor fuel tax funds total $72,176,090, compared to a total of $93,054,157 available for this biennium. County allotments are cut some 9 million dollars and city allotments are slashed more than 4 millions within this bracket to bring the total down. In addition, highway construction funds from motor fuel tax funds are cut more than 4 million dollars. Totals for both highway purpose funds show that $183,674,495 was the total appropriated for this biennium, compared to $136,679,444 budget for the biennium opening July 1.

Other Reductions Shown.

University income fund [total educational purposes fund], $4,885,084, compared to a total available for this biennium of $10,825,335; teachers' college income fund, $625,084, compared to $1,300,000; agricultural premium fund, $853,540, compared to $1,272,099.

The accompanying table is an example of what has been termed the "fairness" of the budget presentation. In the recapitulation, as in the breakdowns, budget recommendations are compared with total amounts available for the current biennium.

Broken down into the two fund divisions, the figures show that prospective spending in the general funds is more than 11 million dollars under the amount available in that classification for this biennium, and the same yardstick applied to special funds shows a difference of $44,764,507 for a total reduction of $56,198,646.

The reason for this drastic slashing of proposed expenditures, in addition to Gov. Green's initial promise of economy in state government, is outlined in the special section of the budget regarding probable declines in state revenues over the next two years—assuming that war continues thruout the biennium.

The budget breaks down estimated declines in detail for all the major sources of state revenue. It is the consensus of a board of fiscal experts who have been working with Gov. Green's budget staff over the last several months.

Included on the committee are James L. Palmer, vice president, Marshall Field & Co.; John W. Miller, director of economic research, Montgomery Ward & Co.; John K. Langum, assistant vice president, Federal Reserve Bank of Chicago; Neil H. Jacoby, secretary of the University of Chicago; George W. Mitchell, director of research of the Illinois tax commission, and Joseph W. Huston, Simon Stickgold, and Maurice Criz of the department of finance.

Allow for Pay Increases.

The committee's figures, computed on a probability basis, have been used in every case except two—the estimated potential revenues from motor fuel tax and road funds. In these two cases the division of highways estimates were lower than those of the committee and were utilized as a conservative measure.

In the face of these declines, the detailed 1943-'45 budget makes allowances for the program of job reclassification and salary increases from general funds.

Increased state services also have been allowed. A principal example is the expansion of the division of local health administration in the department of public health, where an increase in proposed expenditures of nearly half a million dollars is listed.

Old Age Aid Increases.

Also notable among the increases are those for aid to dependent children and old age assistance, and in the school distributive fund. In the latter case, increases are allowed for all vocational work which affects war veterans, and an additional 1½ millions is to be appropriated for an increase in school aid on an equalization grant basis for the benefit of schools thruout the state which are particularly hard hit during the war.

The budget detail includes a breakdown into the new job classifications for each department, with the recommended number of employés in each classification and the salary scales for the various classifications listed.

Table Gives Budget Comparisons

The summary comparison of the 1943 state budget with the 1941-'43 appropriations, broken down into the two principal fund classifications, shows:

Item—	General funds.	Special funds.	Total.

BY JOHNSON KANADY.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Springfield, Ill., April 21.—Sen. Simon Lantz [R., Congerville] today asked that the senate table his two bills which would have transferred administration of the grade A milk laws and the pasteurized milk act from the department of public health to the department of agriculture. The chamber complied with his request.

It was understood that Howard Leonard, department of agriculture director, asked that the bills be withdrawn because of widespread opposition to the move.

Sen. Richard J. Barr [R., Joliet] failed in an attempt to bring to a vote his bill to extend judges' pension benefits to widows of judges. Barr amended the bill this morning to provide that judges who wish to participate in the widows' pension plan must pay a total of 4 per cent of their salaries into the fund.

The amendment was adopted, but when Barr tried to call the bill this afternoon a technical objection was raised to the effect that the amendment had not yet been printed.

MOVE TO RELAX STATE DIVORCE RULES IS KILLED

HouseStrikesArmstrong Bill's Enacting Clause.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Springfield, Ill., April 21.—In the first such action of the session, the house today killed a bill by striking the enacting clause before the measure had reached passage stage. It was the Armstrong bill which would make two years of voluntary separation an added ground for divorce.

Rep. Stanley C. Armstrong [R., Chicago], sponsor of the bill, was not heard before the bill was defeated by a standing vote of 96 to 2. He said he was trying to get the attention of the speaker when the vote was taken.

An assault upon the measure followed the receipt by house members of a pamphlet published by the Catholic Welfare Society of Illinois, charging that the bill would encourage "trial marriages" and "free love."

Seek to Curb Adultery.

Armstrong and a majority of the lawyers who are members of the house judiciary committee had contended that the bill would discourage adultery, which they said is a common practice where separated mates cannot obtain divorces.

"This bill is the most serious of the session," said Rep. T. J. Sullivan [D., Springfield]. "We ought to kill and assassinate it. It strikes at the foundation of civilization, church, and government."

Later the house committee on judicial practice voted 12 to 0 to recommend passage of the Thon anti-perjury bill. This measure would make persons who give testimony of one type before the grand jury and contradictory testimony in court presumptively guilty of perjury. The burden of proof of innocence would be upon the defendant.

Chicagoan Fights Bill.

John Gallagher, an assistant of State's Atty. Thomas J. Courtney of Cook county, said that similar legislation is on the books in New York, Louisiana, Utah, South Dakota, and California. He urged that Illinois follow suit.

Charles Liebman, Chicago attorney who is a member of the board of directors of the Chicago civil liberties committee, opposed the bill, saying:

"The bill makes it virtually impossible to get a man to tell the truth in court once he has told a falsehood to the grand jury. I sympathize with the purpose, but the matter should be studied by professors in the law schools to guard the people's rights."

REVAMP SOCIAL SECURITY PLAN TO BOOST TAX

Board Member Discloses F. D. R. Program Here.

Changes in the social security law providing that employers pay 5 per cent of their pay rolls and employés 5 per cent of their wages are under consideration in Washington, D. C., with President Roosevelt's guidance, it was disclosed yesterday by George Edmund Bigge, Republican member of the social security board.

Mr. Bigge, former head of the economics department at Brown university, Providence, R. I., who joined the social security board in 1937, spoke at a meeting of the Chicago Association of Commerce in the Palmer House. He said the new program of expanded social security was designed to meet expected broad post-war unemployment.

Present System to Be Revised.

He then explained:

"Under the present law employers pay the full cost of unemployment compensation, 3 per cent of pay rolls. The cost of old age and survivors' insurance is shared equally by workers and employers, 1 per cent each at present, rising to 3 per cent each in 1949. Thus the full rate under the present act will be 6 per cent on employers and 3 per cent on employés, a total of 9 per cent.

"The board, with the President's approval, recommends that all of the insurance provision be combined in a single unified program and financed by a single contribution shared equally by employers and workers. The rate would be 5 per cent each, or possibly 6. This rate would not increase with the passage of time, as it does under the present act."

Payments to Increase.

Such a program, Bigge said, was what President Roosevelt had in mind when last year in his message on the state of the nation, he urged congress to change the law. Under the present law, employer payments next Jan. 1, would go up to 5 per cent and worker payments to 2 per cent. These payments would each increase 1 per cent in 1949, bringing them to the 6 per cent and 3 per cent the speaker referred to as the ultimate payments under the present law.

"The present social security programs provide a certain amount of insurance against the hazards of economic life and serve to cushion the effects of bad times." Bigge continued. "They do not, however, offer much hope that they will prove adequate to the problems of the post-war world.

"To meet these problems, the social security board is recommending that unemployment compensation be put on a national basis."

SEABEES AGAIN OPEN ROLLS TO MEN OF 17 TO 50

Voluntary enlistment in the navy's construction battalions, known as the Seabees, has been reopened to men 17 to 50 years old who have experience in any of the building trades, heavy construction, mining, electricity, and automotive mechanics. The volunteers are needed to build and maintain overseas bases.

Volunteers for the Seabees do not need to await induction by their local draft boards, but may go to the naval recruiting station at 326 Plymouth court for physical examination and qualification tests. If qualified, the volunteer then will be processed thru his draft board. Volunteers must be able to pass the navy's physical examination with the exception that color perception is waived.

Seabees are sent to Camp Peary, Williamsburg, Va., for eight weeks of basic military training which includes commando drill and the use of firearms. Recruits then are sent to either Gulfport, Miss., or Davisville, R. I., for four weeks of advanced training before being sent overseas.

[TRIBUNE Photo.]

Identifies Suspects in Extortion Racket.

Ralph [Bottles] Capone, brother of Al Capone, who has eluded process servers for 10 days, arrived in United States Commissioner Edwin K. Walker's office yesterday just in time to be the government's star witness at a removal hearing against six Chicago hoodlums indicted on extortion and conspiracy charges by a New York federal grand jury.

Capone, who becomes nettled when addressed as Bottles, entered the federal building shortly before the removal hearing was scheduled to begin and hurried to Commissioner Walker's office. He was served with a subpena as he brushed thru the door. Capone was accompanied by his attorney, Abraham Teitelbaum.

As a result of Capone's testimony, the government closed its case against five of the indicted gangsters. They are Paul Ricca, Ralph Pierce, Charles Gioe, Philip D'Andrea, who are at liberty under $50,000 bond each, and Francis Maritote, alias Frank Diamond, who is in jail in lieu of bond.

The hearing on the removal of the sixth defendant, Louis [Little New York] Campagna, was continued till May 12 when evidence was offered that Campagna is convalescing in the West Suburban hospital, Oak Park, after an appendectomy.

Capone was the government's sole witness. He admitted, under questioning by assistant United States attorneys, that he had identified the indicted men during grand jury sessions last February in New York.

Identification of the alleged extortionists who are accused of engineering a multi-million dollar shakedown of motion picture producers and union members, was accomplished principally thru photographs shown him at the grand jury hearings, Capone said.

Capone Shows Nervousness.

Capone displayed signs of nervousness during his testimony, tugging at his tie, mopping his brow with a handkerchief, and tapping the chair arm with a finger.

He appeared particularly upset when Police Sgt. Martin Joyce, a city policeman attached to the United States attorney's office as a handyman, entered the small, warm office, and sat on a chair which held the witness' hat.

Seven Chicagoans originally were named in the New York indictment. The seventh was Frank [The Enforcer] Nitti, who shot himself to death the day the indictment was returned.

800 N. U. MIDSHIPMEN GET COMMISSIONS AS ENSIGNS TOMORROW

Eight hundred new ensigns will be commissioned in the navy at 10 a. m. tomorrow when the 12th class from Northwestern university's midshipmen's school in Abbott hall is graduated at ceremonies on Navy pier. Rear Adm. Randall Jacobs, chief of naval personnel, will address the class.

Upon receiving their commissions the ensigns will be ready for sea duty, having completed courses in seamanship, gunnery and navigation in four months under the guidance of Capt. B. B. Wygant, commanding officer of the school.

ADMITS KILLING WIFE, PLACING BLAME ON CHILD

Father in Love Maze Tells Frameup.

Appleton, Wis., April 21 [Special].—A young father's attempt to "frame" his 4 year old daughter for his deliberate killing of his unwanted wife to conceal his extramarital amours was disclosed today when the slayer was charged with first degree murder.

First Called an Accident.

The unsuccessful plotter, John Lingle, 28, a paper mill worker of nearby Kaukauna, admitted his guilt when he was arraigned before Municipal Judge T. H. Ryan. He waived preliminary examination and was bound over to the Circuit court for sentencing.

Lingle had insisted the killing was an accident when police found his wife, Hilda, 26, mother of two children, shot to death in their Kaukauna home Monday. He said their daughter, Marjory, 4 was carrying his .22 caliber rifle upstairs when it was discharged, the bullet striking her mother in the back of the head.

Brother Clears Child.

But the statements of Marjory's brother, Dickie, 7, that he had seen his father with some bullets and that he had seen his father and young aunt kissing cleared his little sister and brought a full confession from their father.

IT'S NEWS! DU PONT self-cleaning HOUSE PAINT stays white!

Painting is essential today

These days, "make it last" is as important as "make it beautiful." That's why, when you paint, it's a good idea to get the best paint you can buy. Du Pont House Paint, for instance. Du Pont House Paint forms a beautiful, durable film—and guards the surface against rot, rust, decay.

Starts white—stays white

Moreover, Du Pont House Paint contains the whitest pigment known. Titanium dioxide—whiter than snow. So your house will start whitest-of-white, and stay that way. That's because . . .

It's self-cleaning

All paints collect dirt on exposure. But, with Du Pont House Paint, "self-cleaning" starts after a few months of normal weather conditions. A fine white powder forms on the surface. Heavy rains wash this away, carrying the dirt with it—leaving the newly exposed surface clean and white again! (Unusual climatic or dirt-collecting conditions in extremely sooty industrial communities may, of course, delay this process.) Because this "self-cleaning" is gradual, the wearing qualities of the paint film are not abnormally affected.

▶ Despite this remarkable quality of Du Pont House Paint, it costs no more than other good paints. Call in a reliable painter for your painting job, and specify Du Pont House Paint. It's available in white, and in durable tints.

HOUSE BANS USE OF U. S. BILLIONS IN 'WORLD BANK'

Suspicions Aroused by Morgenthau Remark.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., April 21.—A vigilant house passed today and returned to the senate the bill extending for two years the 2 billion dollar currency stabilization fund amended to prevent its use as a United States contribution to an international bank.

Rep. Chauncey W. Reed.

The amendment was attached after suspicions were aroused by the statement of Secretary of the Treasury Henry Morgenthau that he estimated the United States' contribution to the post-war currency stabilization fund and international bank, envisioned by New Deal planners, would be approximately 2 billion dollars.

The amendment, offered by Rep. Chauncey W. Reed, Republican from West Chicago, Ill., stated:

"Such funds shall not be used in any manner whereby direct control and custody thereof passes from the President and the secretary of the treasury."

Board to Control Gold.

Thus the fund could not be used for the international currency stabilization plan proposed by the treasury because gold contributed by nations which were parties to the plan would not remain under the jurisdiction of any single nation. The United States contribution, like that of all nations accepting the plan, would be controled by a board of governors.

Rep. Reed, ranking Republican member of the house committee on coinage, weights and measures, told the house the legislation "amounted to a recovery by congress of its constitutional authority to coin money and regulate its value."

The house upheld the senate's refusal to extend the President's power to devalue the dollar. Reed said that Republicans had opposed the legislation in the past because it carried the devaluation clause, which "we deemed a dangerous delegation of constitutional authority and a clear abdication of the rights of congress."

Promises Held Unreliable.

Reed said that while Morgenthau had assured the committee that the fund would not be used for the establishment of an international bank, the committee "realized the uncertainty of political tenure" and felt that restrictive legislative measures were imperative.

"It would have been ironic for congress to have locked the door after the horse was gone," he said. "The legislation as we have amended it preserves the integrity of the fund, assures its use for the purposes intended, and retains in congress the decision of the post-war problem of creating a sound economic policy."

Chairman Andrew L. Somers [D., N. Y.] of the coinage committee stressed that the committee has not gone on record as opposing an international bank. He emphasized, however, that the administration now will require separate legislation to obtain funds for the establishment of an international bank.

DRAFT DODGER SURRENDERS TO GO TO PRISON

Robert W. Smith, 22 years old, 7654 Oglesby avenue, surrendered yesterday to begin serving a sentence of three years in federal prison for failing to report for induction into the army in violation of the selective service act.

Smith had been sentenced last week by Federal Judge Philip L. Sullivan after he had pleaded not guilty and testified that he was a conscientious objector to military service.

He said that he belonged to two peace societies at the University of Illinois, where he was graduated last spring with a bachelor's degree in fine arts.

Pleading Worry Over Son in War Wins Leniency

A plea that he was worrying about his son, Le Roy, who is fighting on Guadalcanal, won some leniency for Fred Durwin, 50 years old, 2203 North La Vergne avenue, Tuesday when he appeared before Judge Joseph B. Hermes in Safety court on a drunken driving charge. Judge Hermes suspended a $100 fine, but took away Durwin's driver's license for six months and recommended his name be submitted to the OPA for possible revocation of gasoline rations.

DIVORCES WIFE OF 50 YEARS TO REMARRY AT 78

After 50 years of married life, white haired Abraham Lincoln Woolery, 78 years old, 1347 East 62d street, hobbled to the witness stand in Superior court yesterday to get a divorce from Medora P. Woolery. They were married Oct. 12, 1892, at Toledo, Ill.

"It's like this," Woolery told Judge Oscar F. Nelson, "we always wanted to get a divorce but we thought we'd better wait until our children grew up and were able to take care of themselves."

Woolery's attorney, Richard B. Pruitt, said the couple have four children, the youngest of whom is 38. He said Mrs. Woolery, whose address is not known, left Woolery Oct. 4, 1940. Judge Nelson granted Woolery, a retired live stock judge, an uncontested divorce on grounds of desertion. Woolery said he plans to marry again.

MOTHER WOUNDS DAUGHTER; KILLS SON AND SELF

Napa, Cal., April 21 (AP).—A weird family tragedy, first revealed by a daughter found praying in an Oakland chapel with a bullet in her breast, was ruled murder and suicide today by the district attorney, who said a 68 year old mother was the aggressor.

The mother, Mrs. Bessie Griffiths, who once had been confined to the Napa state hospital, shot and killed her son, Mayne Griffiths, 45, shot and wounded her daughter, Mrs. Helen Robertson, 47, then killed herself by taking an overdose of sleeping tablets, reported the district attorney, Wallace Everett.

He reported the finding of three rambling notes, one of them addressed to Mrs. Griffiths' estranged husband, W. B. Griffiths, in which the woman said: "Could not leave my precious, sick children to suffer. Neither were given strong bodies. I can't leave them to suffer more."

Facts About AIR PRIORITIES

Q. What is Air Priority?
A. Air Priority establishes the precedence of movements of air passengers and air cargo on commercial air carriers.

Q. What is its purpose?
A. To assure that space on air carriers is made available when required for the national war effort.

Q. To whom and for what are Air Priorities granted?
A. (1) Personnel engaged in essential war work, including members of the armed forces, other employees of the government, representatives of allied governments and civilian personnel. (2) Essential war materials.

Q. When will Air Priority be granted?
A. Priority will be granted only when the movement of the passengers or cargo is necessary to the prosecution of the war, and when the mission of the passenger or the need for the cargo is of such urgency that transportation by air is necessary.

Q. How are Air Priorities granted?
A. By the issuance of a Priority Certificate by the Headquarters or Regional Offices of the Air Priority Division, Air Transport Command, Army Air Forces.

Q. To whom should requests for Priority Certificates be made?
A. To the Army or Navy officers assigned as Plant Resident Inspectors, Engineers or Representatives at production plants or on construction projects, or, at plants or projects on which no officers are assigned, directly to Headquarters, Air Priorities Division, or the nearest Regional Office. For complete addresses, see Braniff Airways booklet, "Revised Air Transport Priorities."

Q. After a Priority Certificate for passenger travel is obtained, how is a reservation made?
A. Headquarters and Regional offices, Air Priorities Division, will not make actual reservation for air transportation. Reservations will be made in the usual manner direct with the airlines themselves.

GET YOUR COPY OF "REVISED AIR TRANSPORT PRIORITIES"

Just printed by Braniff Airways. Stop at any Braniff Ticket Office for a copy, or phone or write and a copy will be mailed to you.

Q. May civilians who have not been granted a Priority Certificate make reservations and travel by air?
A. Yes, definitely. Civilians and members of the armed forces who do not hold Priority Certificates are not prohibited from using the airlines. Persons traveling without priority may be asked to give up their seats for passengers holding such priority certificates. However, air travel still expedites the trips of non-priority passengers because in many instances their travel will be undisturbed, and in others the use of air travel for a portion of the trip speeds up the total trip. For example, a Chicago-Dallas passenger who is deplaned for a priority passenger or cargo at Kansas City will have gained nearly 10 hours on his entire trip by having flown between Chicago and Kansas City.

TRUMAN REPORT RAPS FUMBLING IN U-BOAT SIEGE

Navy 'Stodginess,' Delay in Building Assailed.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., April 21.—Deriding the navy's "hush-hush policy" on ship losses, the Truman war investigating committee of the senate tonight declared that sinkings by axis submarines averaged 1,000,000 tons a month in 1942, or more than the combined new construction of the United States and Great Britain.

The committee in a special report on shipping and shipbuilding harshly criticized the navy, under the direction of Secretary of the Navy Frank Knox, for its tardy steps to combat the U-boat siege and declared that the navy must be "less conservative and conventional" in dealing with the submarine menace.

The report expressed satisfaction with the total results achieved in the merchant ship construction program, describing it as "one of the best jobs that has been done in the entire war effort." It recalled that 8,090,800 deadweight tons of shipping were built in 1942 and 18,000,000 deadweight tons are to be produced in 1943.

Sinkings Exceed Output.

But despite this record, the committee noted that sinkings by submarines in 1942 exceeded the combined shipbuilding by the United States and Great Britain.

"German submarines have taken a heavy toll of our shipping," said the report. "Some sinkings were unavoidable, but a large part of the loss would have been prevented had we had an early and large production of subchasers and destroyer escorts. Such losses will be prevented when more of such ships have been delivered and commissioned.

"Ship losses by submarine action have been heavy, but they have not been disastrous," the report continued. "German propaganda announcements that these sinkings are winning the war for Germany are not true.

"However, our own 'hush-hush' policy has given credence to such propaganda. Certainty is always better than rumor. Frankness is the best answer to propaganda. Submarine losses in 1942 have been widely circulated and must be known to the German government. They averaged approximately 1 million tons of shipping per month, and in the aggregate exceeded the new construction built by the United States and Great Britain."

Losses Are Lower.

The report said that losses, however, were lower during the last months of 1942 and the increases in new construction and escort vessels will present an effective answer to the submarine menace. Concerning navy stodginess, the report said:

"The committee recommended that the navy be less conventional and conservative in its thinking, that it spend less time propounding explanations as to why unfortunate situations have occurred, and that it devise and use such substitutes and new methods as are necessary to obtain production. The time has passed when we can safely forgo immediate production for future perfection. We need another 'soap box on a raft' like the Monitor [of Civil war fame].

"More encouragement should be given to inventors who have concepts that may prove to be valuable. An example is the helicopter, which might make a substantial contribution if it can be enlarged sufficiently to carry heavy loads of depth charges and improved so as to land on ship decks with greater facility."

The report said the helicopter holds great promise and that the British and the maritime commission are conducting experiments, adding that "it is regrettable that work of this character was not started sooner by the navy." The navy has also been slow in getting the destroyer and corvette programs under way, the report commented.

Valve Shortage Blamed.

"The committee has inquired of the navy to ascertain why these programs were not instituted sooner," it continued. "The United States navy was far behind the British navy in deciding to construct such ships. Even after the decision had been made to construct the British and Canadian ships, long delays were incurred. The fact is that very few of the boats have been commissioned to date, and the great benefits of the program will not come until the last six months of this year and the beginning of 1944."

Solution of the U-boat problem awaits sufficient construction and operation of subchasers, escort vessels, and corvettes "and until it is met we must be prepared for heavy submarine losses, which will be very large and sufficient to impair and delay some of our military efforts," the committee warned.

The navy's explanation for the delay in the program was a shortage of valves rendered more acute by the 100 octane gasoline and rubber programs.

The committee also commented upon the tardiness in equipping warships with adequate gun protection against aircraft, saying this step was not taken until after the attack on Pearl Harbor and the sinkings of the British battleships Prince of Wales and Repulse.

New Income Tax Plans

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., April 21.—Republican members of the house ways and means committee tonight released comparative figures showing the difference in the additional burdens which would be borne by taxpayers in order to get on a pay-as-you-go basis under the G. O. P. and Democratic income tax collection plans.

G. O. P. Plan.

The G. O. P. proposal introduced by Rep. Harold Knutson [R., Minn.] would forgive 75 per cent of 1942 taxes and spread collection of the balance over two or five years as follows:

1. Abate three fourths of the 1942 liability insofar as attributable to earned income. [First $5,000 presumed to be earned, whether earned or not; maximum earned income allowance to be $20,000.]

2. Abate one half of the 1942 liability insofar as attributable to unearned or investment income. [All income over $20,000 would be presumed to be unearned.]

3. Unabated 1942 liability attributable to earned income to be spread over two years.

4. Unabated 1942 liability attributable to unearned income to be spread over longer period, according to size of income, so as to avoid too great a burden in any one year.

Democratic Plan.

The Democratic plan would abate 40 per cent of the 1942 obligations thru application of the lower 1941 scales to last year's earnings, spreading the collection of the balance over a three year period.

The figures show the amounts taxpayers in various income brackets would have to pay each year for the given number of years to satisfy the old obligations, as well as keep up with their current ones, before becoming completely current.

Each amount includes the regular year's taxes plus that portion of the 1942 obligation due each year, while the right hand column for comparison shows the normal tax bill under existing rates without doubling up.

Net income before exemptions.	Annual payment for 3 years under Democratic plan.	Annual payment for 2 or 5 years under G. O. P. plan.	Regular bill without doubling up.
$ 1,800	$ 179.60	$ 184.90 [2 yrs.]	$ 172.00
2,500	369.69	368.69 [2 yrs.]	339.69

The G. O. P. plan specifies that the doubled up amounts necessary to bring taxpayers up to date under its proposal shall be in lieu of any increases in rates this year. The Democratic plan would authorize extensions of time in paying off the 1942 taxes in hardship cases.

Under the Democratic plan a taxpayer making a million dollars or more will have to pay out more in taxes than he gets in income in order to catch up. This would result from the doubling up feature, and would mean anybody making that much would have to pay out of his other resources.

CONTRACTS LET FOR 469 CARGO SHIPS, TANKERS

Washington, D. C., April 21 (AP).—The maritime commission announced tonight award of contracts for 469 merchant ships, including 189 new "Victory ships" and 206 high speed tankers, for completion next year.

A report issued by the senate's Truman committee earlier disclosed that the new Victory ship, faster and hence less vulnerable to submarine attack, is intended eventually to replace the Liberty freighter. Yards which have built only Liberty ships will shift to Victory ships, or to C type cargo carriers. The C types—designated C1, C2, and C3—are pre-war models of fast, modern vessels.

PAY-AS-GO TAX TO GET ANOTHER CHANCE IN HOUSE

Committee Action Is Due This Week.

optimistic promises that they would have something definite by way of an agreement to report to the floor leaders. The proposition, with more lives than a cat, was on again.

This morning, they shook their heads and said no agreement had been reached; they met again in the later afternoon, still no agreement. It was off again.

Would Start July 1.

Then came the statements announcing plans to put it all up to the house again. It was on again. Any measure adopted is expected to embrace a 20 per cent withholding tax to start July 1.

The G. O. P. statement, prepared by Representatives Harold Knutson [Minn.], Roy O. Woodruff [Mich.], and Daniel A. Reed [N. Y.], outlined the various Democratic proposals and their own counter-proposals and explained:

"We rejected the majority proposals because they would have placed a crushing burden upon millions of our taxpayers in the lower income brackets by reason of doubling up in taxes at a time when the people are obliged to make a supreme effort to meet the existing tax burden. The American people have expressed an almost unanimous desire to have their income tax payments placed on a current, pay-as-we-earn basis. In offering the compromise we did, we feel we have gone as far as we can and still keep faith with the people."

Democrats' Statement.

The Democratic statement, prepared by Chairman Doughton and almost the entire majority membership on the committee, also outlined the positions of the opposing factions on the amounts to be forgiven, only 35 per centage points apart, and then declared:

"In the opinion of the Democratic members the final plan submitted by them was more equitable—put more taxpayers on a pay-as-you-go basis and gave a larger percentage of forgiveness where it should be given among the lower income groups. It is these groups that in the main will be effected most by the withholding provision."

They said that a sound reason for applying 1941 tax rates to 1942 incomes is the fact that the increased scales under existing law were not voted until late last year and taxpayers had no foreknowledge of their obligations on which to base preparations to meet the added burdens.

TWO DISMISSED IN MISSISSIPPI LYNCHING CASE

Hattiesburg, Miss., April 21 (AP).—Federal Judge Sidney Mize today dismissed charges against two of five men on trial here on charges of violating civil liberty laws in connection with the lynching of a Negro at Laurel last October at the request of the prosecution.

The two were Nathaniel T. Shotts and William Oscar Johnson, who were indicted with Deputy Sheriff Luther Holder, Allen Pryor, and Barney Jones. The government then rested its case.

Immediately after Judge Mize's action defense attorneys announced they would move at the opening of court tomorrow for dismissal of charges against the remaining three defendants.

The charges grew out of the lynching on Oct. 16, 1942, of Howard Wash, Negro, who was being held in the Jones county jail pending pronouncement of a life sentence in connection with the slaying of his employer, Clint Welborn.

TULSA 'SOCIETY SLAYER' FREED AFTER 7 YEARS

Oklahoma City, Okla., April 21 (AP).—Phil Kennamer, 27 year old son of a federal judge, is free on parole after serving less than seven years of a 25 year prison sentence for the so-called society slaying of John Gorrell Jr. in 1934.

Phil Kennamer.

Gov. Robert S. Kerr paroled Kennamer last night upon recommendation by the state clemency board. Clemency was opposed by Tulsa County Atty. Dixie Gilmer, who prosecuted Kennamer, and Dr. John F. Gorrell, Tulsa dentist and father of the victim.

Phil, pictured by witnesses at his trial as a wild, hard-drinking youth, testified that he shot Gorrell to save H. F. Wilcox, rich Tulsa oil man, from a $20,000 extortion scheme. He charged Gorrell had demanded the money on a threat to kidnap Wilcox's daughter.

Lack of Rail Priorities Delays Circus Animals

The 11th annual Olympia circus, scheduled to open at the Chicago Stadium Saturday, temporarily ran into war priorities yesterday when 10 carloads of elephants and wild animals were delayed at Logansport, Ind., for immediate lack of transportation. The animals are part of Terrell Jacobs' act. The animals will arrive in plenty of time for the circus opening, however, the management promised. Several elephants, not part of the Jacobs act, arrived at the Stadium by motor truck last night.

BRAVES DEATH TO SAVE QUININE SEEDS FOR U. S.

Flees Philippines in Plane with Precious Cargo.

Washington, D. C., April 21 (AP).—Johnny Appleseed had nothing on Col. Arthur F. Fischer, one time director of forestry in the Philippines.

Col. Arthur F. Fischer.

Johnny faced hardship in the middle west to spread the growth of apple trees, while the colonel braved the threat of Japanese planes to bring back to this country 2 million cinchona tree seeds and provide the foundation for possible large scale development of the quinine industry in the western hemisphere. Quinine is important in the treatment of malaria.

Fischer, who had spent years in the Philippines raising the cinchona tree, escaped from Mindinao Island in a Flying Fortress after Bataan fell, and literally snatched the precious seeds from under the noses of the Japanese. His action helped reduce the damage Nippon did in cutting off our quinine supply from the Indies.

Fischer, suffering from malaria at the time, reported to Gen. Douglas MacArthur in Australia and later turned his seeds over to the United States department of agriculture.

More than 100,000 seedlings already have been grown from the seeds in experimental greenhouses of the department, and they now are ready for transplanting to the rich soil of Costa Rica, Latin-American nation, under an agreement with that country for planting 10,000 acres of cinchona trees.

Soon a mission will leave for Costa Rica to select sites for the large-scale growing program.

Col. Fischer has devoted most of his career to make the cinchona tree available in quantities to this hemisphere. When he was director of forestry in the Philippines during the 1920s, he purchased about a pint of cinchona seeds for $4,000 thru a Java planter.

When the Japanese struck the Philippines, Fischer jammed 2 million seeds into two small cans and made his getaway to Australia in the Fortress.

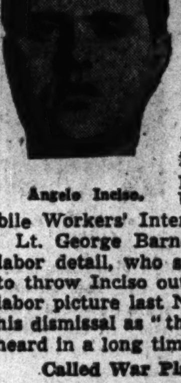
UAW HEAD OUSTS INCISO FROM HIS 'LABOR EMPIRE'

Fired After Lt. Barnes Tells of Record.

Angelo Inciso, the ex-convict racketeer who has been building himself a small labor empire within the American Federation of Labor in Chicago, was ousted yesterday.



Angelo Inciso.

The announcement came unexpectedly in a telegram from Irven Cary of Detroit, international president of the United Automobile Workers' International [AFL].

Lt. George Barnes of the police labor detail, who started the move to throw Inciso out of the Chicago labor picture last November, hailed his dismissal as "the best news I've heard in a long time."

Called War Plant Strikes.

Inciso called strikes in war plants and has bolstered his position by "amalgamating" small UAW local unions into "Amalgamated local No. 286," the treasury of which he controls as president.

"The removal of Inciso by President Cary shows that AFL officials have the courage to remove an undesirable ex-convict if they have the information on such an official," Lt. Barnes declared. "Cary should get a medal."

Inciso, 32 years old, appeared here first as a UAW organizer. He was fired when Lt. Barnes exposed his criminal record after he started a strike in the Delta Star Electric company, a war plant at 2433 Fulton street, in 1941.

Many Aliases.

Inciso was back organizing again last October, when Lt. Barnes discovered he was the leader behind a slow down at the Wood Manufacturing company, a war plant at 4435 South Western boulevard.

Then Lt. Barnes wrote a letter to President William Green of the AFL, laying before him all of Inciso's criminal history and his labor record.

He told of two other strikes in addition to those at the Delta Star and the Wood plants.

Green replied that the AFL "does not countenance the employment" of men of Inciso's type, but indicated that Inciso's union would have to remove him.

While AFL officials were considering his case, Inciso got an appointment from his friend, Anthony Doria, another international representative of the union, as president of the "amalgamated local."

Lt. Barnes, however, declared last night that Inciso's labor offices are held by virtue of his position as a representative of the UAW international, and now that President Cary has taken that from him, Inciso is "definitely out."

SHOT AT POLICE; MANY CHARGES FIRED IN REPLY

Racine avenue police last night booked Archer Poor, 32 years old, who said he was a fugitive from a Florida chain gang, on 13 charges of robbery, three charges of burglary, and another of assault with intent to kill Policeman Patrick Doheny, who arrested him in a tavern at 1143 Chicago avenue Monday night after Poor fired a shot at him.

Capt. Patrick O'Connell said that Poor had told him he intended to plead guilty to the charges to prevent his return to the Florida chain gang, to which he was sentenced for burglary at Homestead, Fla., in 1940. He said he escaped in May, 1942.

Patrolman Doheny, a veteran of 28 years' service, warded off Poor's bullet with a bar stool and felled the ex-convict with the same stool.

PARK DISTRICT PRESSES WORK IN GARDEN LOTS

George T. Donoghue, director of the war garden department of the Chicago park district, said yesterday that the district had plowed about one-third of the 1,118 vacant lots set aside for war gardens by the office of civilian defense.

The plowing schedule had been delayed by cold weather and snow, but he said the cool temperatures prevented seeding so that work had not been seriously hampered.

Donoghue added that crews were working seven days a week to complete plowing of 753 plots that remain. The plots vary from 75x100 feet to 25 acres, he said, and three large plots comprising from two to four square blocks already have been plowed.

Canvass Shows Janke Beat Joliet Mayor by 355 Votes

Arthur O. Janke's margin of victory over Mayor George T. Jones in Joliet's mayoralty contest Tuesday was 355 votes, an official canvass of the returns showed yesterday. The canvass gave Janke 10,750 against 10,395 for the incumbent who was seeking his third term in office. Mayor Jones made no indication that he intended to contest the report of the canvassing board.

The Inquiring Camera Girl

BY FREIDA ZYLSTRA.

[The Tribune will pay $5 for each interesting question submitted by a reader and used by The Tribune. Today's question was submitted by L. G. Graves, Geneseo, Ill.]

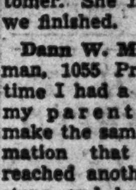
THE QUESTION.

What childish prank did you keep from your parents?

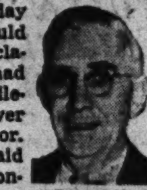
WHERE ASKED.

Palmer House arcade.

THE ANSWERS.



Helen Green, student, 1610 South Harding avenue—I and my little cousin of the long blonde curls were playing barber shop. She was my only customer. As soon as I would finish clipping her hair she would leave and come in again as a new customer. She had a crew-cut before we finished.

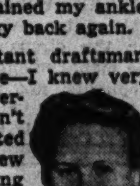


Dann W. Martin, public relations man, 1055 Pratt boulevard—Every time I had a birthday my parents would make the same proclamation that I had reached another milestone and had never tasted a drop of liquor. Each time they said it I felt a little conscience stricken because I recalled the small vial of liquor that was to be used as medicine. I had drunk it.

Jane Rose, student, 1401 Hyde Park boulevard—My mother never suspected me of being the one who had ruined her finest dress and her best high heeled shoes. I had been all dressed up in them. The dress was so long that I stepped on the hem and tore it. One heel was completely broken. It never occurred to her that I might have done it.

Phyllis Winnecour, student, 7020 Jeffery avenue—My mother always thought that we had mice in our house because there were so many holes in the plaster. She would set the traps but they were always empty. I used to make those little holes and used the powder-like plaster in the empty vanity case she had given me.

Bettie Witten, student, 1859 South Harding avenue—When I was much smaller than I am now my brother used to give me piggy back rides. Our parents had forbidden us to do it. We never told them exactly how it happened when we both fell. He sprained his back and I sprained my ankle. We never rode piggy back again.



Vera Burg, assistant draftsman, 2727 Sherwin avenue—I knew very well what an incinerator was so I don't know what prompted me to do it. I threw my gold signet ring down there just to hear it fall. I regretted it immediately. The family missed it but I never admitted that I knew where it was. It was always an uncomfortable moment for me when they would talk about it.

EXPECT ACTION ON RIVER TAXI SERVICE PERMIT

An ordinance authorizing the Rodi Boat Storage and Service company to operate river taxi service on the Chicago river is expected to be recommended for passage by the city council committee on harbors, wharves, and bridges at a meeting today. The measure has been pending nearly six months. Officials of the company expressed doubt yesterday that enough boats suitable for the service can be obtained now.

Clyde Erzinger, sales manager for the company, explained his company held back six suitable boats several months, but when authority to operate the line was held up the boats were sold. If the council approves the ordinance at a meeting May 5 the company will try to get six more, Erzinger said.

Ald. Walter J. Orlikoski [35th], chairman, said he expects his committee to report favorably on the ordinance today. The Rodi company's plan provides for regular passenger service from the Union and North Western stations to the Michigan avenue bridge.

CHILD OF SLAIN BASEBALL MAN GETS GUARDIAN

Judge John F. O'Connell in Probate court yesterday named Mrs. Catherine McNaughton of 3505 Sheffield avenue, mother of Gordon McNaughton, former baseball player who was shot to death last August by Eleanor Williams, blonde dice girl, guardian of McNaughton's daughter, Patricia Anne, 9 years old. Custody of the child was awarded to McNaughton when he was divorced in 1937 and she has been living with her grandparents since 1939. Her mother, Mrs. Caroline Grassick, 27 years old, 4278 Hazel street, petitioned for her custody, but her plea was denied. Atty. P. J. Murray told the judge a guardian was necessary because the child is the beneficiary of a life insurance policy carried by McNaughton.

A warrant charging bigamy was issued yesterday for Joseph Nardi, 4041 Harrison street, by Judge Frank E. Donoghue in Felony court, after Nardi's wife, Fanny, of 3219 Princeton avenue, testified that her husband had married another woman without divorcing her. She said that she had married Nardi in 1925, and that on Oct. 5, 1936, he had married Frances LeVere.

After Gen. Doolittle's raiders took off from the aircraft carrier Hornet they sighted this Japanese patrol ship. They promptly sank it for fear it might warn its homeland by radio of the approaching air fleet. Their fears apparently were groundless, for the raid was a surprise.

THE WORLD'S GREATEST NEWSPAPER

White Collar GIRL

BY RUTH MAC KAY

Letter to the Boss.

"Dear Boss: Now that we understand each other a little better on this matter of furloughs, I wonder if we couldn't come to agreement on the question of salaries.

"You know, some of us have worked a long time for this company and—if experience and long service count at all we cannot help but feel we are entitled to some consideration. Yet, during the stress of war times, many new employés are coming into our organization at salaries equal to—or in excess of—the salaries we are paid.

"We have been loyal workers during your years of feast and famine; we've made many sacrifices in the interests of your business; and now, when we could go out and demand higher wages, we find our salaries are 'frozen.'

"To quote what we said about this matter of furlough, boss: 'You just sort of take some of us for granted. You are comfortably sure we're not going to quit at the drop of the hat. The new girls you aren't sure about. The result? They get all the consideration. Is it fair? You know the answer. Yours for a better understanding all around.'"—D.

Sitting Pretty.

A few days ago a letter appeared in this column, signed "The Rialto Boys," suggesting that girls in offices do not watch carefully the way they sit at their typewriters. And, O me, O my! If the girls think they have been "sitting pretty" all these years they are vastly mistaken! It is presumably the bane of existence of all offices. Various remedies for the plight of the short-skirted steno have been offered—thru the mail—ranging all the way from Mother Hubbards to warnings posted in restrooms.

One delightful cynic who signs herself "Aunt Het" writes: "Have I misunderstood men all these years or do the Rialto Boys actually consider such a situation a 'problem'? In case they do, how about getting the young lady in question a lap robe?"

One of the more serious comments forthcoming from readers was signed "Dress Designer." It was this: "The fault actually lies with sales persons in dress shops and stores. No suit or dress should be sold without the wearer sitting down in it and making certain that the skirt has length and breadth enough for a comfortable, graceful sitting posture. If the girls insist on buying clothes as tho they were going to lope around like models instead of sitting at desks or typewriter stands—what can you expect?"

Sissy.

Maybe you've heard about the sign on the wall of the central rationing board: "A sissy is some one who quits a rationing board to join the Commandos."

Snowy Gloves Are Patrician Dress Accent

BY REA SEEGER.

Give snow white gloves a hand, for they are sleek, patrician accents for the smartest Easter costumes. Nothing looks quite so springlike, quite so dress parade as smooth kidskins or suave doeskins, whether short, pull-ons, or dramatic elbow lengths to be worn wrinkled richly around the wrists and lower arm.

Most exciting are new, pristine white pigskins, expensive, but worth every cent. The long affairs that wrinkle effectively over the sleeves of suit jacket, coat, or dress are breath taking because of the super long length and the snowy whiteness of the pigskin. Its been a long time since pigskin has been skillfully worked to be so softly flexible and so shining white. The same long lengths also are featured in thick doeskins, washable beauties that also rate popular applause for long wear. Short doeskins, medium lengths, and the classic pull-ons are all super buys for an annual spring fashion parade.

Among the shorter ones of creamy kidskins come the fashionable gloves with embroidery. One pair has decorative bowknots, another has large daisies in outline stritchery, others have details accented with pointed edgings, or have thread thin tucks or pleats, or are shallow scalloped.

Always effective are the white gloves stitched with black. The white pigskins are especially distinctive with this sharp contrast of black to pick up the spotless white. Some of these white gloves go well with delicate, pastel colored beauvais embroidery motifs along the hand.

Thru the Looking Glass

Before you have the spring permanent you ought to weigh a few facts about the dependence of a permanent's success on the health of your hair. It seems to us that a great many women think of the permanent as something of a cure-all. If their hair is stringy and lusterless and completely unmanageable, they lean toward the comfortable thought that the new wave they plan to have will make everything hunky-dory. Haven't you heard lots of women say when they're apologizing for the way their hair looks that it needs a permanent badly?

No permanent will restore hair health. As a matter of fact, you jeopardize what health your hair has when you operate on the theory that one wave after another will solve its ills. The best wave can be and usually is a failure when the hair it's given to has been neglected. And any wave can be a little trying even to hair that's generously endowed with healthy elasticity and satiny luster.

Rather than toy with the utterly phony idea that a wave will give your crowning glory what it needs to make it manageable and shiny, get right down to cases about what's wrong and correct that before you have the wave. Almost all of us could do with some scalp treatments that correct such hair ills as limpness and dinginess right at the source.

Scalp massage, vigorous brushings, thoro cleansings, and any medication that might be indicated usually work miracles quickly, we've found. Hair is satisfyingly responsive. A preliminary course of treatments that wake up the long neglected scalp and polish the lusterless strands is well worth any money it costs—and it just about doubles your chance of having a wave that is a complete success.

D. A. R. Warns on Loose Talk; Ends Congress

BY IRENE STEYSKAL.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Cincinnati, O., April 21.—With a final word of caution to members of their society and to all citizens against loose talk which might give information to fifth columnists or enemy sympathizers, delegates to the 52d continental congress of the Daughters of the American Revolution retired the colors this afternoon from the hall of mirrors in the Netherland Plaza hotel.

The closing session of the four day war projects meeting saw the installation with impressive ceremony of 18 state regents, one of whom was Mrs. J. Defore Richards of Chicago, who succeeds Mrs. Otto H. Crist as Illinois regent. Neighboring states inducting new leaders were Indiana, with Mrs. J. Harold Grimes of Danville taking office, and Michigan, conferring its regency upon Miss Laura Clark Cook of Hillside. Seven vice presidents general and three honorary presidents general who were elected yesterday also were inducted.

A final 10 minute "auction," conducted by the Daughters' dynamic war bond sales woman, Mrs. Russell William Magna, brought $179,525 in pledges, raising the total sale of bonds at the congress to $2,056,956.

The treasury department had placed the society's quota at $5,000,000 for the year. More than six times that amount has been purchased by D. A. R. members, Mrs. Magna announced, with the total figure at the close of the congress standing at $33,150,646. Pledges from the Illinois members during the congress were $41,375. North Carolina's purchases at the congress were the largest, being well over 1 million.

The board of management was authorized to make arrangements for the 1944 congress, should it be necessary again to move the meeting from the society's Constitution hall in Washington, D. C. A telegram from Gov. Thomas E. Dewey of New York, inviting the society to that state in 1944, was read and enthusiastically applauded.

Convention gossip indicated the next congress will be held either in St. Louis Mo., or New York, altho Kansas City, Mo., is another likely possibility. Cincinnati also has invited the D. A. R. to return here next year.

Take It Away.

Maybe you have heard the ghost story Bud Hulick, formerly the Bud of Stoopnagle and Bud, is telling around town. "Two ghosts met," Mr. Hulick says. "They loved each other and were promptly married. It was known as love at first fright."

Painted Lady.

One of the most painted ladies of this century comes to Chicago today with her husband to be around for the opening Tuesday of the magnificent collection of 20th century paintings she has given to the Art institute for indefinite loan. She is Mrs. Chester Dale of New York, whose first glimpse of Chicago came in 1893 when she came as a child with her father, the late Frank Murray, a brilliant editorialist on James Gordon Bennett's New York Herald, to see the 1893 world's fair. In time she studied painting in Paris, becoming a great friend of Bellows and Henrie, the American painter, and after her marriage in 1911 her home became a salon for American painters. Not until 1926 did she and Mr. Dale begin their art collection, and in 15 brief years collected from seven to eight hundred pictures. These they began to show in their New York home which rapidly became more art gallery than home with special textiles as background for each picture [a strange blue satin for their Corots] and warm or cool lighting as needed. Now a woman of great distinction, with white hair shining above an always black dress, she has been painted by countless artists whom she knew or aided, among them Bellows, who did two portraits of her. In recent years both Lurçat and Fernand Leger have painted her.

Candor.

"When I asked the clerk behind the candy counter if the peanut brittle were good," reports Alberita Semrad, "she said: 'I don't think so. But lots of people buy it, so it must be all right.'"

Spring.

"That 'nameless pathos' which betokens spring is in the air. It has the quality of a Corot painting and something in addition. It has variability. It is pierced with the spears of the crocus and the waxen buds of the scillas. Earlier there were the bursting, fuzzy pussy willow catkins and the tiny bells of the snowdrops which rang faint songs of greeting.

"Now bird songs are heard, and momentarily the silver, slanting rain cuts across the vista and the grass reaches up slender fingers to hold it. The sagebrush is heavy with raindrops, and a striped chipmunk peers from around a weathered rock. Overhead the wild geese, spreading into a great V, are seeking the northern nesting place of generations past and yet unborn.

"The seeders like great shuttles cross and recross, threading the warp and woof of green that will in time give bread to the hungry of the earth. Spring—and Nicodemus' mystery receives its annual reply: This is eternal life."

—Kris.

BY JUDITH CASS.

THE heart of the Streeterville district rapidly is becoming the heart of the Victory gardening district, too, judging by the vacant lots that have been dug up and laid out into plots. Some of the popularity of gardening in that area is attributed to Miss Edith Wyatt, who, with her sister, Miss Faith Wyatt, started the movement three years ago when they plotted a flower and vegetable garden on opposite sides of the street at the corner of DeWitt street and Delaware place.

Last year the Misses Wyatt's garden was a huge success, both artistically and "edibly," if such a word can be used. Now there are a lucky 13 gardens on both sides of the street, with plenty of new topsoil. The novice gardeners count themselves fortunate in having the advice and assistance of Thomas C. Russell, who is an accomplished vegetable grower and who, next to the Misses Wyatt, is a leading spirit in the race to have bigger and better carrots and tomatoes.

Mrs. Robert A. Carr and Miss Lucy Miller are sharing a plot in this area, where the Thomas D. Heeds, the Kingsley Thorndikes, Mrs. Louis J. Pollock, and Philip Reed also are cultivating and planting between rain and snowstorms.

Playground Is Providing Plots for War Gardens.

The playground at Lake Shore drive between Walton place and Delaware place, where children have romped for the last 26 years, is providing recreation for the whole family this year. The addition of good rich earth and the laying out of about 20 war gardens has brought forth parents of the children who belong.

Mothers and fathers who ordinarily never come to the playground are toiling there now, digging and raking and preparing for a plentiful harvest later in the season. The T. Albert Wettens, the John A. McGuires, Mr. and Mrs. Edward E. Robbins, the Robert Winklers, the Marshall Haywoods, Mrs. Fitzmorris Brittingham, the Harry Drakes, and the Walter E. Swansons are some of those with gardens.

Most members of the board of governors which runs the playground played there as youngsters, among them Mrs. Brittingham, who is the chairman. The directors are Mrs. Drake, Mrs. Herbert Stratford, Mrs. Haywood, Mrs. Kelly, Mrs. Robbins, Mrs. Winkler, and Mrs. William O. Hunt.

Directors Plan to Hire an Athletic Instructor.

The playground is open from 9:30 to 5:30 every day, and one of the directors always is present. Oscar, who has been helping at the playground for the last 15 years, is a favorite with the children, who come not only from the immediate area but from as far away as North avenue, which means a long walk back and forth. The gardening tools are locked safely in the comfortable playhouse that serves as a warming house during the winters when there is tobogganing and ice skating. The directors plan to engage an athletic instructor for the summer months.

Gardens are springing up at the corner of Walton place and Seneca street, which long has been an empty lot, and on Delaware place next to the building at 180 and across from the Casino club.

The Crilly court neighborhood has its playground and war gardens, too, a project that got off to a good start last year. The gardening area has been enlarged this year to take care of the demand for gardens, without, however, sacrificing much playground space. A large locker for community gardening tools has been erected, to which each gardener has a key.

The Frank Mortimers, the Benjamin Crawfords, the Paul Wares, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur A. Burrows Jr., the junior Jarvis Hunts, and Earl Perreault are some of those with gardens. The children who belong to the playground are looking forward to the outdoor shower Frank Denst has promised to build for them to enjoy on hot summer days. It will be erected near the sandbox.

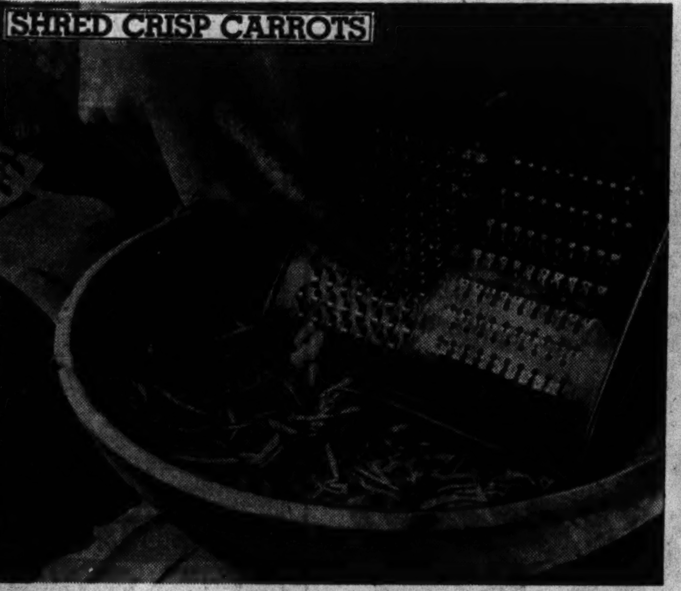
Mary Meade Shows How to Prepare a Healthful Salad



1. Healthful and economical is a salad of fresh spinach and carrots with a dressing made of bacon, ham, or sausage drippings. First, shred crisp carrots into a bowl.

CUT FRESH SPINACH

2. Wash the spinach thoroly, dry in a tea towel, then shred into the bowl with a pair of kitchen scissors. The color contrast of this salad is especially appetizing.

ADD HOT DRESSING

3 Saute 4 sliced green onions in 3 tablespoons strained bacon, ham, or sausage fat; add 2 teaspoons sugar, 1 teaspoon salt, ¾ cup vinegar, pepper. Pour hot over salad.

SERVE THE SALAD

4. Toss lightly while pouring dressing, which will wilt spinach somewhat, but impart fine flavor. Serve the salad at once.

Christian Faiths in City Hold Good Friday Rites Tomorrow

BY THE REV. JOHN EVANS.

The mind of Christendom turns today to tomorrow's sacred events of Good Friday, when crosses and altars are draped in mourning over the death of the Savior at the hands of Roman soldiers of occupation. Many leading present day historians now absolve the Jewish people of Christ's condemnation and attach chief blame to the Roman overlords, who were aided by a handful of traitorous Quislings.

[Prof. Conrad Henry Moehlman of the Colgate-Rochester Divinity school [Baptist], Rochester, N. Y., probably has done the most extensive investigation of any American scholar in this field. His book, "The Christian-Jewish Tragedy," outlines his studies.]

Ernest Byfield, chairman of the "We Will Never Die" committee, which will stage a vast dramatic spectacle in the Stadium, May 19, made this newer understanding clear in an announcement which relates "the spirit of Easter" to the pageant which bears the name of his committee.

"As the Passion Play is the story of the crucifixion of one Man, so the 'We Will Never Die' pageant attempts to portray the crucifixion of a people," Mr. Byfield said. "The message of Easter and the message of the Passover are one—the message of hope."

Good Friday observances divide themselves into three main groups: The tre ore, or three hour meditation on the words of Christ on the cross, together with the mass of the pre-sanctified, in Catholic and many Episcopal churches; three hour and other devotional services at noon and at night in Protestant churches, with holy communion celebrated Good Friday night in many Lutheran churches, and the singing of great oratorios and cantatas of the Passion by notable choirs of the city.

Perhaps the largest Protestant Good Friday services will be held beginning at noon tomorrow, when Dr. E. Stanley Jones will speak during the first of the two hour services at Chicago temple, 77 West Washington street. Dr. Jones has been conducting noonday services each day during Holy week for throngs which overcrowd the temple church.

The second hour at the temple, beginning at 1 o'clock, will hear Dr. Charles R. Goff, minister of the temple, and Dr. J. W. G. Ward, minister of First Presbyterian church, Oak Park.

At Holy Name cathedral the mass of the presanctified will be offered at 9 a. m., with Archbishop Samuel A. Stritch presiding. The tre ore, beginning at noon, will be conducted by the Very Rev. Malachy Foley, rector of Quigley Preparatory seminary; the novena will be held at 5:15 p. m., and solemn services of tenebrae will be presided over by Archbishop Stritch, with Msgr. Foley the preacher.

Dramatic devotions of Good Friday, held in connection with the novena at Our Lady of Sorrows church tomorrow night at 8 o'clock, will take the place of the regular Friday night novena. Those attending the services, either at 8 or 9 o'clock, will not break the series of nine novenas.

Good Friday services in close to the loop Catholic churches include the tre ore at noon at Old St. Mary's church, 9th street and Wabash avenue, with tenebrae at 8 p. m. At St. Peter's church, Clark and Polk streets, services of the stations of the cross will be held at noon and at 3 p. m. At St. James' church, 2942 South Wabash avenue, the mass of the pre-sanctified will be offered by the Rev. Harold J. Kenney, director of the Catholic United Service organization program. In the evening the tenebrae with lamentations will be followed by the singing of Theodore Dubois' "Seven Last Words" by combined choirs of St. James and St. Bernard parishes.

The Lutheran bureau announces two noonday services at Central Y. M. C. A., 19 South La Salle street, with the Rev. Prof. Richard A. Jesse, dean of Concordia seminary, St. Louis, Mo., as the preacher at both services. Today's Maundy Thursday noonday preacher at the Lutheran services will be the Rev. Dr. Arthur Klink, president of Concordia Teachers' college, River Forest.

At Fourth Presbyterian church, Michigan avenue and Delaware place, Dr. Harrison Ray Anderson will conduct the noonday Good Friday service from 12:10 to 12:40, with Dr. Robert E. Speer preaching this noon. Other Protestant three hour services beginning at noon will be held at Hope Lutheran church, Washtenaw avenue and 64th street, and Warren Avenue Congregational church, 3101 Warren boulevard.

Centrally located Episcopal churches announcing three hour services include St. Chrysostom's church, 1414 North Dearborn parkway, with the Rev. Irving St. John Tucker the preacher; St. James church, Wabash avenue and Huron streeet, and Cathedral Shelter, 201 South Ashland avenue.

"Grounded" - - - - - By H. Vernor Dixon

Copyright: 1943: By H. Vernor Dixon

SYNOPSIS: Brant Regan, daredevil flyer wounded while fighting for the Chinese, is forced to take a year's rest. Returning to San Francisco, he gets Barlow Aircraft company to test his new wing formula. He meets Dian Barlow, who owns controling interest of the company, and begins dating her. But he dislikes the four company executives, Harmon, president: O'Toole, vice president; Sutton, designing engineer, and McNair, attorney. McNair is making a play for Dian and has Carol Jaffe, his tough little secretary, jealous. McNair tells Brant his formula test was perfect but the company cannot afford to experiment with it. But when McNair and Harmon offer to pay him $60,000 for it for themselves, he senses something wrong with the setup, and turns them down. He likes Dian a great deal but does not love her. He kisses her and she confesses her love for him, begging him to return it for the year he was grounded. He insists they elope. Their wedding prompts the Barlow executives to offer him a job in Washington. Brant believes they want to get rid of him, as they are afraid he will find something wrong in the experimental department. He thinks they are trying to get the company in a financial hole to make Dian put some of her stock up for sale, giving them an opportunity to buy it in and gain control of the company. At the factory his suspicions are confirmed. The new bomber they are making is out of date and sure to be turned down by the government.

INSTALMENT X.

HELP NEEDED.

Brant handed the figures back to the engineer and called to Dian that he was ready to leave. Harmon walked with them to their car and stood with one foot on the running board.

"Well," he said, carefully watching Brant, "you haven't said what your final opinion is on the bomber. How do you like it?"

Brant almost had to admire Harmon. He was taking a chance on forcing the issue before Dian, but he wanted to take that chance and thereby know what he was up against.

"I think," Brant said, "that if I were on the board at Wright Field I wouldn't have that bomber as a gift."

Dian's smile faded and she stared at Brant, here eyes opened wide and startled. Harmon chuckled and slanted a long look at Dian. Then his smile deepened and he rubbed the side of his face with the palm of his hand.

"I suppose," he inqured, "that you would think better of it if it had your wing."

"Right. At least, it would have something to recommend it. As it is, the plane is a failure even before it gets in the air. We had a bomber in China—"

Harmon ignored him and turned to Dian. "I trust you won't allow his judgment to influence you, Dian. We're rather proud of that bomber. True, we're taking a gamble with it and it may not turn out as we expect—who knows?—but we, I mean the best aerodynamic engineers in the country, think well of it."

Dian bit at her lip and touched Harmon's arm. "Of course, Kane. I think well of it, too." She smiled at him. "I am sure Brant will also when he studies it more."

"Yeah. That's about it, eh, Regan? Look into the matter more deeply. Drop around and talk with our engineers. They'll tell you things you don't know. You can't condemn a thing that big with just a casual inspection. Well, I'll see you folks later."

He turned away from them before Brant had a cnance to reply and Brant watched him go with the feeling that Harmon had definitely won that engagement. Dian had sided with him, rather than with Brant. It was the first time that had happened. He wondered if it would be the last.

Brant, up to the time he inspected the bomber, had had no definite plan of action. But now he worked gaining control of the company. It was the only way Dian could be protected. It would be necessary for her to put everything she owned in his name. And there was the rub. Such a request, coming from him, would be out of keeping with his character. It would have to come first from another party.

Brant called on Dian's Aunt Hattie and took her to lunch at the Cliff House. They sat before the wide windows, looking out over the turbulent ocean, and casually talked about matters in which neither of them was interested.

But over their coffee Aunt Hattie gave him a sharp glance and said, "Something is on your mind. What is it?"

Brant pushed his coffee aside and nodded. "I need your help, Aunt Hattie."

She smiled. "I knew you would come to that sooner or later. Most every one does. All right, what can I do for you?"

"Plenty. You were pretty frank at that cocktail party——"

"Not half enough. Since then, there has been a terrific whispering campaign going on about you. Not only from Kane, either. There are others in it. Hardly a day passes but what some one doesn't ask about you, what I think of you. Some people are beginning to believe what is being said, that you're a fortune hunter, a gigolo and——"

"But, Brant, some day all that talk is going to filter back to Dian. And when it does——"

"Forget it. I have something more important to talk about. You know I told you that Kane Harmon was a crook? Sure. Well, here is the setup: He and McNair and O'Toole, with Sutton's help, are out to freeze Dian out of the company and gain control. They are doing it by draining the company's finances down the rat hole of the experimental division."

out a plan and that plan involved

The idea startled her and she mumbled, "I—I don't quite understand that."

"Simple enough. All of the profits of the company are expended in building experimental craft deliberately designed for rejection."

"Deliberately? Wouldn't that be hard to prove?"

He grimly smiled, "It would be almost impossible to prove it. I doubt if it could be done. Which is why I have kept my mouth shut and made no outright accusations."

"Have you mentioned it to Dian?"

"Not a word. I have hinted once or twice to see what her reaction would be, but that I knew beforehand. She trusts those men, every one of them. You see, her father thought well enough of them to will them an interest in the company. Doubting them in any way would be the equivalent of doubting her father. I guess she thought a great deal of him."

"She did. He was grand man. Brant, do you really believe what you are saying, that those men—"

"I know it to be an absolute truth. I know airplanes well ehough for that and I am not exactly a stranger to engineering. They're out to take Dian and they're getting away with it. I mean to put a stop to it."

"How?"

"That's where you come in. I want control of that company, Dian's control, all 51 per cent."

Aunt Hattie started to laugh. She leaned back in her seat and tears came to her eyes. "Brant, you fool," she gasped. "Isn't that exactly what all this talk is about, what people expect of you? Why, if she put her property in your name it would be just what Kane Harmon insinuates you married her for."

"Do you believe it?"

"No, I told you that before."

"Then I don't care what people think."

"And I still say you are going to regret that."

He impatiently frowned at her. "Let it go. Listen; I have to have that control. Sitting on the outside looking in, my hands are tied. But if I were in that corporation, with the authority of majority control behind me, then I could get to work. Construction on that bomber has to be stopped before it cleans the company."

His dark, brooding eyes pleaded with her. "I have never asked a favor from any one; I'm asking it now. Talk to Dian. Convince her that everything should be in my name—"

"Do you know what you're asking me to do? You're asking me to risk Dian's lifelong security with a person I still don't fully trust. Do you realize that?"

His eyes held hers and he made no reply. He waited. She became nervous. She drank another cup of coffee and she tore a napkin to shreds. She looked away from his penetrating gaze, staring out the window and seeing nothing. Then she looked back at him, her mind resolved.

She put her hand across the table. "I'll do it. Heaven knows why, but I'll do it. And, believe me, you had better not let me down."

"I won't."

They talked it over and figured out the best tactics to use. Aunt Hattie solved the problem much more neatly than Brant could have. She would mention to Dian all the talk that was going on about Brant and even enlarge upon it. Dian would naturally be greatly distressed and Aunt Hattie would compel her to make an investigation. Then she would advise her to place everything in Brant's name, to show the world her faith in Brant.

"She'll do it that way," Aunt Hattie said. "I know Dian and I know how much she is in love with you. Seems kind of underhanded, doing it this way."

"I'm not fond of the idea."

"But it's the best way. I know."

She talked with Dian the following day, while Brant was supposed to be downtown on business. When he returned home Aunt Hattie had gone, but Dian was in her room. She came to him and put her arms about him.

The Stage

By Cecil Smith

The tunes and lyrics of the Gilbert and Sullivan operas will brighten the town once more this season, for the Boston Comic Opera company will open a return engagement of two weeks at the Studebaker theater on Sunday, May 16. The company remains intact, and the principals will be those we heard in the earlier repertory season at the Studebaker. Details of the dates on which the various operas will be given have not reached the theater management yet. The company has been working its way up the Pacific coast and is spending the present week at the Metropolitan theater in Seattle, Wash.

Frank McCoy, the Detroit manager who had talked of bringing Fred Stone in a revival of "You Can't Take It with you," was originally to have used the Studebaker for the remainder of the spring, and it was his canceling of stock company plans for Chicago which left the theater free for the itinerant Gilbert and Sullivan specialists.

Nancy Marquand, originally named for the leading part of young Corliss Archer in the Chicago company of "Kiss and Tell," is out of the cast. She is Joan Caulfield's understudy in New York, and her parents are not eager to have her desert their family circle. When "Kiss and Tell" reaches the Harris theater on May 10 the Corliss Archer will be the 17 year old Patricia Kirkland, daughter of Nancy Carroll and Jack Kirkland. The rôle of the distraught father will be played here by Clay Clement.

Zasu Pitts apparently believes that mystery plays are her metier. Nor does she allow her new found interest in the legitimate stage to wane merely because of her earlier failure in "Her First Murder." Her second murder will be the one which occurs in "The Bat," the Mary Roberts Rinehart-Avery Hopwood thriller of 23 years ago. Her debut in a revival of this opus will take place in Detroit Sunday, under the managerial aegis of Henry Duffy. On Saturday Mr. Duffy will close his vaudeville show called "Merry-Go-Rounders," with no apparent plan for bringing it to Chicago as he once had hoped.

"Private Lives," the Ruth Chatterton-Ralph Forbes vehicle at the Erlanger, has no intention of closing May 1, as once had partially anticipated. It will continue at least until May 8, and probably until May 15, when it must vacate in favor of Katharine Cornell's production of "The Three Sisters."

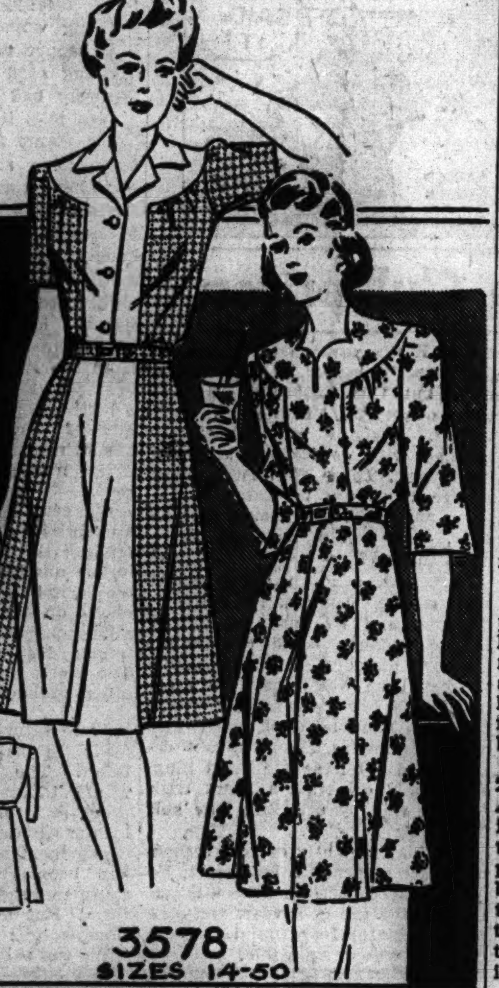
Bishop Sheil Is Elected to Rosenwald Fund Board

Bishop Bernard J. Sheil, auxiliary bishop of the Chicago archdiocese, has been elected to the board of trustees of the Julius Rosenwald fund, it was announced last night. The trustees appropriated $377,500 for the fund's three programs: Development of rural education in the south; fellowships for white people and Negroes in the south, and encouragement of democratic practices in race relationships.

Popular Tailored Model



The tailored type of thing is THE thing for spring and summer wardrobes. Today's frock is ideal for the use of contrasting fabrics. The other version softens the tailored lines to make the dress a truly social-minded one.

Style No. 3578 is designed for sizes 14 to 20 and 36 to 50. Size 36 requires, for dress with contrasting collar, 2¾ yards of 35 inch fabric with ⅞ yard contrasting; for collarless version, 3 yards of 35 inch fabric.

Order Clotilde patterns from Chicago Tribune, P. O. Box 537, Grand Central Annex, NEW YORK CITY. Print name and address; state size. Each pattern is 10 cents, plus 2 cents for mailing. The spring pattern book is 15 cents, 10 cents if ordered with pattern.

Looking at Hollywood

By Hedda Hopper

Hollywood, Cal., April 21.—"Hi Diddle Diddle" is moving along the wrong way, but in the theater we always say a bad dress rehearsal makes for a good opening. First Lupe Velez signed for it. Two songs were specially written. She bowed out. Constance Bennett bowed in, two new songs were done for her, and the part changed from a strip teaser to a night club entertainer. Now she's given over to Virginia Bruce. I haven't heard Virginia sing since she did, "I've Got You Under My Skin." That was mighty nice. Her coach was Roger Eden of Metro. Hope she'll be lucky enough to get him again. . . . How come Linda Darnell got a six weeks honeymoon when Ginger Rogers had three days and Dorothy Lamour two weeks? Linda's wedding reception went off per schedule—after her mother threatened to come and bust it up. . . . 'Tis said that Barbara Pepper and Capt. Reynolds will marry over the week-end.

Welcome.

Margarett Bourke-White arrives Monday, makes a speech at the Philharmonic that night, goes to work on "The North Star" following day. Her latest assignment in Europe was photographing the Krupp munition plants, which our boys and the R. A. F. have been shooting the daylights out of. . . . Louis Bromfield won't pull his punches when he subs for Fulton Lewis, Jr. He's irate about this whole farm business, and nobody knows more about farming than Louis. He's made his place pay—but what a struggle! . . . Bettye Avery, whose boy friend used to be Pat Di Cicco, was the first of those 16 Goldwyn girls signed up for the Danny Kaye musical.

South American Way.

Carmen Miranda has gone all out for victory. She's wearing a wooden chopping bowl filled with vegetables on her head. Has enough shoes for five years—350 wedgies, which gives her a big buildup. Soles are anywhere from two to four inches thick. . . . Former cigaret girl Mary Scott, of Ciro's is still a cigarette girl in "The Girls He Left Behind." . . . Now that everyone knows Shangri-La was the Hornet, I wonder if the government will give the go sign to Capt. Ted Lawson's marvelous story "Thirty Seconds Over Tokio." Metro's already paid $50,000 for it. All that's holding up the picture is the green light. . . . Those two Bills, Pine and Thomas, are launching into "The Duchess Flies High," a musical, and they're signing up 20 vaudeville acts for it. Smart picture making, boys. Vaudeville's back—and how!

Ha! Ha!

We're sure in a changing world. When Gypsy Rose Lee was here before she had to change he name, and wore so many clothes she looked like an overstuffed sofa. Now they've not only bought her but "The Star and Garter" as well. . . . Joe E. Brown's next will be "Gone With the Draft," in which he'll use material gathered on his trip thru the South Pacific. Joe won't team up with Judy Canova for this one. Her next is "Sleepy Lagoon."

They'll Miss Him.

Nunnally Johnson, after 10 years with Twentieth Century, will produce his own when he finishes script of "The Keys of the Kingdom." Nunnally turned out many of their top pictures—"House of Rothschild," "Jesse James," "Grapes of Wrath," "Tobacco Road," "Pied Piper," "Rose of Washington Square," and "The Moon is Down." Says he doesn't want to retire from there in a wheel chair. Thinks every 10 years, at least, you should make a change. After "The Keys" is finished, says he'll sit down for a spell and just look over the field. But I have a hunch he'll be signing with United Artists instead of sittin'.

Chicago Army Nurse Tells of Australian Job

Restaurant rationing problems in Australia have been solved by limiting meals to three courses and setting a maximum price for all eating places, Lt. Floramund A. Fellmeth, army nurse who has just returned from three years of foreign service, said yesterday. Altho all types of consumer commodities are rationed in Australia, there are few acute shortages, Lt. Fellmeth said.

Lt. Fellmeth, 29 years old, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Fellmeth, 1536 West 52d street, has been serving as assistant to Lt. Col. M. Jane Clement, chief of the army nurse corps in the southwest Pacific, since she left the Philippines on the hospital ship Mactan on Dec. 31, 1941. She will return to Australia at the end of her two weeks' furlough.

Since Lt. Fellmeth's duties are purely administrative, she has seen little of the work done by the army nurse corps in the field since the start of the war. She described, however, the constant battle which nurses serving in certain Australian bases must wage against ants.

Altho admitting that the Mactan's 27 day trip from the Philippines to Australia was not entirely without incident, Lt. Fellmeth denied that the ship had been bombed, as reported. Radio Tokio was responsible for the rumors, she said, and the reports disturbed the 236 patients aboard the ship, who believed that the broadcast signified a bombing was imminent.

Lt. Fellmeth was stationed in Manila at the start of the war and was scheduled to leave for home on the next ship because she had completed two years of foreign duty.

"There were no food shortages, as reported," Lt. Fellmeth said. "The Japanese developed a habit of raiding regularly at noon and their visits caused us to lose our appetites and consequently lose weight. Christmas was the worst day. I was on Corregidor for a few days during the war and was struck by the contrast between its appearance then and the way it looked when first I saw it. In peace it had been a paradise with beautiful sunrises and sunsets and sometimes three rainbows visible at once."

Firing of 14 Players in N. Y. Philharmonic Upheld by Union Aids

New York, April 21 [Special].—The executive board of the American Federation of Musicians, headed by James C. Petrillo, has sustained the right of the New York Philharmonic Symphony society to dismiss 14 musicians at the request of Dr. Artur Rodzinski, the Philharmonic's new conductor, it was announced today.

The board, which is the court of last appeal within the union, approved the findings of local 802 of the federation that the dismissals were legal under the union's contract with the orchestra and that there was "not a scintilla of evidence" that the Philharmonic had engaged in any anti-union activity.

Women in War Work . . . . By Kate Massee

It's quite a transition from working down on the farm to the job of talking by radio with pilots in flight, but it's been accomplished, and successfully, by Margaret Devling, one of four women radio operators employed by United Air Lines. While working on her father's farm near Kansas City, Miss Devlin learned that jobs were available for women radio operators, so she decided to equip herself for such a job.

With a background of a business course and positions as office and telephone clerk, she enrolled at the Midland Radio school in Kansas City to provide the background necessary to qualify for an operator's job. She studied there for several months, then went to United's training center at Oakland, Cal., for seven weeks' intensive training. She was assigned to the line's communications center at Chicago just a year ago, as one of the first women air line radio operators in the world.

Margaret Devling at work as air line radio operator.

The other three girls holding these jobs—and they work right alongside men operators—are; Nadine Ninette Hardy, who formerly was employed in a department store; Mildred L. Krull, also of Kansas City, who was a beautician and also worked in radio, and Joan Koontz of Olathe, Kas., a former newspaper reporter.

The girl operators talk with pilots from 200 to 400 times a day, keeping running logs of flights. Their biggest thrill came recently when a letter from a group of Pan-American pilots in Africa—4,500 air miles away—told them that their voices were being heard distinctly and bucked the pilots up tremendously. Many of the pilots, who are from the Chicago area, expressed the hope that they'd meet the owners of those cheerful voices when they got back to the United States.

To qualify for the positions, the girls had to have had some background in radio and be able to enunciate clearly. Before they became full fledged operators they had to acquire a third class radio telephone operator's license and had to be able to record 30 words a minute on a printer. Most of them obtained this license while training at the air line's training center at Oakland.

An emergency conference on "Women in War Work" will be held at 8 o'clock Tuesday evening at the 111th street Y. M. C. A., under the sponsorship of the Y's women's committee and club women of the greater Pullman area. The speakers will be Thomas H. Wright of the war man power commission, speaking on "How Vital Is the Need for Women in War Plants"; Harry Kessler, vice president of the Tuthill Pump company, who will talk on "What Does Industry Require of Women Employés"; Harold Ward of Pullman Standard Aircraft company, discussing "Women Make Airplanes," and Miss Ann Jager, also of Pullman Standard, who will be the consultant on problems of women in war plants. Mrs. J. R. Brown will give the address of welcome.

Members of the AWVS motor transport corps, under the direction of Mrs. Robert Bender, captain, will set out early today to deliver 1,500 war loan posters to stores and shops on Michigan and Wabash avenues and State street. The posters, supplied by the treasury department, will be prominently displayed to stimulate the treasury's second war loan drive for 13 billion dollars.

Several hundred women gathered yesterday in the auditorium of the Peoples Gas Light and Coke company to hear Miss Lillian De Lissa tell how England is caring for her children. Speaking under the auspices of the child care committee of the OCD at its first open meeting, Miss De Lissa, a native Australian and an authority on the care of preschool children, said England has solved her child-care problem by establishing 5,000 government sponsored nurseries. Since women register for war work at the age of 18 in England, child care workers are automatically recruited from these and placed in nurseries at the completion of their training period. Most of the nurseries, Miss De Lissa said, are in industrial areas, but others are scattered thruout the country.

She was introduced by Miss Mary E. Murphy, chairman of the OCD child care committee, who reported that the facilities of 80 centers are now available in Chicago for day nursery use. Thru the child care committee, many of them have extended their hours of operation, Miss Murphy said, altho only 39 of them offer 10 hours' care.

Volunteers, Miss Murphy said, are urgently needed to man the existing centers and the new ones soon to be established. Training courses will start Wednesday at the University of Chicago and the National College of Education in Evanston.

Sally Requests a Carriage for Soldier's Baby

BY SALLY JOY BROWN.

[Activities of the Sally Joy Brown department are sponsored by Chicago Tribune Charities, Inc.]

An agency has requested our help in locating a baby buggy for the brand new daughter of a service man. Other needs have been supplied, but the young father would like to be sure his daughter has a carriage before he leaves for overseas duty, as he expects to do soon. The agency will call for and deliver the buggy to the family, which lives on the north side.

Mr. X. has lost the use of his limbs thru partial paralysis. He is 5 feet 4 inches tall, and because he has been ill and unable to work for some time he is unable to buy crutches. An acquaintance of his will be glad to call for and deliver them to the invalid if any reader has some to donate.

We hope some reader can provide a woman's coat, size 42, for Miss W. She is living alone and because of a heart ailment is unable to work and is receiving relief. She has only a very heavy winter coat and no means of obtaining one of lighter weight. Due to a recent fall, she has to make weekly visits to a clinic and would be grateful for more comfortable clothing.

Further information on any of these cases may be obtained from this department upon request.

Bored Scholar Often Disturbs Class Routine

BY GLADYS HUNTINGTON BEVANS.

[Copy.: 1943: By News Syndicate Co., Inc.]

"Teddy was thoroly upset in other years if he had to be absent from school for even half a day, but this term he's only too willing to stay away. He'll even try to work up a cold in the morning and ask if I don't think he'd better stay at home for the rest of the week!" writes a mother.

"His grades are good, but not up to what they were in the first and second years. His teacher says he's a pleasant child, doesn't push himself forward, but answers correctly if called upon orally, and does good written work. He gets into mischief constantly and has to be straightened out every so often, and I am wondering whether that is the reason he is so lukewarm about school this year. He is reasonably good at home."

Children in school who are interested in what they are doing, rarely, if ever, seriously misbehave. Their whole attention is given to what they are doing and it leaves small room for mischief. The teacher who is enthusiastic and interested in what she is teaching and who can communicate that enthusiasm to her pupils and arouse their interest, seldom has disciplinary difficulties.

The bored child on the other hand, unless he is stolid or phlegmatic, is almost sure to get into mischief. So it behooves a teacher, if only for practical purposes, to stir the interest of the children in her classroom. By nature children are active; if boredom makes them idle, they will turn to something other than lessons, and the child not only loses himself, but the class is disturbed.

Lack of interest in a class as a whole is, logically, the teacher's fault in presenting her subject. But that isn't all there is to it. There may be, for example, individual children who are bored for one of two reasons. Either they are mentally retarded and are left behind and consequently are bored as well as discouraged, or they are so bright that they find the work of the class too easy. It gives their minds nothing to bite on. They have to sit and listen to others labor over something they have already grasped. Or they finish a piece of written work in half the time assigned and sit idle and ready for any diversion.

Both the slightly subnormal and the superior child are individual problems when in a class of average children. The first should be put in a class planned for similar children, the superior child should be put in a rapid advancement group, and young Teddy appears to be in the latter category. If neither is available, the slow child should have special help, the brilliant child be given supplementary work to keep him occupied and to enrich the average program for him. But however it is achieved, a child's interest should be captured and held.

When parents are up against a problem, such as the one outlined in this letter, they should look into all the aspects of it and set their child's school life straight, not just let the matter rest on the assumption that the fault lies entirely with the child. Capable children respond if the activities of school interest them.

Trim Crocheted Hat

A trim, crocheted sailor is the ideal suit hat this spring, since it is comfortable and smart. The stitches are utterly simple, and the only trimming is an edging of single crochet to match a pert velvet ribbon around the crown.

Mrs. Edgar S., Chicago: I watch my copper utensils like a hawk and when they begin to get the least dull I take the pulp of a piece of lemon and sprinkle a little common salt on it. This I rub lightly over the copper surface. It saves on polishing, for if it is done often it removes any slight discoloration and soil.

Ellen G., Chicago: I make all my purchases that call for high points—first. This allows for more flexibility in later buying since it is easier to "make change" in points if the remaining stamps have a lower point value than the purchases.

Mrs. Harold B., Racine, Wis.: When I store my winter blankets in the spring I give them top place in my linen closet. Have learned that piling sheets, etc., on them, crushes the nap badly. I use heavy mothproof paper and wrap them loosely in this, but make sure the wrapping is well sealed. And of course I have them thoroly cleaned before storing them away.

Mrs. S., Chicago: After some disastrous experiences I have learned that in taking any measurements of windows, furniture, etc., for draperies, covers, and slips, that it is much wiser to use a six foot rule or a yard stick, than a tape measure.

Mrs. Anna V., Chicago: When I paint woodwork, and I do quite a bit of it around the house, I take vaseline and rub it on all the locks, door knobs, etc. I'm no professional, and when my paint splashes, I can rub it off easily.

Poor Speaking Habits May Be Social Undoing

[Copy.: 1943: By News Syndicate Co., Inc.]

Are we known by what we say and how we say it? Public speakers gain their reputations by their utterances. So why not pretend that we, too, are public speakers? We are, when you stop to think of the vast audience we have—our family, friends and associates.

Naturally, all of us wish to create a pleasing impression. Perhaps it is this constant seeking after attention which prompts many to commit unconscious mistakes. And because your manner of speaking may be your social undoing, we offer you a revealing letter, graciously submitted by one of our readers. By it you may be enlightened to a better speaking performance.

"Are we critical? Do we say mean, slighting things about our friends and acquaintances? Finding fault with every one gets to be a habit, and it isn't one bit charming.

"Do we want to be 'It' when with friends, family or when at work? Do we monopolize the conversation by talking a straight hour or two about our operation, Jimmie's measles, the boss' wife, our work, our husband, about the parties we have gone to in the last week, or about our clothes and how much we paid for them? We are all interesting to a certain extent, but a continual harping on the "I-me-mine" theme makes us downright boring.

"It is wonderful to be a good conversationalist, but don't overdo it! Don't try to impress people by being an authority on everything or you will make yourself as unpopular as a cockroach.

"Now let us consider how we say things. Do we speak with a course, screechy voice which sounds like an old piece of machinery badly in need of oil? When we laugh, would it by chance sound like a horse laugh? Are we guilty of talking too loudly in an effort to draw attention to ourselves? To whine and complain about things which can't be helped is unpleasant to listen to!

"A well-bred person speaks with a calm, clear voice. She laughs pleasantly and speaks kindly of others. If you can't say something nice about a person it is nicer to keep still."

According to Culbertson

Nothing is more futile than to "pump" the declarer [force him to ruff] when he is marked with more trumps than he needs. There may be much fatter fish to fry.

The bidding:

North	East	South	West
1 diamond	Double	4 spades	Pass
Pass	Double	Pass	Pass
Pass

The bidding was correct thruout, South's abrupt leap to four spades [not vulnerable] being a shutout effort. West was not strong enough to make a free bid.

If West had selected a heart as the opening lead, declarer never would have had a chance for his contract, but he can scarcely be criticized for preferring to lead the club ten, the top of an interior sequence. East, not knowing where the queen lay, put up the king and saw it ruffed by the declarer. The spade queen was then led. Of course there was no reason for East to hold off, but his return lead had to be carefully calculated. Many players in East's position would choose to "force" declarer by returning a club, but this East realized that there was no point whatever to such tactics. Declarer was absolutely marked with at least a six card spade suit. Three club ruffs could reduce him only to East's trump level, and what good would that do East, who would have no more clubs to lead?

East took a much more logical view of the situation. He had one diamond and two spade stoppers. Before declarer could discard on dummy's diamond suit [after establishment] he would have to drive out East's low trump. This would take two more leads of spades and one of diamonds. Meanwhile, if declarer did not have the heart king, East could establish a heart trick for his side by attacking the suit immediately.

On this eminently correct reasoning, East returned a low heart. He led another heart when he was put in with the ace of spades, and as a result declarer soon found that the contract was unmakeable.

Girl Wishes to Send Card to Old Beau

BY DORIS BLAKE.

[Copy.: 1943: By News Syndicate Co., Inc.]

Young women frequently ask if it is proper to drop a birthday or greeting card to young men who formerly had paid them court.

Joan tells it this way:

For about five months she had been going around with a young man, having a grand time with him. He appeared to be enjoying the friendship, too. But suddenly his calls ceased and for the last six months not a word or sign has emanated from the young fellow. During the courtship days, Joan was the happy recipient of little gifts from the chap. Now she wonders, first, whether she should send him a birthday greeting just to remind him of her, and, second, if she should return the gifts he gave her if he makes no response to the card.

We can't see any harm, except a chance on further loss of face, in sending the card. If a girl has it in her mind to send one, she'd better do it before concentration leads her to do something more rash. It's a long chance that it may revive interest. But nothing is lost, really. The worst that can happen is another prolonged pang for the girl.

As to returning inexpensive gifts made in happier days, we say: Don't. The young man probably wouldn't know what to do with them, and they represent no value to him whatever. Were it a broken engagement and expensive presents had been given, there might be cause to ponder the question of return. But not with simple attentions in gift form.

We can think of only one panacea for the Joan-troubled and it is to attempt to fill one's life with activities that will introduce a new factor into one's life, as well as to fill in time. And goodness knows, right now, a young woman may find outlet for her energies in one of the manifold war service fields.

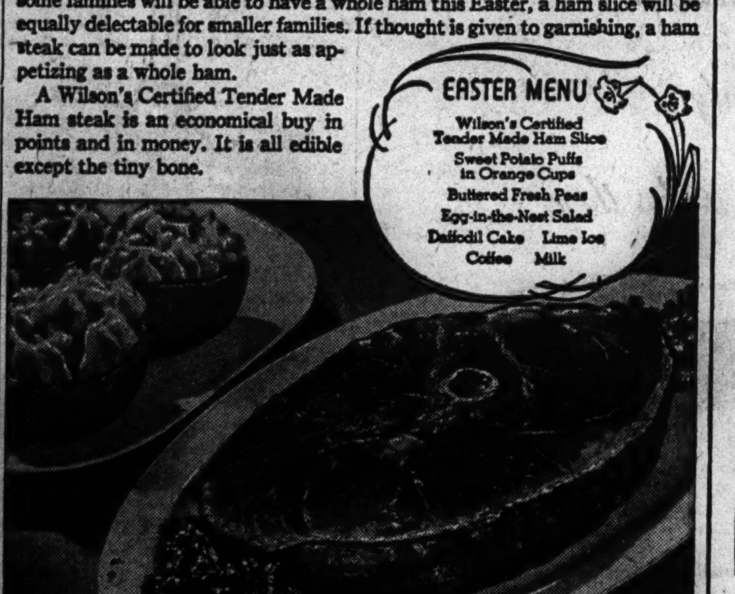
HAVE TRADITIONAL HAM FOR EASTER

Easter, with its promise of renewed life, will be celebrated Sunday. Along with the Easter parade and colored eggs, an Easter Ham is traditional, too. While some families will be able to have a whole ham this Easter, a ham slice will be equally delectable for smaller families. If thought is given to garnishing, a ham steak can be made to look just as appetizing as a whole ham.

A Wilson's Certified Tender Made Ham steak is an economical buy in points and in money. It is all edible except the tiny bone.

EASTER MENU
Wilson's Certified Tender Made Ham Slice
Sweet Potato Puffs in Orange Cups
Buttered Fresh Peas
Egg-in-the-Nest Salad
Daffodil Cake Lime Ice
Coffee Milk



Lower Point Value on Half Ham

If you will be serving a large number, it would be wise to buy one-half of a Wilson's Certified Tender Made Ham. Why? Point values are two points per pound less on ready-to-eat half hams than on slices.

Wilson's Certified Tender Made Ham is ready-to-serve cold just as it comes from the market. For Easter dinner, you'll want it hot. Rub a little Wilson's Clear Brook Butter on each side of the ham steak, place in a buttered pan and put in a hot oven (400° F.) for seven minutes. Sprinkle brown sugar on both sides of the steak, turn, and heat for another seven minutes. Serve on hot platter. Garnish with parsley.

If Wilson's Certified Smoked Ham steak is used, bake 30 to 40 min. per pound at 350° F.

YOU'LL SAVOR THE FLAVOR OF : : : Sweet Potato Puffs in Orange Cups served with the ham. Save orange shells from the breakfast orange juice.

Mash cooked sweet potatoes. Add 3 tbsps. strained honey and 6 marshmallows for every 3 cups of mashed potatoes. Beat until fluffy.

A little grated orange rind adds an enticing flavor, too. Pile lightly in orange cups and put under broiler flame or in hot oven to brown. If you like to play with pastry tubes, here's your chance. The large rose tube is ideal.

Harmonize Flowers and Dessert

Daffodil cake, a beautiful blend of yellow and white, is another Easter tradition in many homes. Make angel food cake batter, divide in half. Flavor one-half with vanilla; to the other half add ½ tsp. orange extract or 1 tsp. grated orange rind and fold in the yolks of 4 Clear Brook Eggs which have been beaten until thick.

Transfer both batters to an angel food cake pan with a large spoon, alternating colors to resemble a marble cake.

EGG-IN-THE-NEST SALAD helps the children carry out the Easter tradition even though egg-rolling parties are out for the duration. Devil 1½ Clear Brook Eggs for each person. Arrange on shredded lettuce or curly endive. Serve with French dressing. Quite realistic.

Next week I'll discuss the importance of quality in relation to points. Meanwhile, a Happy Easter to you and yours.

Sincerely, GEORGE RECTOR

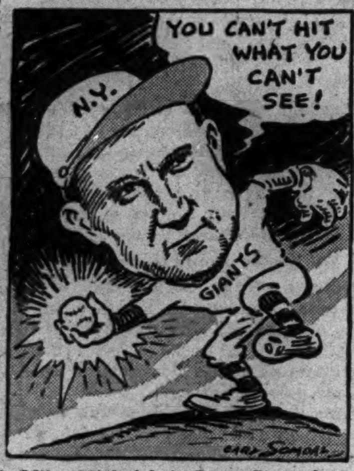
PIRATES SHUT OUT CUBS, 6-0; SOX LOSE, 3-0

In the WAKE of the NEWS

BY ARCH WARD.

AMOS RUSIE, the Giants' mighty righthander of the '90s, probably was the most discussed baseball player of his or any other era. . . . A young Baltimore third baseman, John McGraw by name, paid Rusie his first tribute. . . . After John had swung vainly at the 19 year old's blinding fast ball thruout an afternoon, he remarked, "You can't hit what you can't see." . . . A cocktail was named for the big Hoosier and De Wolf Hopper lauded him from the stage before every rendition of "Casey at the Bat." . . . Lillian Russell asked to be introduced to Amos, and Weber and Fields honored him with a special skit in one of their extravaganzas. . . . When the Giants paid $60,000 for Rusie and three or four other now-forgotten Indianapolis players in 1890, New York fandom turned out with banners and a parade to welcome him at the station. . . . In the four years from 1890 thru 1893 Rusie pitched 224 games, winning 132. . . . Can you imagine a hurler in these days working 56 games a season? . . . Aside to William Kurtz of Great Lakes Naval Training station: Yes, Dutch Clark coached the Cleveland Rams after leaving the Detroit Lions. . . . Coach Mike Michalske's Iowa State football squad is growing daily. . . . It now totals 44, which compares favorably with pre-war spring turnouts. . . . Claude Horton, Minneapolis rookie pitcher, established an earned run average of 0.87 in three games of the Texas league playoffs last fall. . . . That's practically perfect. . . . More than half of the 121 candidates reporting in four sports at Michigan State college this spring were freshmen. . . . Dogs used in coast guard patrol work are fitted with leather shoes to protect their tender paws from sharp stones and shells on the beaches. . . .



YOU CAN'T HIT WHAT YOU CAN'T SEE!
N.Y.
GIANTS
CARL SOMDAL

Don't be surprised if some of your favorite umpires appear this summer in street garb. . . . The traditional blue serge uniforms have been placed in the nonessential class by the war production board. . . . Joey Archibald, the former world featherweight boxing champion, was rejected by the navy because he is half an inch under the minimum height requirement. . . . Mordecai Brown offers some pitching pointers: "If you have a fast curve, throw it right at a right handed batter; it's got to break and it usually breaks right over the plate. That gives you a swell target to aim at. . . . Don't ever pitch sidearm to a left hander. . . . Only two men in baseball history got by on speed alone, so learn how to throw curves." . . . The Detroit Fairgrounds, with applications from owners for stall space breaking all records, is awaiting the best season in its history. . . . No man under 45 will be employed in the mutuel department at the track. . . . Women will sell tickets and older men will serve as cashiers. . . .

A Thought.

I wonder, when this war is thru
And the wished-for peace is born anew,
If our people, too, will bear new life,
Or go on as before this strife.
Will they still find joy at each day's end
In good work achieved and in meeting a friend;
In small parties at home and occasional flings,
In community vote to solve troublesome things:
Or will people, keyed to excitement of war,
Take what they once had and then look for more?
—Mickey.

THAT'S My America.

Dear Arch:—It's interesting how some of the most commonplace occurances can symbolize so much. Patriotic songs and flowery phrases do not always arouse some of us. But, today I watched a plain looking, little old lady and her son picking out a baseball glove. Suddenly, that scene touched off something, down inside; something that said "THAT'S my America—right there!" —Baron.

BY EDWARD BURNS.

It would have been all right with the Cubs if the weather yesterday had been as vicious as it was the day before. Then they couldn't possibly have played the National league opener in Wrigley field, and a lot of things couldn't have happened to cause great pain to 9,044 customers and others. But the weather was fine and here's what transpired:

1. The Pittsburgh Pirates exerted themselves only mildly to plaster the Cubs with a 6 to 0 defeat.

2. Truett Sewell, in accomplishing his 13th victory of all time over the Cubs, held the perplexed Chicagoans to three hits, all singles. He hadn't pitched nine innings previously this year.

McCullough Out for Month.

3. Clyde McCullough, first string catcher, who ended a holdout siege several days before the training season ended, suffered a broken left ankle after singling and stealing second in the third inning. At the Illinois Masonic hospital, where X-rays were taken shortly after the accident, it was said Clyde probably will be out of service for a month.

4. Eddie Stanky, rookie second baseman, who twice has had his skull fractured by bean balls, was beaned in the first inning. He was knocked down, but was able to resume after being inspected by the club physician. Stanky, American association batting champion last year, and a holdout on the Cubs this spring, failed to get the ball out of the infield and made one of the Cubs' two errors.

5. Bill Nicholson, another of the class of late reporters to spring training, continued helpless at the plate. He whiffed in the first inning with two on and none out and didn't get the ball out of the infield all afternoon.

Derringer Goes Away in Eighth.

6. Paul Derringer, recently obtained from the Cincinnati Reds, for seven innings watched the Cubs bat for him like they used to bat against him. But it didn't give him the same old feeling. Discouraged, perhaps, Paul found the going too thankless in the eighth, and went out in a salvo that saw four runs charged to his account.

Sewell was entitled to a lot of credit for the game he pitched. And he obviously had a lot of fun doing

Rookie Is North Siders' No. 13 Hurler.

BY EDWARD PRELL.

Henry Wyse, rookie Cub pitcher from Tulsa who missed all the training camp exercises because of his wife's illness, arrived in time to watch yesterday's opening game with the Pirates in Wrigley field. He became the 13th pitcher of the Cub staff.

Lou Novikoff, Cub outfielder who missed spring drills because he and the management disagree by some $4,000 on what he should be paid this season, was reported en route from his Los Angeles home. These advices failed to create a sensation. Novikoff is the big leagues' last remaining holdout.

K. M. Landis, baseball commissioner, threw out the first ball from his box seat near the home plate backstop. The pitch carried all of 25 feet and Umpire George Barr captured it on the fourth bounce. Landis, well acquainted with weather conditions which obtain in Wrigley field in April, wore a heavy, gray camel's hair overcoat and brought a matching blanket. The commissioner also had on a hat which looked new—for one of his celebrated hats, at least.

Claude Passeau, Manager Jim Wilson's original choice as opening day pitcher, who was side tracked because of a heavy cold, will start today against the Pirates' Henry Gornicki.

The Pirates have opened the National league season at home only once—in 1892, the first year the league was represented in Pittsburgh.

Members of the American Women's Voluntary Services, in smart blue uniforms, sold war bonds to spectators. As a sale stimulator, an autographed baseball will be given away daily, the winner to be determined by a drawing of seat numbers. To get the baseball, tho, the winner must have purchased a bond.

Bill Veeck, president of the Milwaukee Brewers, was present to watch Eddie Stanky's big league debut. Veeck, one of minor league baseball's top executives who gave the game such a shot in the arm in Milwaukee that the 267,000 attendance last year was tops outside the majors, is sure the Brewers will have a punch this season, what with home run champions of three minor leagues on the team. They are Ted Norbert of the Pacific Coast league, Merv Connors of the Texas, and Milwaukee's own Bill Norman.

Ocean Wave Scores in Blue Grass Stakes

BY HOWARD BARRY.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Louisville, Ky., April 21.—Calumet Farm again may make a powerful bid for victory in the Kentucky Derby. This was indicated today when Ocean Wave, sharpened up to top form by Trainer Ben Jones, won the $10,000 Blue Grass Stakes as Keeneland's spring meeting came to its conclusion at Churchill Downs.

After laying back of the early pace while Seven Hearts and Amber Light were racing side by side, Ocean Wave launched a charge as they approached the stretch. Going wide for secure footing, the Calumet color bearer came right down the center of the straightaway. Seven Hearts had folded up, but they were at midstretch before Ocean Wave came alongside Amber Light.

Seven Hearts Finishes Last.

There was a brief duel, with Wendell Eads putting Ocean Wave to a hard drive while Johnny Longden, taking a fresh grip on Amber Light, was trying to hold the tiring horse together. Then Ocean Wave drew away and swept across the finish line two and a half lengths in the lead. Amber Light held a margin of five lengths over the third horse, Crest. Then came Dove Pie and Valdina Sol with Seven Hearts, exhausted after his early efforts, finishing last in the field of six.

Over a slow track, Ocean Wave

REDS WIN, 1 TO 0, OVER CARDINALS

Vander Meer Yields Two Hits in 11 Innings.

Cincinnati, O., April 21 (AP).—The world champion St. Louis Cardinals and the headman of their pitching corps held no terror for the Reds and Johnny Vander Meer today. The tall Cincinnati left hander, who expects to be in the service soon, yielded only two hits and outpitched Morton Cooper to take an 11 inning 1 to 0 victory. A crowd of 27,709 saw the National league opener.

From the fourth inning, when he struck out the last Cardinal batter, until the 11th, when he walked the third, Vander Meer allowed no one to get to first base. Altho he struck out only three and walked five, he was invincible in the few pinches that developed. Double plays helped him twice.

Score on Two Singles.

After blowing a handsome chance to win the game in the ninth, when they got men on first and second with none out, the Reds finally scored on two singles and a sacrifice. Lonnie Frey opened the 11th with a short single back of first and Mike McCormick sacrificed him to second. Max Marshall hit to right and Lonnie scored.

The Cards started off hopefully in the first inning. Vander Meer walked Jimmy Brown, and altho Frank Demaree hit into a double play, Frey made an error on Stan Musial's grounder. Whitey Kurowski beat out a roller to Bert Haas, but Musial was thrown out at third.

Miss Chance in Second.

In the second, the Reds filled the bases but couldn't produce. Frank McCormick singled and Eric Tipton doubled. Ray Mueller was passed purposely, but Vander Meer took a third strike.

Marshall started a double play in the Cards' second that prevented damage. After Buster Adams had walked, Johnny Hopp sent a low liner to right, which Marshall ran in to take. Before Adams could get back, he was out. Score:

BY IRVING VAUGHAN.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

St. Louis, Mo., April 21.—The White Sox, altho doing the best they could with a seemingly tough job, weren't able to touch off any explosives today while assisting the Browns, who have pennant dreams, in the opening of the American league race. The Chicagoans' powder was thoroly wetted down by the southpawing of the 33 year old Al Hollingsworth, but in the meantime, the Luke Sewell entry did enough blasting to make away with a 3 to 0 decision before 4,421 paid customers and a couple thousand guests.

It was Bill Dietrich's misfortune to be in on a party in which his supposed aids could produce only four widely separated hits, but even tho whipped, the bespectacled lad held up his end fairly well. For three innings he kept up the same pace as Hollingsworth—one hit—but two clouts in the fourth boosted the enemy into the run column and what happened subsequently was merely harmless fun in view of the Sox inability to make headway. The harmless fun was two runs in the seventh, whereupon Dietrich retired to make room for Bill Swift who was flawless in his one inning of labor.

Moses Hits and Steals.

With hits scarce and only one pass available as a run getting ingredient, the Sox naturally didn't enjoy much chance to exhibit themselves as base runners. The only one who put any marked strain on his shoe leather was Thurman Tucker, the center field rookie, who doubled and singled, the former hit making him one of the two Chicagoans who reached second base. The other was Wally Moses and he accomplished his feat only by stealing his way there. Jim Grant, the other freshman in the Jim Dykes ensemble, slapped a couple of neat fly balls, but they don't count.

Dietrich located most of his trouble in the bat swung by Vern Stephens, the sprightly shortstop who made three offerings to the Browns' total of eight hits. It was he who set off the fourth inning incident. He tried to start something again in the sixth and didn't get the necessary assistance from his mates, but by way of proving he wasn't annoyed he singled again in the seventh to round out a disturbance originating with Don Gutteridge and Chet Laabs.

Browns Threaten in First.

The Sox avoided a total blackout in the first inning by drawing a pass, but the Browns threw a little excitement into their initial peek at Dietrich, who, however, escaped just in time to avoid unpleasant results. He set down the first two Brownies with ease, but Laabs then walked, Mike Chartak singled, and Stephens walked, filling the bases. Nothing came of this because George McQuinn went after the first pitch, figuring it would be a cripple, and produced nothing more potent than a grounder to Don Kolloway.

The Sox attack remained a myth until two were out in the third when Tucker produced his double to right center for the maiden hit off Hollingsworth. Luke Appling followed with a fairly healthy liner, but, unfortunately, it whistled straight into the hands of Stephens at short. The next time the Sox were heard from Kolloway carried the load. He drilled a single into center with two out, but his base running

SPORTSMAN'S OFFICIALS ARE ALL ON GROUNDS

Final Workouts Held for Charity Meet.

BY CHARLES BARTLETT.

William Hamilton.

The official family at Sportsman's Park, the half mile track where the special week of charity racing sponsored by the Chicago Tribune Charities, Inc., in conjunction with the National Jockey club, will open on Saturday, was in full attendance yesterday. The men in charge of the various functions of the meeting were all on hand to greet the ideal weather conditions in which final workouts were held.

Among the officials who paid their first visits to the track were Timer Charles L. Trimble and the three placing judges—William J. Shelley, W. A. [Duke] Dahlstrom, and W. A. Regan. Shelley is a son of William H. Shelley, veteran racing secretary at Churchill Downs, and a brother of Robert F. Shelley, who occupies the same position at Narragansett. Another arrival was J. J. Graddy, who shares the stewards' duties with Robert P. McAuliffe. The latter has been a regular visitor since the horses which will run in the meeting began arriving a few weeks ago.

Record of Applications.

McAuliffe and Graddy met yesterday with Clement Nance, secretary of the Illinois racing commission; William Hamilton, steward for the commission, and Miss Margaret Hughes. This fivesome constitutes the license committee for the Sportsman's Park meeting, passing on all applications, such as those from owners, trainers and jockeys. Maj. Ednyfed Williams and other members of the commission this year have set up a regular form for such applications, so that there may be a permanent record of them in the commission offices.

Racing Secretary Patrick C. Galliger, who prepared the condition book for the charity meeting, which will run thru Friday, April 30, already has arranged conditions for the first week of the regular Sportsman's Park meeting, which will open May 1 and continue thru May 15. This book is expected to be available for circulation among owners and trainers by the middle of next week.

Weather Man a Gentleman.

Track Superintendent Ed Krumery, who has been working for several weeks to bring the racing strip into splendid condition, was the happiest party on the premises yesterday, allowing that the weather man is a gentleman and a scholar and a judge of good racing airs.

More than 800 horses already are on the grounds, being stabled either at Sportsman's or nearby Hawthorne, which is coöperating with the little track in giving owners accommodations. One of the latest arrivals was J. D. Mooney, the former jockey star who rode Black Gold to victory in the Kentucky Derby of 1924. Mooney is training half a dozen 2 year olds for R. F. Hayes. Another familiar figure is George Lewis, who brought in 20 head for the Lookout Stock farm of Kentucky. In the special meeting conducted by Tribune Charities, Inc., at Sportsman's Park last November, Lewis was the leading trainer with five winners.

Gill, C. & G. Teams to Meet in Six Games

BY C. H. BEUKEMA.

Two of Chicago's championship bowling teams, the Chapin & Gores of the North End Traveling league and the Joseph L. Gills of the Windy City Major league, are to meet in a home and home series of six games starting next week, it was announced last night. The Auditorium Theater Service Men's center will be the beneficiary.

The first three-game block will be bowled next Tuesday on the Faetz & Son alleys, 5961 Ridge avenue, home lanes of the C. & G. team, while the second block is scheduled the following week on the Windy City lanes, 2101 South Cicero avenue. Total pinfall over the entire match will decide the winner.

The C. & G. five is leading the North End circuit by 18 games with nine games left to roll. It has averaged 1,023 thus far, led by William [Jake] Lenzen with 210 and Leo Faetz, 209. It has rolled a high series of 3,462. Lee Hoerstman, Les Fuller, and Rudy Boedecker complete its lineup.

The Gills, led by Joe Sinke, with a 213 average, have broken all Windy City scoring records. They finished the league season Monday night with a five-game margin. The team averaged 1,027. Eli Maricich, Rudy Habetler, Mickey Milkau, and Adolph Carlson complete their lineup.

◆

The Goranson 20 Alleys swept their three game match with Durkee's Margarine last night in the Congress Ladies' Classic league and went into a first place tie with the Budweisers, who lost one of three games with Acme Furnace. The coleaders now have won 80 and lost 16. The third place Logan Square Buicks won three from Gus' Restaurant; Bee Vac took three from Clark Bowling Shoes; Marigold Arcade won three from Thompson Tennis Strings and Mario's Restaurant took three from Brucks. Kay Freitag of Mario's counted high individual series of 637. Lee Leip of the Budweisers had a 613 series.

HIKERS SPONSOR EASTER PARADE MINUS BONNETS

Outing Club Members to Walk in City.

BY BOB BECKER.

One of the most unusual Easter parades that Chicago ever has seen will be held next Sunday for the special benefit of hikers when the Outing club, the organization of walkers sponsored by the Chicago park district, hikes on city streets instead of on forest preserve trails. This Easter promenade is open to any one who likes to walk in congenial company.

The hike will start at 2 p. m. Sunday at the southwest corner of California and North avenues in Humboldt park. It will be about six miles in length and will finish at the Garfield park conservatory for a look at the Easter flower show.

No Easter Bonnets Needed.

Officers of the Outing club said yesterday that despite the fact that this outing will take place in the city, it's going to be a bona fide walk and no Easter bonnets are necessary.

The Evanston Walking club now is scheduling week-end hikes. Oiva Kahila, Evanston Y. M. C. A., is president of the club. Kahila says this club was founded 18 years ago and membership in it is open to all who uphold the traditions of the club. There are no dues. Evanston outdoor fans who want to join one of the club walks are advised to telephone Kahila, Greenleaf 7400.

Englewood Plans Hikes.

A. V. Stelzer, president of the Englewood Outdoor club, advises us that this south side organization again is scheduling hikes and other events for its members. This club was organized in 1929 and has several hundred members. Nature study fans will be interested in knowing that the Englewood group arranges occasional hikes especially to study plant and bird life in the preserves. Headquarters of the club is the fieldhouse in Ogden park, where members meet on the second Friday of each month. South side outdoor fans who would like to join the Englewood club or go on one of its hikes should telephone President Anthony Stelzer, 8725 South Elizabeth avenue, Beverly 3320.

Clubs conducting the outings extend a cordial invitation to the public. The schedule for this week follows:

SATURDAY.

CALDWELL FOREST PRESERVE [Prairie club]—Distance, 7 miles. Leave Union station via Milwaukee, 1:20 p. m., arrive Edgebrook 1:46. Returning, leave forest preserve at city limits [4000 west, 5200 north] via surface lines, 6 p. m. Expense, 35 cents. A walk in the heavily wooded Caldwell forest preserve and along the scenic, winding trails of the north branch of the Chicago river. [Office of the Prairie club, 31 South Clark street. Telephone Dearborn 3737.]

SUNDAY.

EASTER PROMENADE [Outing club]—Distance, 6 miles. Leave southwest corner California and North avenues in Humboldt park 2 p. m. Returning, leave south end of Garfield park 6 p. m. The route of the Easter walk will be south and west thru Humboldt park, along Sacramento and Franklin boulevards, to the Garfield park conservatory for the Easter flower show. Note: Despite the urban park-and-boulevard scene, this is really a hike, and Easter bonnets and gowns are not required [nor are they recommended.] [President of the club, Perczell Munro. Telephone Kildare 9702.]

CHICAGO RIVER TRAILS [North Shore Hiking clubs]—Distance, 6 miles. Leave Winnetka village hall 9:40 a. m. [train from Chicago leaves Adams and Wabash 8:45 a. m., arrives Elm street, Winnetka, 9:36 a. m. Round trip fare, 83 cents]. No expense. The hike will last about three hours. An interesting spring flower walk thru the central group of Chicago river preserves, west of Wilmette. [For further information about this walk or the club telephone Lloyd Faxon, Dearborn 2306.]

LAKE FOREST RALLIES TO TOP N. U. NINE, 7 TO 4

Lake Forest college's baseball team defeated Northwestern university for the second time this season, 7 to 4, yesterday in Lake Forest. Lake Forest came from behind to score three runs in each of the seventh and eighth innings to win. Phil Mark pitched all the way for Lake Forest, yielding only nine hits.

Lake Forest's 13 hit attack was led by Peterson with three blows, and Banks, Lay, and McEwen with two apiece. Score:

Easter Parade

ran the mile and a furlong in 1:53 4-5. Those who backed him in the mutuels collected $5.80, $3.20 and $2.20 across the board.

This race, annually one of the most important of the pre-Derby tests, had shaped up as a struggle among the three leading horses of the winter season—Ocean Wave, Amber Light and Seven Hearts. The crowd bet Amber Light down to 7 to 5, while Ocean Wave went at 9 to 5, and Seven Hearts at 5 to 2.

Evens Two Old Scores.

Ocean Wave's victory wiped out two old scores, for he had been beaten by Amber Light in the Louisiana Derby and Seven Hearts in the Arkansas Derby.

The result of the Blue Grass Stakes again demonstrated that any horse which Jones is pointing for a specific race is dangerous. The man who sent Whirlaway out to win the 1941 Derby and who saddled Lawrin for his 1937 success now has Ocean Wave going in splendid condition.

Two more Kentucky Derby candidates—Gold Shower and Modest Lad—arrived today from the east. Gold Shower came here with a reputation for blazing speed which he demonstrated by working a mile in 1:35 4-5 last Saturday at Belmont Park.

Rated as Outsider.

Tho he is considered an additional factor in the forces which are hoping to upset the favorite, Count Fleet, most members of the Louisville racing colony believe that Gold Shower will need something more substantial than the ability to deliver a fast workout if he is to be in the money in the Derby a week from Saturday.

Trainer Roy Waldron sent the Milky Way farm's Derby candidate, No Wrinkles, thru a mile workout this morning on the Douglas Park track. Taking a path down the center of the running strip all the way, No Wrinkles accomplished his assignment in 1:47 thru mud.

Count Fleet was out for just a jog around the Churchill Downs course. He still had a bandage on the leg which was slightly cut in the Wood Memorial last Saturday, but he acted as tho the injury didn't trouble him a bit. He will be galloped again today and probably will be sent thru a genuine workout toward the end of the week.

Word was received today that both of W. E. Boeing's Derby candidates, Slide Rule and Twoses, will be shipped from the east. They're scheduled to arrive Friday.

California Skaters Defeat Chicago, 15-14

The California skaters defeated the Chicago entry in the Roller Derby, 15 to 14, in two overtimes last night in the Armory, 16th street and Michigan avenue. Chuck Sanders of California scored the winning point. Chicago still leads in total points, 214 to 200, and Tommy Atkinson of Chicago is high scorer with 67.

THREE VAULTERS SEEK RECORD AT DRAKE SATURDAY

BY WILFRID SMITH.

Three men who have won national collegiate championships in the pole vault and a Drake university freshman who was second in the 1943 national A. A. U. indoor vault will attack the Drake relays record of 14 feet 1-16 inch in Des Moines Saturday. The 34th annual games open tomorrow, but the vault title will be decided the following day.

The national collegiate champions are Harold Hunt, who shared the Drake title in 1941 when he represented Nebraska; Lt. Richard Ganslen of Camp Crowder, Missouri, a 1940 graduate of Columbia, and Jack De Field of Minnesota. De Field divided the Drake championship in the pole vault a year ago with Bill Williams of Wisconsin. Hunt now is a naval cadet at Northwestern university.

This trio, under favorable weather conditions, can clear 14 feet. This also is the height Billy Moore, Drake freshman, cleared to take second place in the national A. A. U. in the pole vault which was won by the incomparable Cornelius Warmerdam.

Record Belongs to Bryan.

The present Drake record of 14 feet 1-16 inch was made in 1940 by Beefus Bryan of Texas and it replaced the mark of 13 feet 11 inches which Tom Warne of Northwestern negotiated in 1930. The odds are against this year's vaulters, but they certainly have the same fighting chance as the men who hope to erase the 21 year old high jump mark of 6 feet 6 inches.

The all-time Drake record of 14.2 seconds for the 120 yard high hurdles is the third of the 10 individual events which conceivably may be tied or bettered Saturday. Bill Cummins of Rice institute will return to defend his championship and he will be pressed by Whitey Hlad, Ralph Tate, Oklahoma Aggies, Doug Jacques of Texas, and Maurice Alexander of Missouri.

Hlad, former Michigan Normal hurdler, finished second to Cummins last year and Bob Wright of Ohio State in 1941. He now competes for the University of Chicago, where he is enrolled in an army school. Alexander is the Big Six indoor champion. Tate won the Texas relays high hurdle event in 14.2 seconds and was closely pressed by Jaques.

Cummins Rules Favorite.

Cummins is the favorite, of course, for he won the national collegiate championship last year and equaled the Drake high hurdle mark established by Fred Wolcott of Rice in 1938. Wolcott also won in 1939 and 1940 to become the only three time winner in the Des Moines games.

The Drake relays and individual competitions are open to service men this year. While the total number of performers will be below last year, approximately the same number of colleges and universities, plus the navy and army units, will be represented. Missouri will send 23, the largest delegation, but eight universities and three colleges will have squads of 10 or more athletes.

Ross Arrives Tomorrow for a Week's Stay

Sergt. Barney Ross of the marines, who distinguished himself in battle on Guadalcanal, has postponed his arrival from Cleveland until tomorrow. During his week's stay here the former Golden Gloves and world champion will visit war plants. He also will be honored at a luncheon given by the Rotary club of Chicago in the Sherman hotel on Tuesday, during which he will be awarded a merit trophy. A suite for Sergt. Ross and his bride has been reserved at the Morrison hotel.

it. In his book he had a two hitter instead of a three hitter. Stan Hack, who was credited with two hits, was not safe on his leadoff effort, in the belief of Sewell, First Baseman Elbie Fletcher, and others. But it went in the records as a hit.

Colman Leads Pirate Offense.

The offense star of the day was Frank Colman, rookie right fielder, who batted an even .300 for Toronto last year. Frankie pasted Derringer for a single, a triple, and a double. The single helped around the first and winning run in the third inning, the triple drove home the second run with two out in the fifth, and the double led off the eighth and bloomed into the first of the four runs charged to Derringer in that inning. Jake Mooty pitched for a while in the eighth and Ray Prim went in eventually to get the side out.

Al Lopez opened the fifth with the first of his three straight singles. Sewell forced him. Sewell held first while Russell flied out, then scored on Colman's triple to left center. Fletcher popped to Hack.

The four runs in the eighth were the result of Colman's double, a pass to Fletcher, a sacrifice-fielder's choice on which Derringer made a late try for a forceout at third, a double by Di Maggio, an error by Stanky, and Lopez's single.

McCullough Hops to Bench.

Hack launched the Chicago offensive with a smash off Bob Elliott's glove, then Stanky was clunked on the neck. Nicholson stared at two of Sewell's pitches, then took a wide swish at the third for the first out. Heinz Becker followed with a grounder to Pete Coscarart and the rally was over, Coscarart, Huck Geary, and Fletcher ripping off a double play. Geary suffered a wrenched ankle on the play and was assisted from the field, but was able to resume when it came time for him to bat in the second inning.

The second and final Cub scoring chance came in the third inning. McCullough led off with a single to center and stole second. After hitting the bag at second Clyde hopped toward the bench until teammates rushed out and carried him from the field. Whitey Platt went to second to run for him. Derringer struck out and Hack walked. The runners advanced on Stanky's tap to Sewell. Nicholson then was given an intentional pass, loading the bases. Becker ended the threat by flying to Vince DiMaggio. The fifth was the only inning in which the Cubs sent more than three men to the plate after the third inning.

BAIER, KENDLER WIN HANDBALL JUNIOR TITLE

Milwaukee, Wis., April 21 (AP).—Bill Baier, Illinois single champion, teamed with Bob Kendler to win the Junior National A. A. U. handball doubles championship tonight for the Division street Y. M. C. A. of Chicago. Baier and Kendler took the title after a grueling two hour battle with another Chicago pair, Paddy Cannon and John Stetson. The scores were 15-21, 21-18, 21-4.

Baier will go after the national singles crown tomorrow, meeting Jack Srenco of St. Louis, who was runner-up last year.

BROWNS DEFEAT WHITE SOX, 3-0

South Siders Held to 4 Hits by Hollingsworth.

When the Browns opened the third, they owned only the lone hit notched by Chartak in the first, but the total swelled quickly. Stephens and McQuinn led off with singles and Milton Byrnes moved them along with the customary sacrifice, after which Frank Hayes was treated to an intentional pass, loading the bases. Hollingsworth then grounded to Joe Kuhel, who heaved to second to force Hayes and Appling heaved back to Kuhel in hopes of a twin killing. The double play was missed by inches, Stephens scoring. Grant tossed out Gutteridge to close the unhappy incident.

The third Sox hit wasn't recorded until the sixth when Tucker's speed carried him to first in time to beat out a roller handled by McQuinn. This occurred with none out, but the next three fellows merely hoisted to this or that Brownie. The Sox were heard from mildly again in the seventh. Moses singled to deep short with one out and after two were gone burglarized his way to second. It turned out that he was the last Chicagoan to reach base.

Laabs Blasts Triple.

Dietrich sat tight in the sixth despite two hits, but three blows in the seventh proved a little too much, the Browns scoring their last two runs. Gutteridge started it with a single to left and Harlond Clift bunted. Laabs sent a tall fly to center and Moses hustled over to the spot but wasn't able to do anything more than wave at the ball as it floated over his head. Laabs didn't quit running until he had reached third, Gutteridge counting. The burly Chartak was called out on strikes, whereupon Stephens broke in with his third hit— a single to center—to score Laabs. This proved the last hit of the afternoon.

INDIANS WHIP TIGERS, 1-0, IN NINTH INNING

Pitcher Jim Bagby's Fly Scores Cullenbine.

Cleveland, O., April 21 (AP).—Jim Bagby pitched a three hit game against Detroit today, hit two singles and then climaxed a perfect exhibition by lining a long ninth inning fly which gave Cleveland a 1 to 0 triumph over the Tigers in an American league inaugural.

Only 13,847 customers ventured into Cleveland stadium to see the Indians' ace repeat his 1942 opening day triumph over the same club. He yielded only one base on balls and struck out two Tigers.

Produce Only Six Hits.

The Indians produced only six hits against Tommy Bridges, but he yielded five walks and the fourth led to his undoing. Roy Cullenbine, a former Tiger, coaxed his second base on balls to start the Cleveland half of the ninth and Bridges was in trouble.

Otto Denning struck out, but Catcher Buddy Rosar sent Roy to third with a double down the left field line. That was the former Yankee's third hit and the Indians, who had filled the bases without scoring in the seventh, made the most of it.

Bagby Hits Long One.

Ray Mack purposely was passed to set up a potential double play with one down. Bagby then drove a fly deep to Rip Radcliff in right field and Cullenbine tallied easily after the catch.

Rosar's double was the afternoon's only extra base hit. He probably wouldn't have been in the game except Gene Desautels, rated by Manager Lou Boudreau as the No. 1 Cleveland catcher, injured his wrist a couple of days ago. Score:

Lou Prempas Pitches No Hit Game as Marshall Wins, 2-0

Lou Prempas pitched a 2 to 0 no hit, no run game against Washburne High school yesterday in Lincoln park as Marshall scored its second straight west section baseball victory in City league competition. It was also the second straight shutout for Prempas, a senior right hand pitcher. Marshall now has won two and lost one in league play.

It was Foreman's second defeat in three games. Leo Soljan yielded two hits to Wells and Tuley won a 5 to 2 victory on Smith field.

Schurz Defeats Taft, 3-2.

Schurz dealt Taft its first north section defeat in four games, 3 to 2, ing Kilbourne park. Schurz scored the winning run in the last of the seventh when Walt Hanson scored from second on an error. Ralph Cheney yielded two hits to Taft and struck out 10. Amundsen, paced by Nick Marks' home run and double, defeated Senn, 5 to 2, in Winnemac park for its third victory in four games. Lake View pounded out a 10 to 7 decision over Waller in Welles park for its third victory in four starts.

Calumet hit safely 18 times as it defeated Morgan Park, 7 to 1, at 110th street and Hermosa avenue. It was Calumet's first game in the south section this year. Sebastian, Martins, and Daluga each made three hits for the winner. Fenger beat Parker, 10 to 4, in Hamilton park for its second straight south section victory and Harper defeated Chicago Vocational, 8 to 3, in Foster park on a 12 hit attack.

Gage Park Wins Third.

It was the third central section victory in four games for Farragut and the second loss for Lindblom. Kelly scored its second victory in three games by defeating Phillips, 7 to 5, in Buettner park. Pitcher Bruck of Kelly connected for three hits in four attempts.

WHITE SOX HANG UP LYONS' NO. 16 UNTIL WAR ENDS

Eddie Smith Will Pitch Today's Game.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

St. Louis, Mo., April 21.—There'll be no No. 16 among the White Sox listings for the duration. It belongs to Ted Lyons, now a marine corps lieutenant, so until his return his home and traveling shirts will be stretched against the clubhouse wall.

The opening day ceremonies consisted of a march to the center field flagpole by WAVES, WAACs, coast guardsmen, a coast guard color squad, and the members of the two teams, the latter not doing anything artistic in the way of keeping in step with the music. A WAVE pitched the first ball, a WAAC tried to hit it and didn't, and Mayor William Dee Becker tried to catch it, and missed.

Manager Jimmy Dykes wasn't forgotten by two of his boys. Telegrams wishing good luck came from Leo Wells, a sailor, and Dario Lodigiani, who is in the army.

Eddie Smith, the little southpaw who suffers with a chronic case of bad luck, will step forth tomorrow in the second of the series and endeavor to find out whether any of the leaks in his horseshoe have been plugged. The Browns will start Dennis Galehouse.

Society item—Mr. James J. Dykes appeared at the Sportsman's Park baseball party today fully attired in a White Sox uniform. It was his first dress up in formal work clothes since last fall.

Patty's Well Again; Shoots 78 as Proof

Patty Berg, the purposeful young Minneapolis redhead who won the national women's golf championship before becoming a business woman golfer, is feeling quite well, thank you, and so is that swing of hers. She proved it in yesterday's bright afternoon by shooting a 78, two over women's par at the Tam O' Shanter Country club.

The young Minnesotan who has dominated the feminine side of the game since 1935, when she reached the final of the women's national against Glenna Collett Vare, joined with Bill Gordon, home club professional, in winning an exhibition match from John Revolta of Evanston, former National P. G. A. champion, and Mrs. Lillian Krauss of the home club.

Win by Five Points.

The competition was decided on the basis of points, one point being awarded for individual low ball on each hole, and another point for low team total. The Berg-Gordon combination finished the 18 holes with a five point margin over their rivals.

Miss Berg's 78 indicated conclusively that she has fully recovered from the effects of a Texas auto accident on Dec. 8, 1941, when she suffered a fractured left knee cap. The mishap apparently ended her career, but faithful application of a prescribed conditioning routine has restored the ailing member to health. Patty left last night for Minneapolis, where she will take part in the outdoor show opening there Saturday. She also expects to compete in the Women's Western Open tournament, beginning June 28 at Glen Oak.

Patty Equals Par.

Patty was even par for the first nine, one putting the last three greens of that side. She found difficulty in reaching the greens on the homeward nine, and finished with a 41, two over par. Revolta, who wasn't in his usual putting form, finished with a 74; Gordon had a 75, and Mrs. Krauss, who was playing her first round of the season, took an 89.

Gordon gave the home folks a thrill with an eagle at the 485 yard second, where he holed out a 35 yard chip shot over the bunker at the right of the green. Revolta planted a No. 7 iron five feet above the third pin and holed out for a deuce. A drive and a brassie into the wind at the 435 yard 13th left him a foot away for another bird.

1,800 CIO UNION CHIEFS PROTEST JOBS FREEZING

Heads of 242 Locals Ask Order Be Rescinded.

Chicago area leaders of the Congress of Industrial Organizations, representing more than 100,000 workers, put themselves formally on record last night as opposed to the freeze order on labor. The protest was voted in resolution form by 1,800 officials of 242 CIO local unions, meeting in the Hamilton hotel.

"The order practically freezing workers to present jobs must be rescinded," the resolution declared. "Freezing workers to inequitable jobs is unworkable and destructive of morale."

The CIO officials also voted for a national emergency conference of the CIO to arrange formal protests to Washington on the freeze order.

Protest Rising Prices.

At the same time, they protested against rising prices and what they called substandard wages of 75 cents per hour. They demanded that the office of price administration "deputize union members and other citizens" to further enforcement of prices and rationing. In effect this means, said one labor leader, that union men and all other workers should be informal policemen, reporting on ration cheaters.

Workers wishing to change jobs found yesterday confusion and uncertainty instead of clear cut answers at Chicago regional and area offices of the war man power commission and United States employment service offices.

Four days after Man Power Chairman Paul V. McNutt issued his job freezing order last Saturday, WMC officials admitted they still had received no definite procedures and regulations on how to control job shifting.

Workers Still Confused.

Switchboards of the USES and the WMC were jammed with telephone inquiries from workers and employers who sought interpretations of the order which prohibited workers from taking new jobs at higher pay except with permission of the WMC.

Workers who found new jobs and wanted to obtain government approval were shunted from outlying USES branch offices to the central placement office at 308 North Michigan avenue, to the WMC headquarters at 222 West Adams street, and finally departed, weary and confused without any clarification of their status.

James L. Donnelly, executive vice president of the Illinois Manufacturers' association, said employer members have been disturbed by the uncertainty of the hiring control order.

CORONER'S JURY RULES WIGMORE DEATH ACCIDENT

A coroner's jury yesterday returned a verdict of accidental death at an inquest into the fatal injury Tuesday of John H. Wigmore, 80 years old, dean emeritus of the Northwestern university law school.

Dean Wigmore, whose studies and writings on law had won him an international reputation, died of the effects of a skull fracture suffered in a collision between the taxicab in which he was riding and an automobile driven by Leo F. Bonnes, 963 Cuyler avenue, at Clark and Chestnut streets.

The verdict of the coroner's jury stated that Bonnes had not used proper care and caution in driving, "but the lack of said care and caution did not constitute a criminal act and we therefore find said occurrence to be accidental."

Northwestern university yesterday announced that Dean Wigmore would be buried in Arlington cemetery, near Washington, D. C., after private funeral services.

2 BABIES KILLED NEAR HOMES BY AUTO AND TRUCK

Carol Beutow, 3½ years old, 1612 77th court, Elmwood Park, was fatally injured yesterday when she was struck by an automobile driven by William Morgan, 44, of 1704 North 77th court, Elmwood Park. She had been playing on a sand pile in the street near her home. Morgan told police the child ran in front of his car. He was not held. An inquest is scheduled for 10 a. m. today at 7601 Grand avenue.

2 LAKE COUNTY GAS THIEVES GET TERMS IN JAIL

Two men were sentenced to the Lake county jail in Waukegan yesterday when they pleaded guilty to a charge of stealing gasoline. County Judge Perry L. Persons, who imposed the sentence, told the defendants they escaped with light punishment only because they were first offenders.

Those sentenced were Harry Elbert Sears, 38 years old, a mechanic, of 20th and Winter streets, North Chicago, and Frank Geet, 53, a farm hand, of 2236 Kemble avenue, North Chicago.

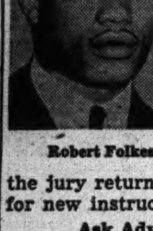
LOWER 13 JURY ASKS ADVICE IN VOTE ON VERDICT

Queries Court After 4½ Hour Study.

Albany, Ore., April 21 (AP).—Eight women and four men jurors mulled over 13 days' evidence in the lower 13 murder trial today, with four possible verdicts to choose for Robert E. Lee Folkes, accused of killing Mrs. Martha Virginia James of Norfolk, Va.



Robert Folkes.

After deliberating four hours and 30 minutes the jury returned to the courtroom for new instructions.

Ask Advice on Votes.

Foreman Lee A. Doerfler said the jury needed advice on the number of votes required to reach a verdict on the different degrees of guilt permitted in the instructions of the judge.

The judge advised that a unanimous vote is required for a first degree verdict, whether leniency is directed or not, while only 10 or more votes are required for conviction of second degree murder.

Circuit Judge L. G. Lewelling turned the case to the jury at 12:15 p. m. Chicago time, with instructions to bring back one of these verdicts: Guilty in the first degree as charged; guilty in the first degree with recommendation of life imprisonment; guilty in the second degree, or acquittal.

Law Is Definite.

Under Oregon law a first degree murder conviction without recommendation for leniency means death in the gas chamber of the state penitentiary at Salem. Second degree automatically carries life imprisonment.

State and defense counsel completed final arguments yesterday in the trial of the 20 year old Negro. He is accused of slashing the young woman's throat in her berth on a Southern Pacific limited train last Jan. 23. The defense insists Folkes, the second cook aboard the train, was in the galley at the time.

WAKE UP YOUR LIVER BILE—

Without Calomel—And You'll Jump Out of Bed in the Morning Rarin' to Go

The liver should pour out about 2 pints of bile juice into your bowels every day. If this bile is not flowing freely, your food may not digest. It may just decay in the bowels. Then gas bloats up your stomach. You get constipated. You feel sour, sunk and the world looks punk.

It takes those good, old Carter's Little Liver Pills to get these 2 pints of bile flowing freely to make you feel "up and up." Get a package today. Take as directed. Effective in making bile flow freely. Ask for Carter's Little Liver Pills. 10¢ and 25¢.

TWO CHICAGOANS KILLED IN WAR, FAMILIES TOLD

Pvt. John Marino.

Pvt. John Marino, 38 years old, 2955 West 59th street, who was reported missing while serving the air forces in the North Atlantic Feb. 3, is dead, according to word received by his widow, Mrs. May H. Marino.

Technical Sergt. Eddie Garfield, 38, of 620 East 62d street, was killed in action while serving in the southwest Pacific on April 11, the war department notified his sister, Mrs. Inez Chapman, 5428 Calumet avenue.

Technical Sergt. Glenn V. Haire, 21, a marine since 1939, died in service, presumably in the South Pacific area, according to word received by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Haire of 368 East Washington street, Joliet.

Pvt. Martin M. Kornstein, 31, of 121 Douglas avenue, Elgin, has been missing in action in North Africa since March 24, the war department notified his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Julius Kornstein. They are hopeful that a mistake has been made, since they have received letters from him dated as recently as April 6.

POLICEMAN SHOT WITH OWN GUN; SUSPECT FLEES

Policeman William Reilly of the Englewood station, accidentally shot himself in the right arm last night in a struggle with a husky Negro, believed to be the criminal who raped one white woman and attempted to rape three others last week. The man escaped.

Reilly, 37 years old, was driving to work when he saw the Negro on a bicycle following a white girl at 55th street and Princeton avenue. Reilly drove quickly around the block, with lights out, to intercept him. The girl had disappeared, but the bicycle was standing at an areaway at 5626 Princeton avenue.

The Negro, about 28, 5 feet 10 inches tall, and weighing 185 pounds, appeared almost immediately. Reilly seized and searched him, but found no weapons. Then the suspect struck the policeman on the nose with a heavy instrument, breaking his nose and stunning him. Reilly fired six shots during the struggle, wounding himself, and presumably the Negro. The latter staggered away, leaving a bloodstained cap and his bicycle. Reilly was taken to St. Bernard's hospital.

WLB DEMANDS LEWIS PICKETS BE DISPERSED

Washington, D. C., April 21 (AP).—The war labor board tonight called upon President John L. Lewis and officers of district 50 of the United Mine Workers to remove "at once" a picket line at the Celanese corporation's plastics division in Newark, N. J., and implied strongly that if it is not done, armed protection would be given those desiring to work. The order was signed by public member Wayne L. Morse in behalf of the board.

The CIO textile workers' union claims bargaining rights at the plant and WLB gave it a maintenance of membership order March 19. The board sent a telegraphed appeal to Lewis personally last week to halt the stoppage.

The strike is an outgrowth of rivalry between district 50, the miscellaneous unit of the United Mine Workers, and the textile union, which has a collective bargaining agreement at the plant. Between 1,000 and 1,500 employés are working on army contracts.

FIVE FOX RIVER TOWNS HIT AS BUS MEN STRIKE

WLB Balks Pay Hike; 77 Drivers Quit.

More than 20,000 residents of Aurora, Elgin, Geneva, Batavia, and St. Charles, many of them employed in war plants, will be deprived of bus transportation today because of a strike called last night in protest against a decision of the war labor board.

Seventy seven drivers and maintenance men, employed by the city lines of Elgin and Aurora and the intercity lines of the Fox River valley, voted to walk out after the WLB refused to grant a wage increase of 7 cents an hour which had been requested by both the drivers' union and the management of the bus lines.

Negotiating Since November.

The drivers are members of Division 215 of the Amalgamated Association of Street and Electric Railway and Motor Coach Employés of America [AFL]. Richard Plum of Warrenville, business agent of the union, and Thomas Cavanaugh of Wheaton, president, said they have been negotiating since last November for an increase in pay in the contract to replace the one which expired March 15.

The National City lines, management company for all the lines joined with the union in a plea to the WLB for the wage increase. Plum said the union received a letter Tuesday signed by Wallace P. Mors, unit head of area B of the WLB, denying the request and explaining that it could not be granted in view of recent executive decrees.

At meetings yesterday in Aurora and Elgin, the drivers voted to leave all buses in their barns, starting at midnight last night, until the issue is settled.

Drivers on the city lines of Aurora and Elgin now receive 75 cents an hour base pay. Drives on the intercity lines receive 77 cents, and maintenance men 83 cents. All the men received an 8 cent an hour wage increase on March 15, 1942.

CIVILIAN GOODS BAN TOO STRICT, SAYS WHITESIDE

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., April 21.—Arthur D. Whiteside, newly appointed head of civilian requirements in the war production board, declared today that allotment of essential civilian goods should take precedence over "everything else, including army and navy demands."

Whiteside, who has been president of Dun and Bradstreet, Inc., of New York City, said that neglect of essential civilian industries in favor of military demands can only result in damaging the entire war program.

"Civilian needs are the first thing to be protected," he said at an informal press conference. "They are an integral part of the whole war economy."

Criticism of WPB's handling of consumers' needs has led to the present move by congress to set up an independent agency outside WPB to determine civilian needs. A bill embodying this proposal, sponsored by Sen. Francis Maloney [D., Conn.], was unanimously recommended yesterday by the senate banking and currency committee.

LABOR RATINGS REVISED IN SIX MIDWEST AREAS

Washington, D. C., April 21 [Special].—The labor shortage rating of six Chicagoland cities was revised by the war man power commission today in its monthly revision of classification of areas according to labor market conditions.

Des Moines, Ia., was placed in the group one list of acute labor shortage areas, virtually cutting it off from further war contracts and probably cinching it for the 48 hour week. De Kalb, Ill., a newcomer to the WMC classification, was added to group 2 of cities where acute shortages may be anticipated within six months. They can renew contracts if no additional workers are required but cannot get new contracts if facilities are available elsewhere.

Moline, Ill., Bloomington, Ind., and Grand Rapids and Kalamazoo, Mich., were designated as group 3 areas in which a general labor shortage may be anticipated after six months. They are eligible for new contracts that can be completed within six months.

WPB TO DECIDE FAIR STANDARD FOR SHIP STEEL

U.S. Tests Too High Many Assert.

Adm. H. L. Vickery.

Washington, D. C., April 21 (AP).—The war production board has assigned William F. Gibbs, its controler of shipbuilding, to direct a study of specifications for steel plate for shipbuilding with a view to revisions "harmonizing them with the true requirements."

Gibbs' assignment was disclosed today when WPB made public the minutes of a meeting April 8 of its steel advisory committee at which Benjamin F. Fairless, president of United States Steel corporation, denied that the safety of ships was jeopardized by substandard steel supplied by the Irvin plant of Carnegie-Illinois Steel corporation, United States Steel subsidiary.

Vickery Backs Fairless.

Rear Adm. Howard L. Vickery, vice chairman of the maritime commission, backed up Fairless' contention that government agencies would have accepted the substandard plate had they been advised of the minor deviations from specifications.

"As far as the tensile strength was concerned, the material would have been accepted had the deviation been reported to the maritime commission," Vickery told the WPB.

The studies of specifications already have been undertaken and in that connection there was a meeting last Saturday of steel men with representatives of the army, navy, maritime commission, and war production board. Whether any conclusions have yet been reached was not disclosed.

Standards Termed Too High.

Some steel men, arguing that specifications are too high, have contended they require that a plate withstand a stress four or five times as great as it is ever contemplated will develop in actual use.

The senate war investigating committee, headed by Sen. Harry S. Truman [D., Mo.], also recommended in a report Monday that "unduly high" requirements be relaxed, but warned that "suppliers must not substitute their opinion for that of the government agencies."

The principal purpose of any changes in specifications would be to maintain output of adequate steel at the highest figure possible. Chairman Donald M. Nelson of WPB last week telegraphed steel firms not to "learn over backwards" in making tests.

NEW YORK LIFE LOSES CASE ON JOBLESS FUNDS

Judge Michael Feinberg in Circuit court yesterday held the New York Life Insurance company liable for payments into the Illinois unemployment compensation fund to cover agents in the state selling insurance on a commission basis.

The court held the agents were employés of the company within the meaning of the unemployment act from its enactment in 1937 to its amendment July 1, 1941, when the law was changed specifically to exclude agents on a commission basis.

Attorney General George F. Barrett had pressed the case, which he termed of widespread importance, and said court orders were expected calling for more than $100,000 in payments from the company. Thousands of dollars will be sought from other companies, he said. The case is expected to be appealed.

Banks and Most Markets to Be Closed Tomorrow

Inept Control Threat to All, Says Stevens

Government regulation of business must be tolerated only in so far as it is necessary to win the war, but it should not be permitted to jeopardize the system of private enterprise, two Chicago business executives declared last night.

Speaking at the 47th annual dinner meeting of the Chicago Association of Credit Men in the Merchandise Mart were Elmer T. Stevens, president of Charles A. Stevens & Co., who told of retail problems under wartime regulations, and Sterling Morton, secretary of the Morton Salt company and president of the Illinois Manufacturers' association, who discussed what the manufacturer expects in the post-war period.

Threat to Distribution.

Emphasizing that the retailer realizes the present need of a certain amount of regulation to ward off inflation and stabilize distribution of supplies, Stevens asserted:

"The retailer believes that inept regulation, regardless of its motive, may jeopardize the entire organization of distribution."

The two types of regulation with which retailers are most concerned, he said, are price and inventory control. Price control, he declared, "did not come to us after having been debated by adequate retail groups. At best it may keep prices down, but at its worst it can sink the entire order of distribution, and in my judgment wreck the country."

He maintained the government erred in freezing prices without freezing costs "all down the line," and said that as a result strains are appearing which threaten the whole structure. Costs should be frozen and the retailer allowed a certain markup figured on a particular base period, he said.

View on Employment.

Morton said that the idea that industry must provide full employment after the war depends on government adopted policies "which permit and encourage industry to provide employment for those willing and able to work."

"Manufacturers realize that during the post-war period, the greatest menace to them and to all free business will lie in the great, sprawling, government owned factories which have sprung up in all parts of the country."

G. H. Nippert of Procter & Gamble Distributing company, was re-elected president of the credit men's association.

STOCKS RECOVER FROM DOLDRUMS TO SWING HIGHER

New York, April 21 (AP).—A slow advance in the stock market today developed into a buoyant rise in the final hour with many issues gaining a point or more. Rubbers, utilities, rails, and motors supplied the principal momentum.

Resumption of the forward swing after two sluggish sessions was attributed to encouraging war news, hopes for an early settlement of the tax tangle and removal of recent Wall street suspense over what President Roosevelt would say in his Tuesday night speech.

CHICAGO STOCKS RISE.

Chicago Stock exchange prices advanced yesterday on turnover of 23,000 shares. Some of the more actively traded issues remained unchanged, among them Central & South West Utilities, Chicago corporation, Consolidated Oil, and Miller & Hart. Libby, McNeill & Libby advanced ⅛. In the final half hour Container corporation advanced ⅛ and Swift International declined ⅛ from the New York close.

INDUSTRY COMMITTEE NAMED TO STUDY HOG MARKETING CONTROL

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., April 21.—The conference of meat industry, OPA and agriculture department representatives to draw up plans for controling hog marketing under price ceilings ended today without any recommendations.

The 16 who took part in the discussions voted to turn the work over to a committee of eight which will continue the investigation and planning. It will meet tomorrow and expects to be in session for several days.

Members of the new committee are Swen Lund, Swift & Co., Chicago; Earl L. Thompson, Reliable Packing company, Chicago; C. C. Farrington, Sedwick Commission company, Indianapolis; A. Z. Baker, Cleveland Union Stockyards company, Cleveland; N. K. Carnes, Central Co-op association, South St. Paul, Minn.; Rolla Pemberton, Iowa department of agriculture, Des Moines; Ike W. Duffy, Lagro, Ind., an OPA consultant, and Wells Hunt, a consultant of the food distribution administration.

CIO's Appeal in Field Case Is Dismissed

The regional war labor board yesterday dismissed a petition filed by the United Retail, Wholesale, and Department Store Employés' union, CIO, to compel Marshall Field & Co. to negotiate with the union on wage increases and other demands.

The action was taken in line with a decision Monday by the United States Circuit Court of Appeals which threw out an order of the national labor relations board supporting the union's contention. The regional WLB held it had no authority to proceed with the union's petition in view of the court opinion. Under that opinion the case now goes back to the NLRB.

Grouping Method Improper.

One election was held, involving 450 elevator, housekeeping, electrical, and engineering employés. The union was recognized by the NLRB, but the company contended the union had not been legally designated as bargaining agent and took the NLRB order to the appeals court.

The court ruled that the NLRB order was improper because it combined certain groups of workers into a single bargaining unit after the election. Bargaining units should be established before an election, the court advised. Along that line the company had argued that the store's 8,000 employés should be considered as one unit and that all employés should have been allowed to vote.

Strike Threat Voiced.

In the arguments yesterday before the regional WLB, Francis Heisler, attorney for the union, said that "key workers at the store are getting impatient after three years of waiting." He warned that action should be taken to prevent a strike, and added that "workers in other industries might follow Field employés in a strike."

Ernest S. Ballard, counsel for Field's, argued that the regional board had no jurisdiction inasmuch as the NLRB order had been vacated, and that the union has other remedies under the law.

ODT Tightens Rule on Extra Train Service

The office of defense transportation struck a blow at summer resort vacation travel yesterday when it announced that it would deny all railroad request to operate additional summer service involving use of Pullman sleeping car equipment.

The ODT explained present and prospective demands by military and essential civilian travelers for Pullman service made the order necessary.

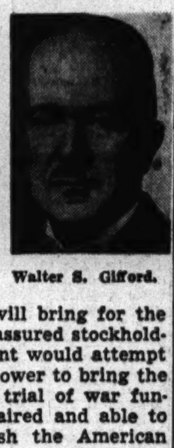
Additional summer services which will be approved will be limited, the ODT said, to [1] coach trains operated in the period between Saturday noon and Sunday midnight, utilizing primarily commuter equipment that otherwise would be idle during the period, and [2] additional trains of a semi-commuter nature operated during other days of the week within a radius of about 50 miles of a terminal.

ODT officials said all other requests for extra coach or parlor car train services for daily, tri-weekly, or week-end summer operation would be denied. This was interpreted as barring revival of trains normally operating only in the summer months between Chicago and points in Wisconsin, upper Michigan, and along the east shore of Lake Michigan.

Joseph B. Eastman, director of the ODT, also announced that strictly nonessential civilian travel on trains and intercity buses must be eliminated. He defined nonessential travel as "trips taken to visit friends in other cities, trips home for the week-end, trips of a sight-seeing nature, and other trips taken for merely social or pleasure purposes." He excluded vacation travel.

GIFFORD TELLS BELL SYSTEM'S WAR PROBLEMS

Other Large Firms Hold Meetings.



Walter S. Gifford.

Executives of several more large corporations discussed war time operations of their companies yesterday at stockholders' annual meetings in various cities.

Walter S. Gifford, president of American Telephone and Telegraph company, said he would not predict because of war conditions "what the coming year will bring for the Bell system," but assured stockholders the management would attempt everything in its power to bring the system "thru the trial of war fundamentally unimpaired and able to continue to furnish the American people with the best telephone service in the world."

Has Too Much Business.

Gifford said the system continues to get more business than it can handle with present facilities while

Peoples Gas Earnings Rise; Finance Firm's Profit Dips

Two large Chicago companies—Peoples Gas Light and Coke company and Household Finance corporation—yesterday reported first quarter earnings, the former showing an increase over year ago figures and the other disclosing a decline in profit.

PEOPLES GAS LIGHT AND COKE COMPANY'S first quarter profits rose to $1,270,718, equal to $1.94 a common share, from $1,044,207, or $1.59 a share, in the first quarter of 1942. Net income for the 12 months ended March 31 was $4,229,113, or $6.45 a share, against $3,935,788, or $6 a share, in the corresponding period last year.

Sells Coal Subsidiary.

George A. Ranney, chairman, said in a letter to stockholders that first quarter earnings from utility operations usually exceed those of any of the other quarters of the year and that increases since Jan. 1 in certain operating expenses "will undoubtedly not permit the same percentage of increase in per share earnings" in the other quarters.

Ranney also reported that on April 5 all of the outstanding capital stock of the Hellier Coal company, a subsidiary, was sold for approximately $45,000 more than its book value. The subsidiary company, he said, owned a small mine in Kentucky which had been idle several years and the property was sold "in line with the company's policy of divesting itself of investments in properties no longer of value to the gas business in Chicago."

HOUSEHOLD FINANCE CORPORATION had consolidated first quarter profit of $1,117,522, against $1,225,185 in the first three months of 1942. Net income for the 12 months ended March 31 amounted to $5,123,378, compared with $4,923,060 in the preceding 12 months.

"Since the beginning of the war," said B. E. Henderson, president, in a report to stockholders, "there has been a definite trend toward a reduction in private debts. Not even the tremendous increase in the number of persons required to pay income taxes in 1943 has changed this trend as shown by the quarterly figures."

Credit Rule Curbs Debts.

Henderson said the trend is caused in part by the high incomes of a large proportion of wage earners in the nation and in part by the restrictions on consumer credit imposed by regulation W of the federal reserve board. He added that no change in the trend is expected "while the present economic conditions prevail."

OWENS-ILLINOIS GLASS COMPANY and subsidiaries, Toledo, O., in the 12 months ended March 31, had net profit of $9,555,472, equal to $3.59 a common share, against $9,513,648, or $3.57 in the preceding 12 months. The company said that all glass factories are running at capacity.

Steel Firms Earn Less.

CONTINENTAL STEEL CORPORATION and subsidiaries, Kokomo, Ind., had first quarter profits of $118,159, equal to 50 cents a common share, against $169,337, or 68 cents a share, a year ago.

KEYSTONE STEEL AND WIRE COMPANY, Peoria, Ill., reported net income of $220,854 in the first three months of 1943, equal to 29 cents a common share, compared with $363,083, or 48 cents a share a year ago.

NONBANK BOND DRIVE IN AREA 62% COMPLETE

Sales Will Continue on Good Friday.

Continued heavy purchases of government securities in the second war loan drive were reported yesterday for the Chicago district. The war finance committee of the 7th [Chicago] federal reserve district announced that sales to others than banks have reached 62 per cent of the district's quota. Banks in the Chicago metropolitan district have sales totaling a little more than two-thirds of the objective.

The war finance committee said that more than 656 million dollars has been invested in the three new issues of the second loan by individuals, associations, and nonbanking corporations toward the district's quota of 1 billion 50 million.

Nonbank Purchases Climb.

The committee listed sales by 10 classifications of nonbank purchasers up to the close of business on Tuesday as follows:

Individuals, $48,891,500; insurance companies, $178,715,000; financial and investment corporations, $47,040,500; charitable institutions, $2,226,000; nonfinancial organizations organized for profit, $249,671,500;

COLD WEATHER DAMAGES EARLY MIDWEST FRUIT

Grains Escape Injury; Seeding Progresses.

Early fruit was damaged in the southern sections of the central west by near record low temperatures last week, the weather bureau reported yesterday. Grains, however, appeared to have escaped damage, but would be greatly aided by warmer weather.

Seeding of oats and spring wheat has made rapid progress in many sections, and corn is being planted in Oklahoma and Missouri. Winter wheat made little progress because of cold weather, with further abandonment of acreage reported in the Ohio valley and in Oklahoma.

Crop conditions in nearby states:

ILLINOIS—Plowing, seeding, and other seasonal operations progressing. Season generally one to two weeks later than normal. Condition of winter wheat poor to good with much abandonment in some southern localities. Fruit apparently suffered much freeze damage in the south.

IOWA—Seeding of oats, barley, and flaxseed retarded by cold weather. About 50 per cent of the seeding remains to be done in the wet soil districts in the east central section of the state. Some young grain damaged by freezing weather.

MICHIGAN—Winter grains good. Some corn still being harvested. Oat seeding and potato planting progressing in some areas.

HOG PRICES HOLD NEAR $15 LEVEL; SUPPLY LARGER

Cattle Mostly Lower; Lambs Steady.

Farmers sent more hogs to market yesterday as prices gave signs of "freezing" temporarily around $15 a hundred pounds. A large part of the supplies the last few days has been sold at this one price, and more hogs yesterday sold at $15 than at all other prices.

The only hogs which sold below $15 were lights below 180 pounds, a few extremely heavy butchers over 500 pounds, and packing sows. Practically all hogs of good quality weighing from 180 to 500 pounds sold at $15, with a scattering of 200 to 285 pounders at $15.05. Few hogs below 200 pounds arrived.

Good 140 to 170 pounders sold from $14.25 to $14.90. Sows weighing 300 to 500 pounds comprised only about 4 per cent of the supply and sold from $14.50 to $14.95. Good hogs weighing 240 to 300 pounds comprised about 90 per cent of receipts.

Larger selling by farmers swelled hog receipts in the Chicago yards to 19,000, including direct shipments to packers, the biggest Wednesday total in four weeks.

Weakness prevailed in the market for most classes of steers, but beef cows, canners, cutters, and bulls advanced 15 to 25 cents. A few steers and yearlings sold steady, but most prices ranged from weak to 25 cents lower.

April Egg Future Gains Despite Larger Receipts

April egg futures closed 0.05 cent a dozen higher at 38.10 cents on the Chicago Mercantile exchange yesterday despite an increase of about 50 per cent in egg receipts over a year ago and an unchanged cash market.

DAY BY DAY ON THE FARM

The FARM by Bob Becker

April 21, 1943.

MANY wild flowers that may be seen in the fields and woods of northern Illinois each year are scheduled to open their blossoms during the third and fourth weeks of April. Nature has a pretty regular schedule for these plants, but a late spring and chilly winds upset the program. A few weeks ago Gordon Pearsall, biologist of the Illinois conservation department, said that because of a cold March the wild flowers were about a week late this year.

Since he made that statement the weather man has done nothing to give the flowers much of a lift, so spring as measured by the blossoms that decorate our woodlands still is behind the schedule of a normal year. Pearsall has kept records on wild flowers for many years. Each season he jotted down in a notebook their average blossoming dates. His extensive records show that the attractive wood violet usually opens its blossoms the third week in April and keeps its flowers thru the second week in May. The yellow violet also opens up the third week in April.

Gives Blossoming Dates.

If an outdoor fan or a hiker wants to compare spring's wild flower displays with the average dates when the various plants are in blossom here are some additional notes from Pearsall's notebook:

Third week in April—These fairly well known flowers usually are in blossom: Bloodroot, meadow buttercup and Dutchman's breeches. During the fourth week in April the following flowers ought to be decorating the countryside around Chicago: Wood anemone, bishop's cap, swamp crowfoot or buttercup, wild ginger, common blue violet, jack-in-the-pulpit, wood phlox, wild strawberry, red trillium, and the bird's foot violet. Some of these continue in blossom for several weeks. The red trillium usually displays its blossoms thru the fourth week of May. The common blue violet, one of the most attractive of all wild flowers, should open its flowers the fourth week in April and continue blossoming thru the second week of June.

The GARDEN by Ben Markland

THE planting schedule for row 15 of the small sample garden has been changed. Originally the gardener planned to plant parsley in this row to serve as a decorative border. One of the farm ladies has convinced him, however, that the need for culinary herbs is greater than the need for garden beauty this year.

It is impossible to buy many of the imported spices in grocery stores, so thousands of gardeners are going to grow their own this season. Therefore the 15th row of the sample garden will be divided into five or six sections and seeded with spices and garnishes.

Will Plant Herbs.

Champion Moss curled parsley will be used in one section, a half dozen clumps of chives in the next, four or five feet of thyme in the third section, and chervil, basil, and dill in another part of the row. Sage also may be planted, and later in the season, others may be sown.

Most herbs are planted directly from seed, altho the gardener has cultivated a flat of thyme in the greenhouse and these seedlings will be transplanted to the garden.

Gardeners interested in growing a few culinary herbs should procure the free leaflet on this subject, which is available from the state university. The booklet is titled "Culinary Herbs for the Home Garden" and is available from the extension division, College of Agriculture, University of Illinois, Urbana.

END HULL TRADE TREATY POWER, HOUSE ADVISED

Wool Expert Says Law Failed of Purpose.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., April 21.—Congress was urged today not to relinquish its control of the nation's foreign trade to Secretary of State Cordell Hull.

The plea came from Arthur Besse, president of the National Association of Wool Manufacturers, who testified at a hearing of the house ways and means committee on a bill to empower the state department to renew its reciprocal trade treaties.

Besse charged that the reciprocal trade treaties act has failed to accomplish the purpose for which it was originally enacted in 1934. That purpose, he said, was to restore the American standard of living, overcome domestic unemployment during the depression, increase the purchasing power of the American people, and establish and maintain better relationships among agriculture, industry, mining, and commerce.

Proved No Peace Insurance.

When the renewal of the treaties was authorized in 1937, Besse said, the agreements were described as promising to preserve world peace. That argument, he said, had proved a boomerang, and the renewal is now being advocated on the ground that it will promote economic peace.

"I do not know what 'economic peace' is," Besse told the committee. "But it sounds like some kind of a competitionless utopia where nobody tries to entice the other fellow's customers away.

"One often heard assertion today is that the act must be extended as a means of showing our 'sincerity of purpose' and willingness to share in trying to solve European post-war problems. Probably this is the flimsiest argument of all.

"It amounts to saying that unless the power to regulate foreign trade is transferred from congress to Mr. Hull, foreign countries are to believe that the United States is no longer interested in the problems of other nations."

Says Imports Curb Output.

Besse said it is obvious that if imports are increased, exports will increase. But, he asserted, from the viewpoint of domestic economy, the increased imports displace approximately the same amount of production that the United States gains from increased exports.

"This cannot be otherwise unless the increased imports are confined to articles which we do not make and formerly went without," he said. "There are no such articles."

Besse told the congressmen that the United States has deemed it wise to produce many items, among them woolen apparel products, fabrics, optical goods, shoes, and meat.

"We must decide," he went on, "whether we want to continue to produce them or become dependent upon some foreign sources of supply. It should be our own decision, not the decision of some other country."

TAX STATUS.

Some one has said that certain corporations will have a more favorable tax position than others following the war. Can you explain? —B. G.

Answer: Those corporations which are paying most heavily in excess profits taxes now will benefit most from the post-war refund of 10 per cent on excess profits taxes. Should the post-war earnings of these companies fall below the normal prewar levels they will be entitled to receive additional refunds of their excess profits tax payments. In the event of an actual loss in a post-war year a corporation would be entitled to refunds not only of excess profits tax payments but of normal tax payments as well.

In short, the answer to your question seems to be this: Corporations paying the largest rate of tax during the war years will be in the strongest tax position when the war ends. This does not necessarily mean that such corporations will be in a better position, from the standpoint of earnings, than corporations which had little or no earnings during the war and therefore paid little in the way of taxes.

NOT COVERED.

I am an employé of a small private hospital, and I'd like to know if hospitals are exempted from social security taxes. If they are exempt how could I go about getting some kind of old age security? —P. C.

Answer: If the hospital is a nonprofit organization it is not required to pay the social security tax. All nonprofit organizations are exempt, but proposals have been made to extend social security coverage to such organizations.

There is no present means by which you can get social security coverage by voluntary payments. You can, of course, make provision for your old age by investing in war bonds, or in an annuity, or by some other sound savings program.

People and Events

H. Wallace Peters.

H. Wallace Peters, former general manager of the Chicago branch of the Packard Motory company, has resigned as provost of Cornell university to accept an executive position with the Edward G. Budd Manufacturing company, Philadelphia. Peters become assistant to the president of Packard in 1916.

Edward Maloy of the judgment department of the Chicago Title and Trust company, today will celebrate his 50th anniversary with the company.

Jackson E. Reynolds.

A New York dispatch by the Associated Press, printed in this column yesterday, and reporting the nomination of Leon Frazer, president of the First National Bank of New York as a director of the New York Central railroad, erroneously stated that it was to fill a vacancy caused by the death of Jackson E. Reynolds. Mr. Reynolds has been ill.

NONBANK BOND DRIVE IN AREA 62% COMPLETE

Sales Will Continue on Good Friday.

personal trust accounts, $30,717,000; state and local governments, $75,831,000; federal agencies, $1,320,000; security dealers and brokers, $9,976,000, and all others, $11,985,000.

Stephan Y. Hord, chairman of the bank division of the war finance committee for Metropolitan Chicago, said that 115 banks, exclusive of loop banks, in Cook, Lake, and DuPage counties, have sold $41,290,000 of securities to 36,271 individuals and 600 corporations. The goal is $65,000,000.

More Purchases by Individuals.

"Far more individuals are sharing in the second war loan campaign than took part in the drive in December," Hord said. "This is shown by the fact that a much larger proportion of the amounts have come from individual investors than from corporation or association funds. We feel that these banks are again demonstrating their patriotic enthusiasm in this, the greatest financing drive ever attempted in the history of the world."

Metropolitan Chicago itself is blasting away toward a 100 per cent sales objective. Jay N. Whipple, drive chairman for the district, said the entire area had reached 82 per cent of its goal of $370,000,000 when figures were tabulated yesterday. The total was $303,296,000, leaving only about $66,000,000 to go.

Plan Good Friday Sales.

Meantime, announcement was made that there will be no slack in the sales drive on Good Friday—tomorrow. The Chicago Clearing House committee approved a plan for several of the member banks to solicit subscriptions all day.

Kenneth Smith, president of the Chicago Stock exchange, said that all members are urged to use their facilities on Good Friday to sell the bonds. He said the exchanges' finance committee has just made its largest purchase of the bonds—$300,000 worth.

The staffs of 147 investment, brokerage and grain firms have been requested by W. McCormick Blair, chairman of the corporations committee, to devote Good Friday to bond sales.

The Standard Oil company [Indiana] reported a star bond purchaser—an operator in its laboratory at Whiting who is putting 90 per cent of his salary into war bonds. The laboratory man, who has a small income from elsewhere, had asked to have his entire income invested in the bonds, but the company had to have something from which to make deductions for victory tax and other items.

RAWLS DEFENDS FEES ON 'A GOOD JOB' FOR CHURCH

Walter C. Rawls, manager of the St. Louis office of E. H. Rollins and Sons, testified at a securities and exchange commission hearing yesterday that he gave "personalized" service in handling securities for the board of missions of the former Methodist Episcopal Church South.

He said he had an understanding with Mrs. Ina Davis Fulton, a member of the board of missions finance committee, and that the agreed charge for the "personalized" service was about 5 points on a security.

"We gave her results and we did a good job," he added.

GRAINS MAINLY LOWER AFTER EARLY ADVANCE

Grain prices on the Chicago Board of Trade turned mainly downward yesterday, a result more of a lack of aggressive buying than to selling pressure, brokers said. Early buying by commission houses lifted prices slightly, but later profit taking and selling induced by more favorable crop reports caused a recession. Wheat closed ⅛ to ⅝ cent lower and rye was ¼ to ½ cent. Oats were ⅛ cent lower to ⅜ cent higher.

Trading in corn futures was devoted mainly to exchanging operations between May and September.

"Our emphasis is very properly on war needs first," he said. "The result is that with the shortage of facilities and with more and more people wanting telephones, and with the increased use of long distance for war activities, telephone service for the general public is inevitably being adversely affected."

The company's laboratory scientists are working chiefly on war research, he added, and its manufacturing division, the Western Electric company, is largely engaged in the manufacture of munitions.

Predicts Milk Shortage.

Altho milk production this year is expected to exceed any previous output, it will not be sufficient to meet civilian demands after provision for military and lend-lease shipments, Theodore G. Montague, president of the Borden company, told stockholders. Emphasizing the large volume of Borden products devoted to war, the head of the nationwide dairy products company said:

"A large portion of the products supplied consists of dehydrated foods, including milk, coffee extract, lemon juice, soup, and eggs. These are shipped in space saving powdered form. The company also furnishes for our military services and lend-lease large quantities of cheese, fresh milk, ice cream, and evaporated milk and such diverse items as canned fish, synthetic resin, glues, and high potency vitamins."

Crucible to Refund 17 Millions.

Crucible Steel Company of America, New York, will refund to the government $17,700,000 in settlement of all liability from renegotiation of contracts to the end of 1942, F. B. Hufnagel, chairman, indicated after explaining the navy price adjustment board has turned down the company's offer of $13,500,000 as settlement. He said there is a "reasonable expectation" the company will realize a "fair" profit from 1943 operations.

War has seriously affected the business of the United Fruit company, Boston, Executive Vice President Arthur A. Pollan told stockholders. The company, whose business is largely dependent upon the rapid transportation of its perishable bananas from tropical countries to markets, was unable to make shipments to the British Isles or to Europe last year.

Importations of bananas into the United States and Canada in 1942 fell to 535,633 short tons from 1,089,321 short tons a year ago.

Volume of business of the American Sugar Refining company, New York, so far this year is in excess of that in the like period a year ago, President Joseph F. Abbott said. Abbott said that because of limitation on sugar production in Cuba and the prospective shrinkage in this year's beet sugar crop, returns from the company's Cuban and beet investments will not be as large as in 1942.

NEW OFFICIALS INSPECT HOWARD AIRCRAFT PLANT

Recently elected officials of the Howard Aircraft corporation yesterday inspected the company's plant near St. Charles, Ill., which began operations in January. They expressed satisfaction with manufacturing progress, altho production figures were withheld for military reasons. The inspection party included the newly elected president, Daniel Peterkin Jr., who was associated with Benjamin Howard, famous speed pilot, in establishing the firm.

Others in the group were F. B. Evans and L. M. McBride, members of the executive committee; Roy A. Watkins, general manager, and Maj. J. C. Borah of the army air forces. Peterkin, Evans, and McBride are directors of the company, along with C. W. Freitag, vice president; H. E. Greene, secretary and treasurer; J. E. Dempsey, and B. D. DeWeese, who resigned the presidency to become a consultant to the board of directors or post war activities. Peterkin is also president of the Morton Salt company.

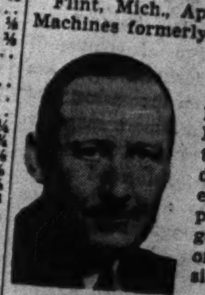
BUICK TURNS ITS OLD PRESSES TO SHELL CASE JOB

Steel Units Made Where Fenders Were Before.



Harlow H. Curtice.

Flint, Mich., April 21 [Special].—Machines formerly used for making automobiles now are producing shell cases in large quantities, Harlow H. Curtice, vice president of the General Motors corporation and general manager of the Buick division, said today.

Large presses once used to stamp automobile fenders and hoods out of steel convert the same kind of metal into 75 mm. shell cases, which themselves are a military innovation in that they are made of steel instead of brass.

One of Toughest Jobs.

Curtice described the development of steel shell cases as "one of the toughest jobs in the history of military production" and as "one of the most critical assignments" his company has had in view of the need for conserving copper. He said that the process had been worked out thru close cooperation between Buick metal working technicians and the army ordnance steel shell case committee, representing a large section of the American metal working industry.

"The Buick process," said Curtice, "is one of several developed by the ordnance committee and involves extrusion and cold working of bar stock steel, drawing it into the size and shape of a 75 millimeter artillery shell case and providing it with the high physical properties required in firing. It has been made available to the government for use by other manufacturers without license and is in use in production of other shell sizes."

Little Tolerance Possible.

Curtice said that the metallurgical and production aspects of the process made a difficult manufacturing job because there is virtually no permissible tolerance in the physical properties of the steel shell case. If it is too hard or brittle it will crack when fired, and if it is too soft the explosion pressure will cause it to stick in the gun barrel.

To meet the requirements Buick metallurgists and die specialists, long experienced in the deep drawing of steel in automobile production, devised a method which utilized machines and equipment on hand and which could use the common carbon steel available in substantial amounts.

TRUST DECISION FINDS PULLMAN WAR BURDENED

Crawford Details a Big Transport Job.

The adverse decision given by a federal court in Philadelphia against the Pullman group of companies comes at a time when they are asked to take on an increasing part of the nation's war time transportation, David A. Crawford, president of Pullman, Inc., informed stockholders yesterday at their annual meeting in Wilmington, Del.

His message was read while Crawford was in New York conferring with counsel on an appeal against the decision in which the group was found guilty of violating the anti-trust law.

"It is quite a commentary on the useful part played by the Pullman group of manufacturing and car operating companies in the conduct of necessary features of war time transportation that the adverse decision comes when Pullman is getting a bigger war job," he said.

Big Undertaking Planned.

Crawford asserted the nation's railroads, thru the Association of American Railroads, have asked the Pullman company, sleeping car unit, to undertake to lease and operate 1,200 special type troop sleeping cars which the government's Defense Transportation corporation has agreed to furnish for the transportation of organized bodies of troops.

Crawford said that in "open competition just conducted by the Defense Plant corporation, the Pullman-Standard Car Manufacturing company was the low bidder for the job of building these cars."

Crawford told the stockholders that the favorable reception given the duplex-roomette car, a new type sleeping car recently put into service, has led Pullman to make detailed plans for quantity post-war production. The car has 24 individual rooms.

Reports Big Returns.

A car of this type has been in regular service since April, 1942, and has been filled to capacity nearly every trip, he said. He explained the new car is earning at an annual rate of about three times the average of all types of Pullman cars.

He said the new sleeper-coach cars in tourist class service thruout 1942 were useful, and expressed the hope that after the war the railroads will coöperate in the extension of an economical class of sleeper service with this type of equipment.

Crawford predicted a large post-war demand for new railway equipment and said that both the Pullman company and Pullman-Standard are engaged in research designed to bring about reductions in manufacturing costs and the lowering of maintenance expenses. Engineering studies are being made with various materials, mainly alloy steels, aluminum, and magnesium.

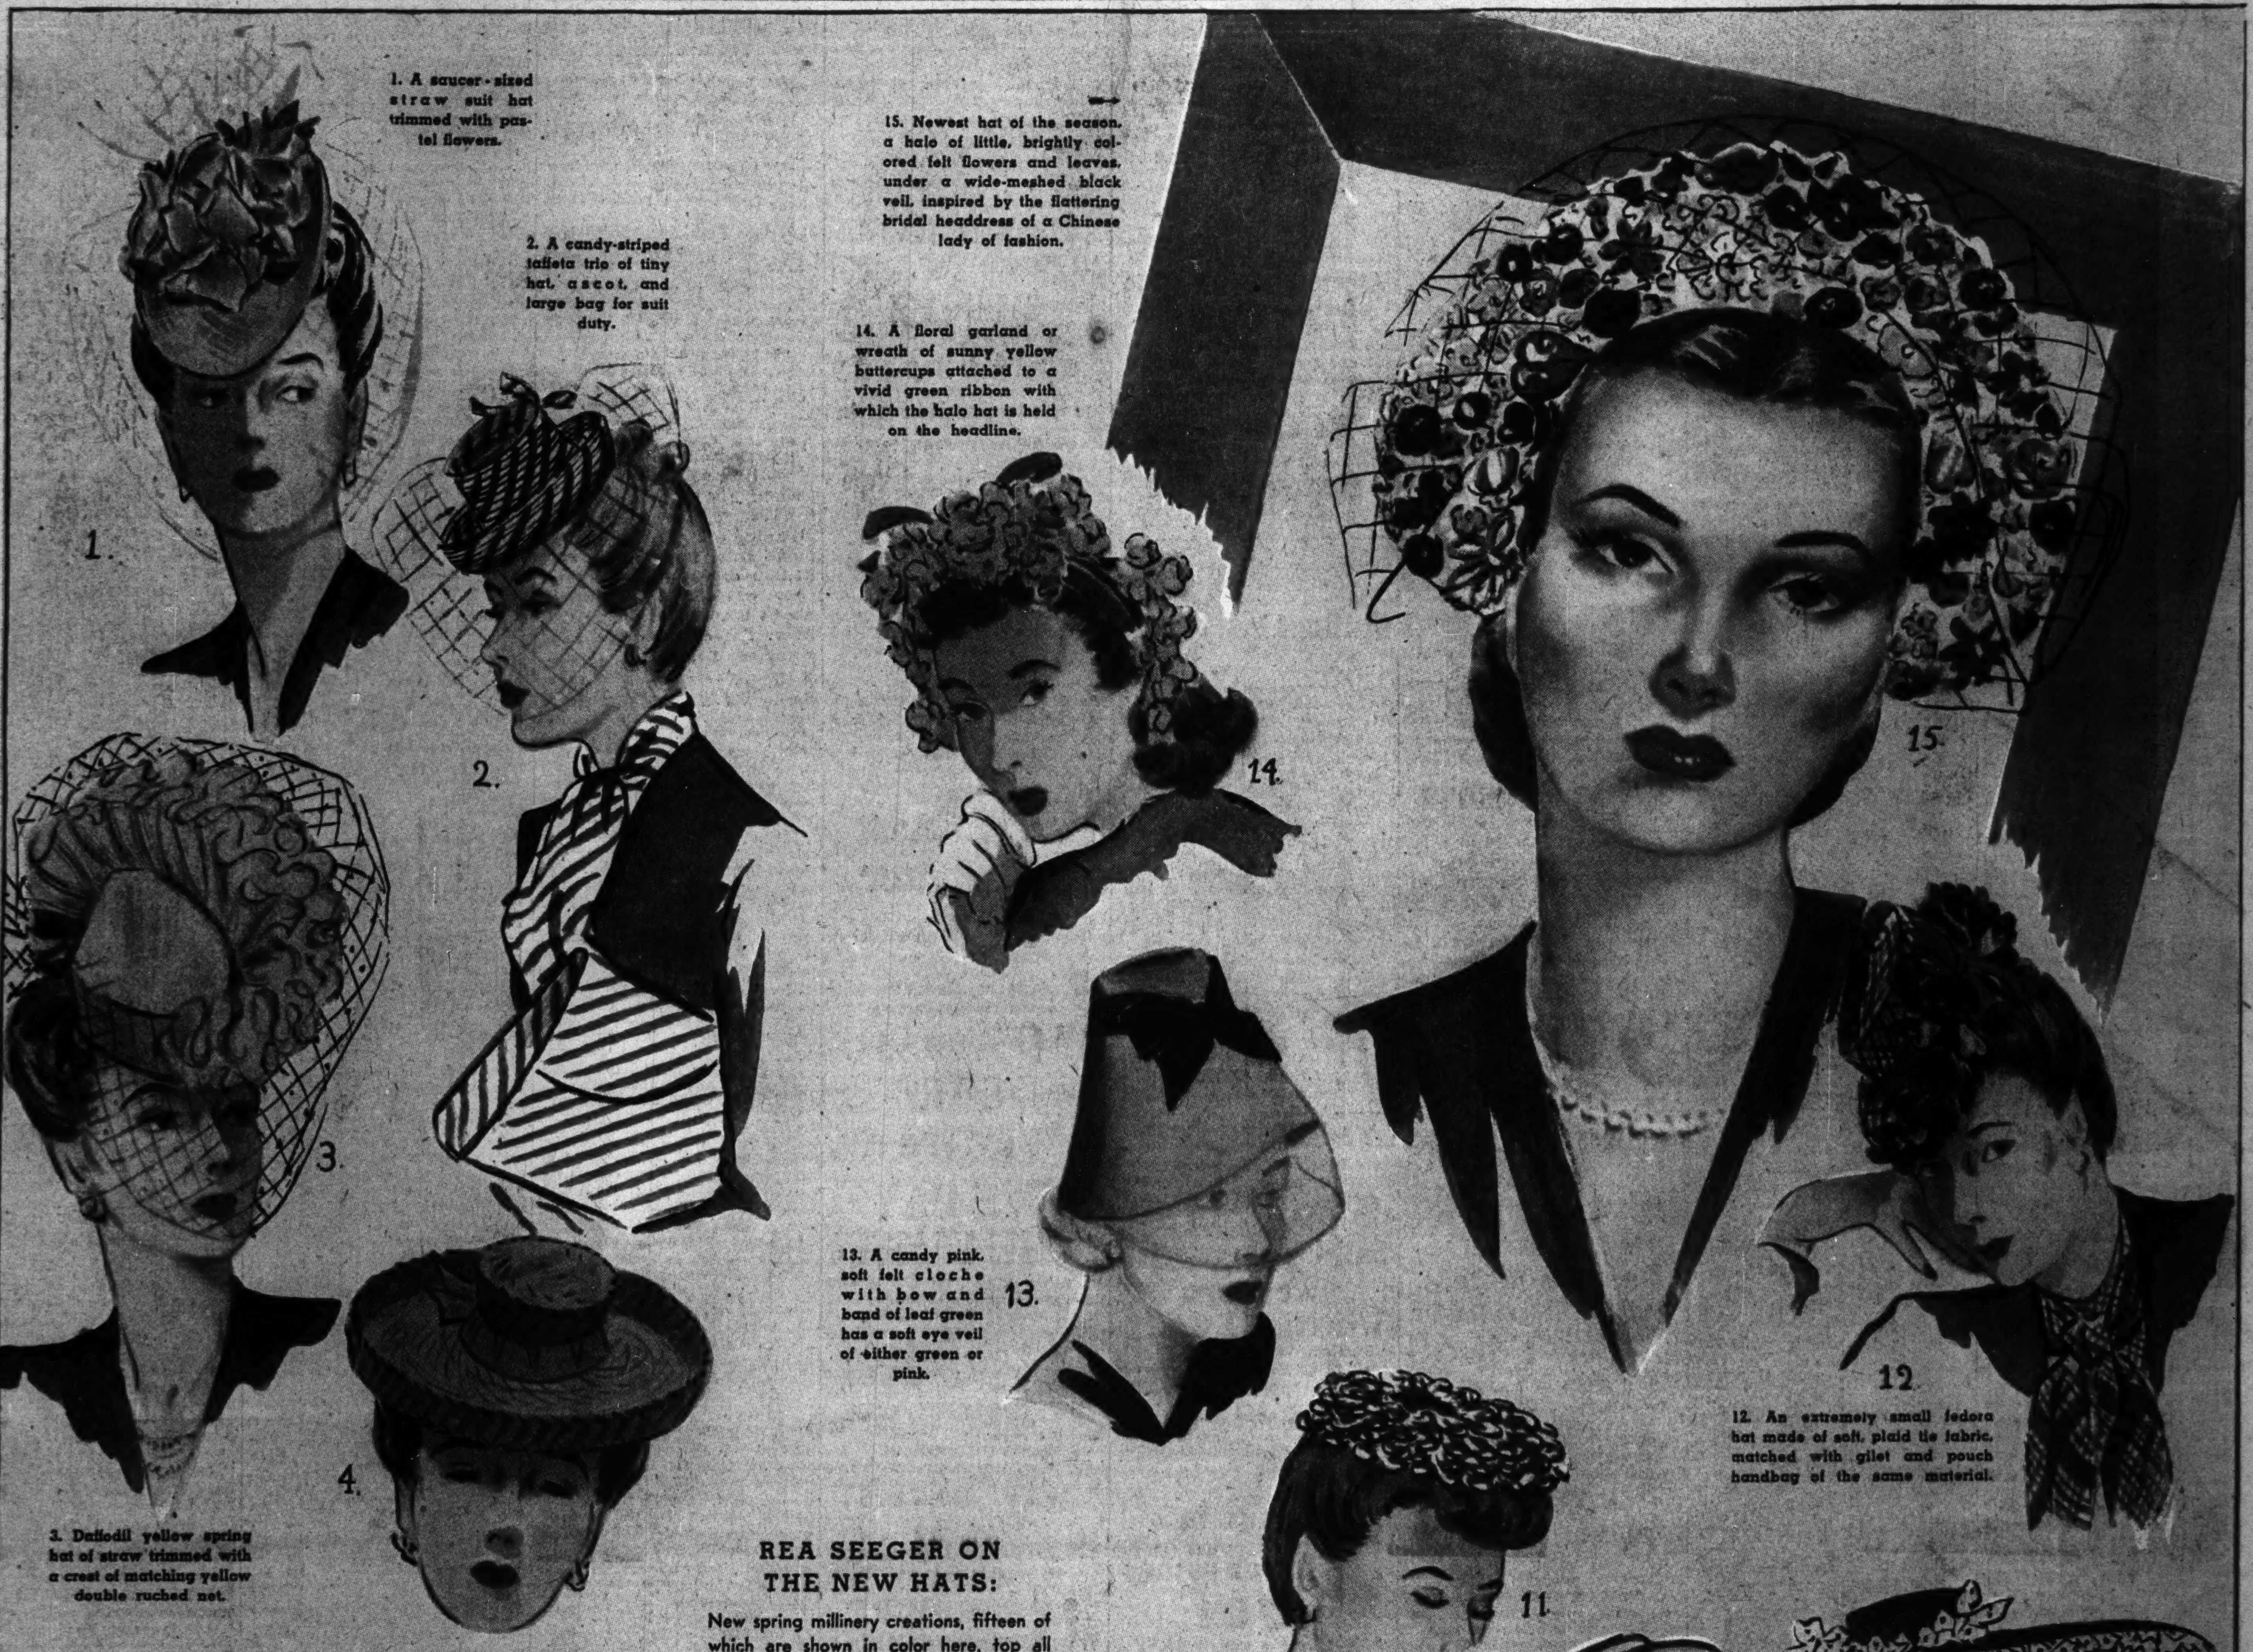
EASTER MILLINERY BURSTS INTO BLOOM



REA SEEGER ON THE NEW HATS:

2. A candy-striped taffeta trio of tiny hat, ascot, and large bag for suit duty.

4. A rakish sailor of soft plaid tie fabric.

10. A black straw hat combined with white eyelet embroidery, with companion white gloves.

11. Hat and bag set made of myriad looped cordings. The top of the tiny hat is open mesh to match the upper portion of the reticule bag.

13. A candy pink, soft felt cloche with bow and band of leaf green has a soft eye veil of either green or pink.

14. A floral garland or wreath of sunny yellow buttercups attached to a vivid green ribbon with which the halo hat is held on the headline.

→ 15. Newest hat of the season, a halo of little, brightly colored felt flowers and leaves, under a wide-meshed black veil, inspired by the flattering bridal headdress of a Chinese lady of fashion.
